Jaworski quits; not because of Nixon pardon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski resigned Saturday, saying his decision had nothing to do with Richard Nixon's pardon and that to challenge it in court would amount to "unprofessional conduct."

His departure, planned for several weeks, will not affect the ongoing Watergate cover-up trial —the major prosecution under his leadership.

The 69-year-old Texas lawyer, who took over the demanding job 11 months ago following Nixon's firing of Archibald Cox, said his work was nearly completed and could be wrapped up by someone else.

And he said he felt it would be "intellectually dishonest...tantamount to unprofessional conduct" for him to try to undo the unconditional pardon President Ford gave his predecessor, because he is convinced Ford had full legal authority to grant it.

In a letter to Attorney General William B. Saxbe, Jaworski asked that his resignation be accepted effective Oct. 25 and suggested that Deputy Special Prosecutor Henry Ruth be named to succeed him.

Jaworski also thanked Saxbe for keeping his promise not to interfere with the work of the special prosecutor's office. He said he would remain available for "consultations" as the Watergate investigations are wrapped up and a final report is written.

In a separate letter, he rejected unspecified "suggestions" that he try to prosecute Nixon despite the pardon, saying the Constitution is clear that Ford had the power to do so and that the special prosecutor's charter does not supercede that right.

"For me now to contend otherwise would not only be contrary to the interpretations agreed upon in congressional hearings —it also would be, on my part, intellectually dishonest," Jaworski said.

He said he felt obliged to discuss his views on the pardon "to dispel any thought that there may be some relation between my resignation and that issue."

His letters were delivered to Saxbe at midmorning and the White House was informed simultaneously.

Ford accepted Leon Jaworski's resignation Saturday and said he will take a personal hand in picking a successor because of the importance of the post.

Press secretary Ron Nessen announced Ford's decision to keep the job of special prosecutor alive shortly after Jaworski's resignation reached the White House..

"The President feels very deep gratitude to Mr. Jaworski for his devoted service in office," Nessen said.

"The President realizes that Mr. Jaworski accepted his appointment at a very critical time and ... at extreme personal sacrifice to himself, so he is very appreciative of Mr. Jaworski's services."

Nessen said Attorney General William B. Saxbe would name a new special prosecutor before Jaworski's departure Oct. 25. He said Saxbe's choice would be made only after "thorough consulation with the President and with the President's approval because of the importance of the position."

The person picked by Ford and Saxbe will be the third to hold the post of special prosecutor.

A jury of nine women and three men plus six women alternates was picked Friday, the ninth day of the cover-up trial, and immediately sequestered. A team of assistant prosecutors headed by James F. Neal is handling the case.

Opening arguments are to be made Monday by prosecution and defense lawyers and the first witness —reportedly former White House counsel John W. Dean III —will be called on Tuesday.

SHEIK OF ARABY?

Woman held in domestic killing

Often fought in public, valleyite shot to death

By ROBERT DASELER
P-B Staff Writer

Neighbors of Roland Morton and the woman who lived with him, Lula Hellen, had heard and seen the couple fighting before.

Saturday afternoon two of the neighbors heard Miss Hellen threaten to shoot Morton. Moments later, according to Ontario police, he was dead. Miss Hellen was arrested on a charge of investigation of murder.

Responding to a telephone call from Lula Hellen, 60, at 5:13 p.m. Saturday, police found Roland Morton, 45, lying dead in his apartment at 755 N. Palmetto Ave., Ontario. He had been shot once in the chest by a handgun.

People in the vicinity witnessed part of the loud, and possibly drunken, brawl leading up to the shooting. They described the outdoor scene in which Morton allegedly chased Miss Hellen and tackled her in front of the apartment they shared.

At least two people heard Miss Hellen threaten Morton with the words: "I'm going to shoot you," police reported.

A few minutes later, neighbors told police Morton returned to his apartment and Miss Hellen followed him. Then there was a shot.

Det. Robert Keller said Saturday night that Miss Hellen had admitted shooting Morton. Keller and Det. Stan McCloskey took the suspect to Ontario Community Hospital to test her blood for alcoholic content.

Shortly after the shooting neighbors talked about the unseemly behavior of the two residents of Apt. A, 755 N. Palmetto Ave. One person said of Morton: "He was vulgar and he was rude."

Others claimed that Morton, who had worked as a carpenter, was frequently intoxicated.

Nobody in the neighborhood seemed to know Miss Hellen's name, but they said that she and Morton often fought loudly and in public.

"They were always threatening each other," one woman said, "but I didn't think it would come to this."

None of the people who gathered on the street after the shooting seemed particularly surprised or dismayed by Morton's death.

Local woman killed, 2nd injured in hit-and-run

One Pomona woman was killed and another injured by a hit-and-run driver on Foothill Boulevard in Cucamonga early Saturday morning.

Saturday night San Bernardino Highway Patrol officers apprehended a suspect in the roadway death of Juanita Cisneros, 23, of 877 Wilson St., Pomona. Susie Ascencio, 19, also of Pomona, entered the intensive care ward of San Antonio Hospital in Upland.

The two women were crossing Foothill Boulevard when they were run down at 1:45 a.m. Saturday by a hit-and-run driver. Although the California Highway Patrol was holding a suspect in the crime Saturday night, officers declined to release the suspect's name explaining that the case is still under investigation.

Mrs. Cisneros was the mother of two children, David, Jr., 4, and Rene, 5. She was a toolmaker-machinist at Kemper Tools in Chino, where she had worked for one year.

Her body was taken to the Stone Funeral Home in Upland, where it was identified by relatives.

Bodies of four plane crash victims recovered

By GEORGE MacLAREN
P-B Staff Writer

The bodies of four Californians, including a Pomona teacher, killed in the crash of a light plane on a mountainside north of St. George, Utah, have been taken to two mortuaries in that city.

Maj. Wes Whitehead of the St. George Civil Air Patrol reported that a search party on horseback Saturday found the burned remains of a Piper Cherokee about 245 feet below the summit of a 10,045-foot high peak in the Pine Valley mountains after a CAP pilot had spotted the wreckage Friday.

The bodies were found close to the wreckage.

Thrown clear of the plane as it burned on impact were Karen Olson, a teacher at Park Avenue High in Pomona; Renell Jeneka, the pilot and an engineer from Inglewood; Richard Cramer, also an engineer from Inglewood, and Edward Deneke, a San Fernando Valley probation officer.

The quartet took off from Brackett Field in La Verne Oct. 3 to attend a Mormon conference in Salt Lake City. They refueled at Las Vegas. Their last radio message was pickud up by the Mormon Mesa, Nev., navigational radio station southest of Mesquite, Nev.

Maj. Whitehead said that bad weather was reported in the southeast Nevada-southwest Utah area when the plane was reported missing.

The Air Force Saturday sent a helicopter to take the bodies to St. George after Washington County sheriff's deputies packed the bodies down the mountainside to a point where the helicopter could pick them up.

Major Whitehead said that positive identification was made through billfolds and personal effects.

An FAA and Department of Transportation board will try to determine the cause of the crash, he said.

Discovery of the wreckage Friday was made by one of eight planes that were taking a second look at the area from Mormon Mesa to Provo, Utah.

The CAP had launched an air search Oct. 5, but airplanes were hampered the first five days by bad weather.

Some 70 CAP members, aided by 20 Air Force personnel, had joined in the week-long hunt.

Karen Olson

The plane was spotted in a "Fairly heavily wooded area."

The four persons aboard the plane were members of the West Los Angeles Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. The pilot had flown from Los Angeles to Brackett Field to pick up Miss Olson.

The Pomona teacher, who previously taught at Palomares Junior High in Pomona was well-known for her work with animals. She felt that if children were taught to relate to animals and learned to treat them kindly, the children would be nicer.

Miss Olson transferred to Park Avenue High in September and had taken her program of working with animals to the continuation school.

She formerly lived in Chino on a 150-acre ranch with her dogs, cats and horses. She moved to a 22-acre spread in Glendora where she cared for 14 stray dogs, three stray cats and four horses.

Goldberg gets apology from Rocky for derogatory book

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller apologized to Arthur Goldberg Saturday about his failure to stop publication of a book derogatory to Goldberg when the two men were opponents in the 1970 New York gubernatorial campaign.

Rockefeller's brother, Laurence, invested $60,000 in the book by author Victor Lasky. The vice-presidential designee has said he did not know about the investment at the time.

Rockefeller, at his Westchester, N.Y. home, telephoned Goldberg to tell him "I take full responsibility for the whole regrettable episode," according to Rockefeller spokesman Hugh Morrow.

Goldberg later issued a statement which said it was up to Congress to decide if Rockefeller's "admitted misconduct and its attempted coverup are compatible with his being confirmed as vice president."

Morrow said Jack Wells, a Rockefeller political associate, told Rockefeller that Lasky was working on the biography of Goldberg. Morrow said that Rockefeller did not pay any attention to the report because he did not think the matter was very significant but now realizes he should have been concerned.

Group of white-robed men on rampage

Radio station under siege

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — A group of white-robed black men slashed an elderly black man across the face Saturday, shot a retired white policeman to death and staged a two-hour shootout with police at a radio station before surrendering.

Five men were reported involved in the attack, but two escaped before the others holed up in the the black oriented radio station, WAPX.

Police Chief Ed Wright described the men as part of a "very small, select group of people who are masquerading or are part of the Black Muslims."

Authorities said they attacked 78-year-old Aldron Parham on a downtown street for no apparent reason, slashing his face with a machete.

They then fled in a car with Assistant Police Chief Roy Houlton in pursuit. The assailants' car crashed, Houlton said, and the men jumped out. Houlton said he shot at them and they fired back with sawedoff shotguns.

M.E. Furr, a 70-year-old retired policeman working at a department store, was shot by one of the five when he ran to aid Houlton, the assistant chief said.

Houlton said he then chased the men on foot down a main street before two of them disappeared. The other three ran into the radio station three blocks from the state capitol, and took two persons hostage.

Furr died at a hospital a few hours after the shooting. Parham was taken to surgery. Three other persons were injured including a secretary at the station who was shot in the head.

Her condition was described as stable.

Dixon said he recognized one of the three when they emerged from the station as a man he knew as "Arthur X." A waitress at the adjacent Ideal Cafe, Delores Ferguson, said she recognized one of the three as a person who had been handing out literature here in recent days.

Mrs. Ferguson, with tears streaming down her face, said she hugged the cafe floor as police bullets whizzed overhead.

Ray Johnson, employe of a nearby printing company, said he heard "popping sounds, like firecrackers. You could hear bullets ricocheting up and down this street."

Another man, J.C. driver, said he had just parked his car near the radio station and was getting out when the three white-robed men raced by. He said they either struck him on the head or he injured himself in the scramble to get out of the way.

"I was so scared I tried to get under the car," Driver said.

Blue-shirted city police officers and tan-clad state troopers converged hurriedly on the downtown block.

Officers on the street were armed with riot guns while police sharpshooters stood guard on neighboring rooftops. A helicopter belonging to the state troopers hovered over the scene.

The three finally emerged from the station one at a time, leaving their weapons behind and carrying the white robes they had worn.

Station Manager Al Dixon said his son, Alfonso, 20, and a secretary at the station, Gloria Gilmer, were held hostage for a short time. He said his son managed to elude his captors and Miss Gilmer fled across the rooftops with the aid of a fireman's ladder.

The three men broadcast an appeal for help before authorities were able to halt transmission. Virtually every available police officer from city, county and state agencies was rushed to the scene. Barrages of tear gas were pumped into the station and an adjoining cafe before the intruders finally surrendered one by one.

Boston blacks to march for school desegregation

BOSTON (UPI) — Black parents, students and community leaders scheduled a three-mile March through the streets of Boston Sunday to show support for federally ordered school desegregation which has sparked a month of violence and protests by whites.

"Our purpose is to demonstrate our support for school desegreation and the black students who have restrained themselves from violence and have courageously gone to school," said Massachusetts state Rep. William Owens.

The march was the first major demonstration by blacks since 80 of the city's 200 schools were integrated under a federal court order Sept. 12.

The demonstrators were scheduled to leave at 1 p.m. EDT from the Carter playground in Boston's predominantly black Roxbury section and march to historic Boston Common, three miles away, for a rally.

A team of U. S. Justice Department investigators, meantime, planned to return from Washington Tuesday to resume its investigation of possible civil rights violations stemming from forced busing of black and white students to schools outside their neighborhoods.

A spokesman for the team said files had already been gathered on 42 alleged violations and said investigators expected to find others when they returned.

"The clearest example of such civil rights violations is rock throwing," said the spokesman, John Conroy.

"The stoning of buses in an attempt to intimidate the occupants into not going to school under the desegregation order is a violation of the Civil Rights Law. And if an injury results, it's a felony."

Conroy said some protesting parents may also be prosecuted for resisting integration.

Ford calls for end to school violence in special message

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford Saturday called on black and white Boston residents to end a month of violence and protest over courtordered school integration.

The President did not repeat his own belief expressed at a news conference last Wednesday that extensive busing of school children might not have been the best solution in Boston.

Instead, he called for "calm and thoughtful action" to guarantee the safety of all school children.

In a radio message taped at the request of Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., Ford said "it is up to you, every one of you, every parent and child, to reject violence of any kind in your city, to reject hatred and the shrill voices of a violent few."

After Ford's message, Brooke issued a statement saying: "I am very grateful that President Ford has responded so promptly to this request, and I hope that everyone will heed the President's message and reject hatred and violence."

The message came one month to the day after the start of school under the desegeration order.

Hailing Boston as the "cradle of liberty," Ford said its residents shared a tradition of "reason, fairness and a respect for the rights of others."

"I know nothing is more important for you than the safety of the children in Boston. Only your calm and thoughtful action can guarantee that safety, Ford said.

Ford did not mention the busing issue speccifically, nor did he answer Boston Mayor Kevin White's criticism of the White House for failing to provide federal forces to keep order.

$5 billion U.S. deficit predicted

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Frederick B. Dent predicted Saturday that the U.S. trade deficit would reach $5 billion by the end of the year, partly because of soaring oil costs.

And, addressing the same convention of business leaders, HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger said he could help stem inflation by cutting $3 to $4 billion out of his own department's budget —if Congress would allow him to do so.

Dent and Weinberger were featured speakers at the meeting of The Business Council, a cross-section of top corporate executives, and they underscored different aspects of the nation's economic ills.

Dent said his forecast of a $5 billion trade deficit for 1974, compared to a slight surplus last year, was "the best guess possible" at present. The deficit in August alone was $1 billion.

He said that in the first eight months of 1974 the United States imported 2.5 per cent less petroleum than in the same period a year ago but paid $11.4 billion more for it.

"In August alone, he said, "the cost of petroleum was $1.7 billion higher than a year ago even though the volume of oil imports was down 10 per cent," he said.

Weinberger said he expected Congress to prune wasteful spending programs in response to President Ford's call for federal budget-cutting as a cornerstone of anti-inflationary policy.

To underscore his point, Weinberger said he could trim $3 to $4 billion from HEW programs without hurting "the poor, the handicapped or the ill" if he, instead of Congress, had the power to turn off federal spending on unproductive programs. He said, that congressmen, congressional staffs and program managers become devoted to such program managers become devoted to programs and fear a loss of power if they are dismantled.

Special interest groups which stand to benefit also fight to preserve programs after they have become ineffective, he said.

As an example, Weinberger said a federal program to suport hospital construction has led to surplus hospital beds which "had to be paid for through higher charges to patients." He said private interests and Congress sued the government in order to keep the money flowing for more hospital beds.

Man with knife threatens clerk in store robbery

A single man armed with a knife robbed a convenience store in Ontario at 5:30 p.m. Friday, escaping with cash from a floor safe and cash register.

"Open up the safe, open up the register. Don't say nothing because I know where you live," the robber told Sonja Wade, 28, the clerk at the Circle K store at 1442 S. Euclid Ave., Ontario. Holding her by the arm and threatening her with a short-bladed knife, he forced her to empty both the safe and the register.

In the midst of the robbery a 12-year-old boy entered the store and witnessed the crime.

The robber was wearing a black knit cap, sunglasses and a dark windbreaker. Prior to pulling his knife, he put on a pair of gloves, according to the clerk.

Motorcyclist runs off mountain, dies

ASUZA (UPI) — A La Puente motorcyclist ran off a mountain highway in the Angeles National Forest Saturday and plunged 400 feet to his death over a rocky cliff.

A fellow biker said he and Amos A. Saunderson, 17, were riding on highway 39 between Crystal Lake and the Angeles Crest Highway during the early morning hours when Saunderson ran off the road.

After passing a curve in the road, the biker said he looked in his rear view mirror and saw the taillight of Saunders' bike going over the edge.

Mexico's new oil finds could break Mideast grip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mexico apparently has discovered rich new sources of oil which might ultimately help break the grip of the Middle East oil cartel, U.S. government sources said Saturday.

Sources said indications of the new finds could be found in recent production increases by the government corporation Petroleos Mexicanos (PEMEX), which handles all of Mexico's oil production.

One of the most significant aspects of the new Mexican discoveries, sources said, is that they appear to be on dry land rather than under the ocean bottom. That would alleviate the need for costly offshore drilling and production techniques.

A number of sources contacted by UPI, however, said they were unfamiliar with estimates in published reports Saturday that three new Mexican oil fields might contain twice as much oil as Alaska's North Slope fields.

"If it's true, that changes the world oil situation completely," one official said.

The Washington Post, quoting U.S. government and industry sources, said the new fields — covering an area about 55 miles long and three miles wide —lie on dry land in the southern Mexican states of Tabasro and Chiapas.

It said preliminary estimates indicate these formations might contain up to 20 billion barrels of high grade oil —twice the amount believed to lie under the North Slope.

If exported to the United States, sources told the Post, the newly-found oil could help break the grip of the Middle East oil cartel by preventing a U.S oil shortage even though it might not appreciably reduce the world price of oil.

Computer studies situation

Inflation, joblessness would be higher with Ford policies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A computer analysis says both inflation and unemployment rates would be slightly higher in 1975 if President Ford's economic policies were put into effect than if almost nothing new were done.

The analysis was conducted by economists using the Wharton Econometric Forecasting Model at the University of Pennsylvania. It has become common for economists to predict economic behavior through computer models.

The Wharton analysis foresaw a 9.7 inflation rate for 1975 under the Ford program but a 9.59 per cent rate without it. Unemployment, it said, would average 6.43 per cent under the Ford program and 6.2 per cent otherwise.

The analysis of what would happen without Ford's program was made on the assumption that a $4 billion public service employment program —larger than the one Ford proposed — were put into effect.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., made the data public.

"They ran the Ford program through their computer, and nothing happened," Mondale said in a statement.

"The Ford program is almost all offsets. What is given with one hand is taken away with the other. The left hand provides a few more jobs and a little bit of tax relief, for example, while the right hand completely takes away these benefits with a 5 per cent surcharge and increased natural gas prices," he said.

"This latest forecast is one more indication that the old time religion is sinking us further into an old time recession, without doing anything about inflation."

Drive-in to show skin flicks because regulars don't draw

HOOPESTON, Ill. (UPI) — If you're driving on the highway just south of Hoopeston this weekend there's a good chance you can look out the window and see an X-rated movie.

The manager of the Skyway Drive-In Theater, about a half-mile from town, announced that three skin flicks would be shown. He said the regular films were not attracting enough people to pay the electric bill.

"A lot of us around here think what he is doing is bad business too, in a different sense of the word," said the Rev. Jack Wagner, pastor of the First Baptist Church and chaplain of the Hoopeston Police Department.

"We found out it too late to do anything," the Rev. Wagner said. "But I'm sure going to do all I can to make sure it doesn't happen again. I understand this is the last weekend of outdoor movies anyhow."

The theater manager has gone to some pains to block the view of the screen from any place but inside the parking area.

"But people passing by can still see the screen," the Rev. Wagner said.

"It's bad enough that this kind of material is being shown to people who pay to get in," the Rev. Wagner said. "But it's all the worse when people can see it from their automobiles while on the highway."

The movies will be offered at a rate of $3 per person. Last week a double feature of two R-rated films was offered for a $1 admission as a "Fight Inflation Night," along with 10-cent soda pop. Only 90 tickets were sold, according to the manager.

The theater has space for 300. An extra 150 speakers were ordered for the sizzlers.

BACKYARD MYSTERY

He doesn't know what they are, but Thomas Mitchell of 906 E. Fourth St., Pomona, has a lot of them growing all over his backyard from a vine that mysteriously appeared only three months ago. Mitchell has had no success identifying the strange fruit, which resemble a small watermellon and smell something like a banana. He's calling them butternut banana squash.

Two local girls shot in face as they leave party

Two young Pomona girls were shot in the face as they left a party at a local residence early Saturday, police said.

The victims, Gwen Stanback, 13, and Marilyn Smith, age unknown, were fired on by two male juveniles as they departed from a party on Phillips Boulevard between Messina Place and Milano Street, at 2:25 a.m.

Miss Stanback was hit in the left cheek and Miss Smith in the neck, just below the ear, officers said.

Police were searching for the two suspects in the case.

Kissinger dons Arab dress, tours tombs of lost city

PETRA, Jordan (UPI) — Carrying his jacket over his arm and at one point donning a Bedouin-Arab headdress, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger Saturday toured the famous tombs and temples of Petra, the city that lay lost for 600 years.

Kissinger's visit to what has been called "the rose-red city, half as old as time" was a prelude to his talks in Aqaba with King Hussein.

Accompanied by Jordanian Premier and Foreign Minister Zeid Rifai, he traveled by helicopter from Amman to Petra, 120 miles south of the capital.

From about 400 B.C. until the 3rd century A.D., Petra was the fortress home of the vanished Nabatean tribe, which orignally made its wealth by plundering camel caravans from Arabia.

What remains of Petra now are fabulous temples and tombs, narrow staircases, water channels and cisterns hewn out of the sandstone rock by the Nabateans and later by the Romans.

The reason Petra remained lost from the time of the Crusaders until a Swiss explorer rediscovered it in 1812 is that it can be approached only through a narrow gorge in the mountains one and one half miles long.

For most tourists this means a bumpy ride on a mule or donkey. The Jordanians made it easy for Kissinger by providing a jeep that took him around the sights.

But there were spells of walking and climbing to inspect the tombs and temples and Kissinger and Rifai removed their jackets in the 80 degree weather.

When Kissinger and the premier stopped for refreshments, he bantered with the soldiers guarding him, and they presented him with a checkered headdress of the kind worn by King Hussein's Bedouin troops.

The secretary briefly donned the headress and quipped: "This will make a great picture for my arrival tonight."

He was referring to his arrival in Israel after the talks in Aqaba.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Call it reverse Russian roulette. Gilbert Bodden lost. James Kleinpeter won.

Bodden, 39, held up Jim's liquor Store Wednesday, police said, forcing Kleinpeter, the owner, into a back room at pistol point.

Bodden apparently didn't realize that one chamber in his revolver was not loaded.

He also didn't realize Kleinpeter had a pistol of his own hidden in his waistband, but couldn't draw with Bodden's gun at his back.

Kleinpeter said he heard the click as Bodden tried to fire, and the hammer fell on the empty chamber.

The store owner whipped out his pistol, whirled and shot Bodden twice in the head, killing him before he could get off another shot.

Ford works as First Lady at home

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With several major bills on his desk and a couple of controversial vetoes expected, President Ford worked on the economy Saturday and ushered in a new leader for the troubled Veterans Administration.

The President also had the First Lady's company in the White House for the first time since her hospitalization for breast cancer surgery two weeks ago, and he told newsmen she was feeling fit after a good night's rest.

"She had a little cold and I was tired, so we went to bed early" Friday, Ford said. "But she feels fine this morning.

Working on a curtailed Saturday schedule to allow him more time with his wife, the President greeted a group of newspaper carriers visiting the White House on National Newspaper Carrier Day and hosted swearing-in ceremonies for the new veterans' administrator, Richard Roudebush.

In the afternoon, he was meeting the Citizens Action Committee to Fight Inflation, an advisory group Ford appointed to drum up inflation fighting ideas from the consumer viewpoint.

Roudebush succeeds Donald Johnson, who resigned last summer under heavy fire from Congressmen and veterans groups who alleged the VA had become a bureacratic jungle unresponsive to the needs of Vietnam-era veterans.

At the White House ceremony, Ford told Roudebush he would "have an obligation to do a first class job on behalf of a good share of people in this country."

He urged Roudebush "not to treat veterans as numbers in a computer but as persons who have made sacrifices for our way of life."

But Ford may be headed for his own confrontation with restive veterans groups. One of the major bills awaiting his signature is a new version of the GI bill, passed unanimously by Congress last week, and some White House sources have tipped veterans' organizations that Ford may veto it as inflationary.

The bill would give an estimated 11 million post Korean and Vietnam-era veterans a 23 per cent boost in education and readjustment benefits. Its supporters say even that does not give current GIs educational assistance comparable to what World War II GIs had.

Spokesmen for veterans organizations have said they would attempt to mass thousands of GIs in Washington for a protest rally should Ford veto the bill.

Doctor, 3 employes jailed in sex assault on mental health patients

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI) — An Augusta Mental Health Institute physician and four other employes were free on bail Saturday after being indicted on charges of assaulting and sexually abusing female patients.

Dr. Ahmet Satir, 51; Mental Health worker Alfred Loder, 56; dishwasher Clinton J. Christain, 52; and custodians Clyde L. Trask, 30, and Robert Lathrop Jr., 51, were indicted by a Kennebec County grand jury on Thursday, but the indictments were not made public until late Friday.

All were released on bail shortly after their arrests.

Authorities said the case was uncovered by a patient advocate at the institution, Charles Rollins, who reported it to Supt. Roy Ettlinger and to local police.

Loder was charged with rape, sodomy and two counts of aggravated assault. Police said evidence found in his room backed up the stories of two young female patients. A number of photographs were seized, they said.

Satir was charged with one count of high and aggravated assault, and the others were charged with assault.

PTA OPEN HOUSE — The Margarita School PTA, Montclair will hold an open house and book sale Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Classrooms and the math and reading centers will be open for visitation following a brief business meeting. Refreshments will be served.

VEJAR MEMBER DRIVE — "Jumping the Snake River Canyon" is the theme for the annual Vejar School Community Club membership drive in Walnut throughout the month of October.

The memberships, at 50 cents each, may be purchased from students, teachers and Community Club board members.

The club also has an ecology fund-raising project to save glass, with the first collection on Oct. 25 between 8 and 10:30 a.m.

The glass should be separated into colors. Paper need not be removed but metal rings around the top should be removed and the glass rinsed out. Broken glass is also acceptable. Future collections will be on the last Friday of each month.

SCHOOL NIGHT — The annual Upland High School back-to-school night will be held Wednesday, beginning with dessert at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Classroom visits will begin at 7:15 p.m. Copies of the campus map and individual student programs will be mailed to all parents.

Hepatitis outbreak at San Diego's NTC

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — An outbreak of hepatitis that has infected 63 persons at the Naval Training Center has been traced to a food handler, but officials said more cases still could develop.

The Navy said 28 other persons were hospitalized in an isolation ward as a precautionary measure because they showed signs of blood or liver abnormalities.

A naval hospital spokesman said a recruit who worked in the dining facility during the early part of September apparently had the disease and infected the food while handling it.

2 youths robbed, pistol-whipped in apartment

Two Pomona youths were pistol-whipped and robbed by a pair of gunmen who broke open the door of their apartment early Saturday, police said.

Steve Casady and Don J. Kraus, both 24, of 1514 W. Mission Blvd. were surprised by the two men about 1:15 a.m.

"We want your bag of dope or we'll blow your head off," the suspects said. Officers said the victims, who denied having drugs, then were pistol-whipped and robbed of $530, a color television set and a stereo amplifier.

Casady and Kraus both were treated for head injuries at Pomona Valley Community Hospital.

Man steals purse, fires air pistol

Police are searching for a young man who snatched a Pomona woman's purse as she stepped from her car on Fremont Street Friday night.

Officers said Gladys Johnson was told to give the suspect her purse of "I'll shoot your brains out."

The man, about 18 years old, fired an air pistol at the victim after the robbery. The bullet missed her, and hit the windshield of the car.

Two students slain in dorm drug hassle

OKMULGEE, Okla. (UPI) — Two students at Oklahoma State Technical Institute were shot to death and another wounded Thursday night in an apparent dispute over an alleged drug purchase in a dormitory room.

Police said they believe six persons were originally in the room seeking to buy drugs, but left. Three persons returned to the room and were apparently shot by two men armed with an automatic revolver.

Police said a small quantity of what was believed marijuana was found in the room.

Steve Hamilton of Ponca City, Okla., and Joe Goddard were both shot in the left chest and were dead on arrival at an Okmulgee hospital.

David Burt, 20, of Connecticut, was shot several times and was listed in fair condition today.

Major bank lowers prime lending rate

NEW YORK (UPI) — First National City Bank, the second largest in the nation, Friday lowered its prime lending rate to 11 ½ per cent from 11 ¾ per cent, indicating a slight easing in the tight monetary policy imposed to curb inflation.

Earlier this week, several smaller banks moved to the 11 ½ per cent level, but Citibank is the first major bank to cut its lending rate for top business borrowers by one-quarter of a point below the prevailing 11 ¾ per cent mark.

Mrs. Alma M. Homan

Mrs. Alma M. Homan of 5094 Riverside Ave., Chino, a resident of the valley for the past 82 years, died in a Laguna Hills convalescent home Tuesday after a brief illness.

She was born Nov. 7, 1880 in Kerwin, Kan., and moved to the valley when she was 11. She was a member of the United Methodist Church of Chino, the Chino Valley chapter of the Eastern Star and the Rotary-Anns of Chino.

Survivors include a son, Clifton B. of San Juan Capistrano and a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Rentegott of Pasadena.

Graveside services will be at 11 a.m. Monday in Pomona Cemetery. Burial will follow. The Rev. Stanley Creighton, pastor of the United Methodist Church, will officiate.

The Griffith Mortuary of Chino has charge of arrangements.

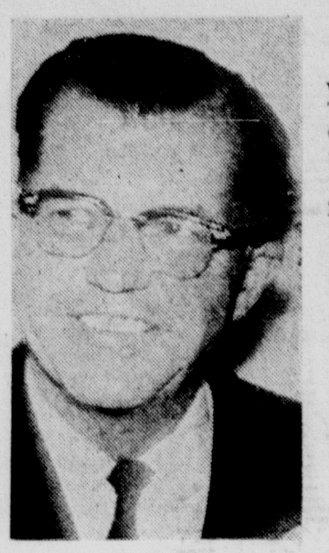
Werner Hess

Services were held recently for Werner Hess of Anaheim.

Mr. Hess was born on April 4, 1919 and had been an employe of Alad Corporation of Pomona for six years.

He is survived by his widow, Adrienne; two sons, Steven and David; and a daughter, Tina. All live in Anaheim.

Memorial contributions may be sent to Temple Beth Tikvah of N. Orange County, 1600 N. Acacia St., Fullerton.



John A. Simms

John A. Simms, 512 W. J St., Ontario, died Thursday at City of Hope Medical Center, Durate, after a short illness.

He was born Aug. 6, 1910 in Riverside, and had resided in Ontario for 54 years.

Mr. Simms was a member of the Community Baptist Church in Ontario.

Survivors include his widow, M. Lisbeth of the home, three daughters, Mrs. Les Rickman of Cucamonga, Mrs. David Kosik of Alexander, La., and Mrs. Donald Anders, Ontario, a sister, Mrs. H. C. Cavener of Pomona, 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Richardson-Peterson Chapel, Ontario. Entombment will follow at Bellevue Mausoleum, Ontario. Friends may visit from 4 to 9 p.m. Sunday at Richardson-Peterson Mortuary. Those who wish may make contributions to the City of Hope.

John J. Gainey

John J. Gainey of 1525 Deventer Drive, La Verne, died Thursday in Pomona Valley Community Hospital following two years of illness.

Mr. Gainey was born July 22, 1905 in Lewiston, Maine, and came to California in 1936. He had worked for Pacific Clay Products for 10 years before establishing his own pottery business in 1946 in Inglewood. Mr. Gainey established the Gainey Ceramics in La Verne 12 years ago. He had been a resident of La Verne for the past 10 years. He was a member of the Holy Name of Mary Catholic Church, San Dimas, the Knights of Columbus, the Legion of Mary and the La Verne Chamber of Commerce.

Besides his widow, Cecilia, he is survived by three sons, John J. Jr., of Claremont, Patrick of Simi Valley, and Michael of La Verne; three daughters, Mrs. James Hagar of Los Angeles, Mrs. Richard Ratkovic of Whittier, and Mrs. Jerry Dodson of Cucamonga; a brother, Leo of Brentwood; and 22 grandchildren.

A Rosary will be recited today at 7:30 p.m. in Holy Name of Mary Catholic Church, San Dimas. Funeral Mass will be celebrated Monday at 10 a.m. in the church. Burial will be made in the Queen of Heaven Cemetery, Rowland Heights. Todd Memorial Chapel Pomona is in charge of arrangements.

Friends may make memorial contributions to the American Cancer Society, 111 W. Center, Pomona 91768.

Man injured in accident

A 40-year-old Covina man was injured slighty when his auto was struck from the rear by another car Friday afternoon on the Corona Expressway, south of the Pomona Freeway.

Police said Ira R. Worthington's car hit by a car driven by Florence Fortner, 84, of Balboa, at 12:10 p.m. Mrs. Fortner said her brakes failed as she approached a red light on the expressway.

State vehicles emitting less pollutants

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Vehicles driven in California are emitting less pollution each year, according to an eight-year study by the state Air Resources Board.

Board officials recently said the study not only showed that anti-smog devices were effective but that the automobile emission standards adopted nearly 10 years ago "were holding up."

A random sample of on-the-road vehicles showed 1974 models emit 83 per cent less hydrocarbons, 79 per cent less carbon monoxide and 58 per cent less oxides of nitrogen when compared with uncontrolled pre-1966 cars.

The findings were contained in a staff report submitted to the board during a two-day meeting which ended Thursday. Data was collected from exhaust emission tests run on 21,000 vehicles since 1965.

The survey showed that about 67 per cent of the in-use vehicles in California were within manufacturer's specification for engine timing and idle.

12-meter America's Cup dead?

By JACK WOLISTON

NEW YORK (UPI) — Why is the United States apparently unbeatable in international yachting's most prestigious event —the America's Cup? Is the event becoming so one sided that some changes may have to be made to keep it alive?

The Americans now have successfully defended the battered trophy against 23 challenges over a 123 year span, defeating the best boats and sailors the world could offer.

In the last six challenges dating back to 1958, when the competition was limited to 12 meter yachts, the United States has won each best of seven series with the loss of only two races.

In the most recent competition over the America's Cup course off Newport, R.I., last month, the U.S. yacht Courageous humiliated the Australian challenger Southern Cross 4-0. Why?

Alan Bond, the brash young Australian millionaire who backed the Royal Perth Yacht Club entry to the tune of a reported $9 million and spent four years preparing for the event, had this to say:

"I don't really think it was the men who were better —they sailed tremendously well —but the technology that was better, their boat was better."

"There's a feeling in the New York Yacht Club, which sponsors defense of the Cup) that 12 meters maybe aren't the best boats to race these days. Maybe we should go to something like a Running Tide and have the Caritas Cup approach. A little bit more of that would make for interesting racing."

Running Tide is a ruggedly built offshore racing-cruising boat that has competed successfully in a number of East Coast races. The Caritas Cup race, an event held by the New York Yacht Club during its annual cruise, is sailed on a handicap basis.

Cornelius Shields Sr., one of America's most noted sailors, in his just published, revised edition of "Racing with Cornelius Shields and the Masters," writes that Columbia's lopsided 4-0 victory over England's Sceptre in the first-meeting of the 12s in 1958 caused "an overnight collapse of interest in racing."

"I'd like to see the America's Cup races become a competition purely between sailors," Shields writes. "To accomplish this, the races should be sailed in truly one design boats, and the skippers and crews should switch boats after each race. If the Cup races were sailed this way, a debacle such as that of 1958 would be avoided —the possible differences between sailors are not nearly as great as the possible differences between boats.

"There are those who say that the point of the America's Cup competition has always been to allow designers and sailmakers to compete against one another. This is simply putting the emphasis in the wrong place, and I want to see it put where I believe it belongs —on the sailors."

Australia's Bond also foresaw a bleak future for the 12 meters.

"We feel now that 12 meter racing as we've seen today is probably on its last legs," Bond said. "From information given us, we know that Olin Stephens, Britton Chance (another U.S. designer of 12s) and others have been asked to give their opinions to the New York Yacht Club of some other means of sailing this race."

Nevertheless, the unflappable Bond announced at the conclusion of this year's races that he would sponsor a 12 meter World Cup yachting series to be held off western Australia in 1976.

His purpose, he said, was "to improve the sailing and understanding of 12 meter yachts as they now stand with the huge investment that most syndicates have already invested."

Computer hooked to our brain?

By JAMES O. CLIFFORD

MENLO PARK, Calif. (UPI) — The pilot of the airliner notices the air speed is dropping fast and he'll have to make the necessary corrections quickly or endanger the lives of the 115 persons aboard.

Done ... thanks to a computer that reads his mind and makes the needed adjustments.

Futuristic but not impossible, according to a scientist now developing a computer he hopes will someday perform such tasks.

Dr. Lawrence Pinneo of the Stanford Research Institute says the device is still far from reliable but he spoke optimistically about his project's progress.

"Basically, the computer works on the principle that thoughts are simply silent words," he said. "Experiments in the past pretty well established this."

The computer relies on brain wave tracings that show distinctive patterns which correlate to individual words, whether spoken or thought.

Pinneo has been conducting experiments in which the subject dons a white helmet resembling those worn by aviators that is equipped with wires which record thought waves. The thoughts show up on a television screen watched intently b ya scientist.

If the machine recognizes the word "up" in the subject's thoughts, it moves a dot up. It moves accordingly for the words down, left, right, slow, fast, stop, and others.

The top score for the computer on a single silent word is 75 per cent, Pinneo said.

"Chance would have been about 14 per cent but I could do it myself at 75," he said.

The best showing for spoken words was 85 per cent involving 15 words.

"There's some confusion on words that sound the same, such as write and right, but it still is better than chance," the neurophysiologist and electronics engineer said. "And accuracy went up twice when the similar-sounding word was used in a phrase."

Pinnet thinks the errors stem mainly from two possibilities: The placement of the wires in the cap and the thought processes of the subject.

"We're not sure where in the individual brain the language is being processed so sometimes the electrode might be in the wrong spot."

Some people, the scientists says, think in pictures and not words.

The computer is currently very limited in the words it can interpret and Pinneo hopes to bypass the need for filing the whole dictionary in the machine's memory system by the use of "phonemes."

Phonemes are the smallest units of speech and there are only 46.

If the device had to search through an entire dictionary for a word then there would be no saving in time—which is one of the things the project aims for.

If an individual currently wants to solve a problem his best bet would probably be to "rent computer time and give the programmer information," Pinneo said.

The possibilities of the machine's use "are limited only by imagination."

The project is funded by the Pentagon and Pinneo is often asked if the computer might someday be used to control the thoughts of citizens.

"The Department of Defense is the only agency involved in such funding," he said. "It's just too far out for most funding organizations."

Pinneo gets a good deal of publicity from his project. He grants interviews, he said, mainly because of his faith in democracy.

"Every time someone does a story on this I get a lot of mail I have to answer but I never get any from people or organizations who want to help with money."

"I don't mind all the publicity, though, because it lets people know there's nothing to fear," he said. "It's up to the people to be vigilant against misuse."

High seas drug war underway

By DANIEL F. GILMORE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The international crackdown on illicit narcotics traffic has spawned a new challenge for the Coast Guard in the Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico, where drug smugglers are hijacking private yachts to haul their cargoes.

"Literally hundreds of crews, passengers and boats have disappeared in the southeastern Atlantic, the Gulf of Mexico, along the Pacific coast and in Hawaii," a House Merchant Marine and Fisheries subcommittee reported recently.

"A great percentage of the victims," it said, "were actual or suspected targets of drug smugglers who have found hijacking can be accomplished easily and the owners disposed of without much fear of apprehension."

The Coast Guard only recently reported a 67-foot fishing vessel was found drifting in the Gulf of Mexico off Port Aransas, Tex., carrying three dead men, one of whom had been decapitated. A spokesman said "the possibility could feasibly exist that the deaths were related to a drug hijacking."

In other instances, yachts, fishing boats and other long-haul, motorized craft have simply vanished at sea. But authorities have detected a pattern of circumstances raising a strong suspicion that some were seized by drug runners between South America and the United States who killed those aboard or cast them adrift.

Cmdr. Marshall K. Phillips, senior operations officer at Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, said in an interview that about 30 ships have "disappeared in mysterious circumstances in the last few years."

DEPRESSION ART "FOUND"

Public Offered 1937 U.S. Gov't Art Prints

Imagine, if you can, finding several thousand sets of antique prints of the world's greatest paintings that were lost for more than 35 years! It actually happened . . . and this is the true story of the discovery of that lost treasure.

Eleanor Roosevelt

Back in 1937, immediately following the depression years, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and a select group of a dozen nationally prominent people formed a voluntary national committee for art appreciation to create an art program that would give the public a well-needed moral lift. It was the committee's decision to select the world's most famous paintings from the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries—the best paintings of Matisse, Van Gogh, Renoir, Picasso, Gauguin, Titian, etc., and to reproduce them in full color as perfectly as humanly possible and make them available to the public at a price within the reach of nearly everyone.

Abandoned In 1937

For some unknown reason, after a quantity of these beautiful reproductions were made, the entire project was abandoned and this collection of perfect reproductions was stored in a Brooklyn warehouse, where they remained undisturbed since 1937.

Through a series of rare coincidences, the lost collection was "rediscovered" and leading lithographers and art critics agreed that the subject matter and quality of detail and color reproduction was incredibly accurate. Over $500,000.00 was spent to make finely engraved glass printing plates. It would be impossible to reproduce prints such as these under existing methods, and for that reason these prints are literally collector's items. Once they have been sold, there will be no more available. A truly excellent art "investment" that makes a fabulous gift.

Available to Public

These authentic original 1937 prints have been appraised by the American Appraisers' Assn. at $7.00 each print. Now, these full color 11"x14" prints are finally available to the public at $19.95 for a collection of 18 prints. Send cash, check or money order to U.S. Surplus, Dept. E14, 18584 Ventura Blvd., Tarzana, Calif. 91356. Fully GUARANTEED. Certificate of authenticity given with each set. Mastercharge and Bankamericard OK (give card number)

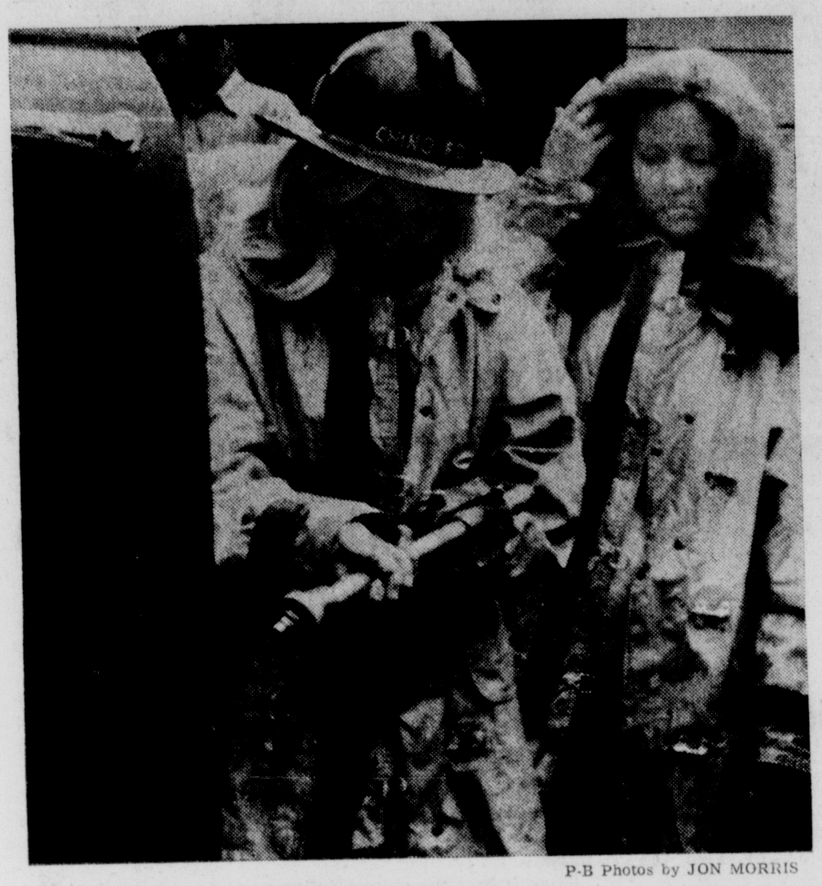
Canyon fire volunteers now 'Firepersons'

By TONY AULT
P-B Staff Writer

Something new has been added to the old Carbon Canyon Fire Company volunteers.

Four women recently joined five new men for a training session in basic firefighting and rescue techniques.

The nine new "firepersons" will bolster the present complement of four male volunteers who operate a 400-gallon pumper truck in canyon emergencies.



P-B Photos by JON MORRIS

TRYING THE HOSE

Dianne Welton, left, and Carol Rogers check out a fire hose in training at Carbon Canyon. Dan Schuler, battalion chief, instructed a new crop of volunteers in techniques with the hose.

"The four women will be trained right along with the nine male volunteers," said Chino Battalion Chief Dan Schuler. "We're not going to make it any harder nor any easier on the women. They will be able to go as far as their ability will take them—one step at a time."

Schuler said there has been a recent need to revive the volunteer company which has dwindled to only four men. With so few volunteers, it was difficult to get the pumper manned on short notice.

Because of the remoteness of the area, volunteers can reach a location four to five minutes before firemen from regularly manned fire stations. This most certainly can save lives and property, said Schuler.

In canyon emergencies, both the volunteer company and personnel at Chino Fire District's Station Two respond to alarms. Station Two is about four miles from the canyon. Between them is a narrow, twisting road.

"We sent out applications to canyon residents and received back forms from five men and four women that were acceptable," he reported.

The four women are Jennifer Onstott, Carol Rogers, Valerie Dire and Diane Welton. All reside in the Sleepy Hollow area of the canyon which winds through foothills of the Santa Ana Mountains into Orange County.

The closest ambulance service is 45 minutes in any direction.

Mrs. Dire said the women volunteers are aware of the high fire danger and became interested in the volunteer fire company after a community meeting with a Chino Fire District representative.

"With an active volunteer fire company in the area, we will be more comfortable. We volunteered for the company as we believe we are capable of doing the job . . we're around all day."

The fire station on Frazier Drive is about a block from the homes of Mrs. Dire, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Welton and two or three blocks from Mrs. Onstott.

"Being a firefighter is a real challenge," said Mrs. Dire. "I can learn it. I can do it."

Mrs. Welton said she became interested after a traffic accident last summer on Carbon Canyon Road in which a boy and girl were seriously injured.

"The fire siren on the station blew but no one was around to man the fire truck or had the knowledge of how to work the resuscitator or first aid equipment on the truck," she said.

"We started talking about the accident later and that is when we became interested in being volunteers in emergencies. We knew someone had to have training in first aid and in the truck's operation so we volunteered. We were surprised they selected us for training."

The new volunteers recently attended their first training session and received their "turn out" gear and instructions on the pumper truck and its safety equipment.

Regular training sessions are scheduled the first and third Saturday of each month. Volunteers received $4 per hour during training and when responding to emergencies.

A quick response time by volunteers can be crucial," said Schuler. "A small grass fire could erupt into a major blaze or the unconscious person in a burning home could expire.

"The volunteer company can be on the scene in one or two minutes and prevent greater tragedies from occuring."

Schuler said the district hopes to show the volunteers and canyon residents that an active, interested volunteer company is critically needed, particularly because of the rapid increase of new homes and businesses.

WOMEN VOLUNTEERS

Four women have volunteered for work with the Chino Fire Department's rural substation in Carbon Canyon. From left, bottom, are Jenifer Onstott, and Valorie Dire. Driving the truck is Dianne Welton and next to her is Carol Rogers. The women have had their first training session.

Education legislation

Special, bilingual programs and libraries would benefit from bill

Public education in California may be enriched by several million dollars this year through a new education appropriations bill recently approved by the House of Representatives.

Rep. Victor V. Veysey, R-43rd Dist., said that under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Los Angeles County may receive an increase of $1,741,104 and San Bernardino County an increase of $192,914.

In addition, the state may receive $3,359,999 to be distributed to school districts for special education programs. From this amount, San Bernardino County is slated to receive $153,-203 and Los Angeles County $1,578,615, Veysey said.

The House Appropriation Committee produced the bill which passed the House allocating $2 billion for elemetary and secondary education this year.

Veysey and Rep. Edward Roybal, D-Los Angeles, succeeded have having an amendment accepted from the floor adding $198.6 million.

This amendment increased Title I funds by $76 million over the committee recommendation of $1.8 billion. Title I funds provide support of the educational disadvantaged.

Funds for libraries and instructional purposes were increased from $137 million to $142 million, and an additional $25 million was provided for the instruction of handicapped children.

Impact aid funds to provide for children whose parents work on government installations but live elsewhere were increased by $62.6 million.

The bill provides an additional $70 million for bilingual education.

"The 16 per cent increase in funding for this program would help children from non-English speaking backgrounds to become bilingual, giving them an additional advantage in their preparation for a career," Veysey said.

In addition to new funds for 1974-75, the bill provides $2.2 billion in advance funding for the 1975-76 school year.

The bill now goes to the Senate for consideration. It must be completed before Congress adjourns, Veysey said.

Jurist defends bargaining

Municipal Court Judge KEN ZIEBARTH, candidate for the San Bernardino County Superior Court, has defended "plea bargaining" despite the adverse publicity the concept has received because of the Watergate trials. He stressed, however, that the practice must be safeguarded from abuse.

In the negotiating pleas regarding charges made against a defendant, Ziebarth said amended charges are often made as a result of evaluation of evidence subsequent to the original charge made in the case.

"This type of plea negotiation is absolutely necessary to promote real justice in individual cases where the prosecutor has over charged the case to start with," he noted.

While deploring plea bargaining as pragmatic or arbitrary means of reducing case loads for prosecutors or the courts, Ziebarth maintained that its proper use can and does reduce the number of criminal cases that go to court. He also contended that eliminating plea negotiations would drastically reduce the per cent of pre-trail dispositions.

Ziebarth, a Montclair resident, presently serves in the West Valley Municipal Court in Ontario.

The VanderPoel in '74 Committee will hold a dinner-dance Thursday at the Los Serranos Country Club. The program starts at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $12.50 and may be obtained from the VanderPoel headquarters, 107 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario. The telephone number is 983-9893. PETE VANDERPOEL, a Republican, is a candidate in the 65th Assembly District.

BILL MCVITTIE, Democratic candidate in the 65th Assembly District, has charged that one of Gov. Ronald Reagan's recent vetoes shows a startling lack of sensitivity to the financial problems of most of California's two million senior citizens.

He referred to the governor's veto of Assembly Bill 417 which would have eliminated property taxes for persons over 62 with annual incomes of less than $7,500. It would also have reduced the property tax of those earning less than $10,000 annually.

The Assembly did vote to override the veto but the Senate was unable to muster the necessary votes, he reported.

The Democratic Union of the 35th Congressional District and the Eleanor Roosevelt Democratic Club of Pomona Valley will hold a potluck dinner Thursday night.

The program, starting at 7 p.m., will be held at the Democratic headquarters at 10541 S. Mills Ave., Montclair. Bert Pines, the Los Angeles city attorney, will be the speaker. Tickets are $1.50 per person and may be purchased at the door. For more information, persons may phone 626-0089.

Volunteers for Rep. VICTOR VEYSEY, R-43rd Dist., rode 23 miles for charity recently on the MacDonald's Bike Ride against Diabetes. Veysey is a candidate in the newly created 35th Congressional District.

The volunteers were from Mt. San Antonio College, Foothill High School, Bonita High School and Webb School. Money collected went to the American Diabetes Association.

Study utility tax again

Would benefit senior citizens customers

The Pomona City Council will once again consider a change in the city's utility tax exemption at its Monday meeting. The proposed charge would increase the exemption level for persons over 62 years of age to $6,000 for households with two or more members and to $5,200 for one-member households.

The current exemption level of $4,000 for all households would remain in effect.

Other agenda items for the 8 p.m. meeting include a status report on the city's "Ben Recycl-Ed" newspaper recovery program. Although the program has now concluded its trial period and has not been as successful as originally hoped, a recommendation to continue the program through the end of the year is expected to be approved.

McVittie lauds court action dismissal

Assembly candidate William McVittie Saturday characterized the dropping of voter registration misconduct charges against him as "a victory for every concerned citizen of California.

"Thank God the nightmare is over," said McVittie, the Democratic candidate for the new 65th Assembly District seat.

Charges of extending illegal 40-cent payments to deputy registrars were dismissed Friday against McVittie and Ruben Lara, a Chino school teacher who headed the 35th Congressional District voter registration drive.

Judge David C. Merriam dismissed the charges in West Valley Municipal Court, Ontario, on grounds the district attorney's office was not prepared to show any criminal intent on the part of the defendants.

McVittie, in a press conference at his Chino office, claimed that "from the outset we have said the only intent of the registration effort was to open the voting system to every qualified person.

"We have a dismal situation in our new assembly district. Only 94,000 out of a potential 160,000 voters were actually signed up to participate in the Nov. 5 election."

Referring to the charges, McVittie said "I have felt sadness, not anger, during this attempt to smear me, and dozens of private citizens who participated in the registration drive."

"I did nothing wrong. The voter registration group was concerned only with opening the political process to all qualified residents. The Democratic party was and has been consistent in its aims to make registration more readily available to every citizen of this state, regardless of their political beliefs."

He said the municipal court, in throwing out "these unfounded accusation," acted in concert with the dictates of our constitutional form of government."

McVittie said he does not view Friday's decision as a personal victory but as a "victory for every voter and future voter in California".

He said his one regret is that the Ontario Daily Report, the newspaper that first detailed the charges against him, and its "attack on me as a public officials" has "diverted attention from the real issues."

McVittie said he now renews his challenge to Republican opponent Pete VanderPoel to "join me on the high road of political endeavor" by discussing how to attack growing inflation, unemployment, the crime rate, air pollution and other concerns.

He again challenged VanderPoel to weekly public debates during the remainder of the campaign.

McVittie thanked his supporters who continued to back him in the past few weeks, for their "confidence in my reputation for truth and integrity."

After the press conference, McVittie indicated he would seek a retraction of continued charges of "bribery" in the voter drive by the Daily Report. He refused to comment on whether a libel suit against the newspaper would be filed.

Closed Columbus Day

Federal, state, county and some area municipal employes will have Monday off in observance of Columbus Day but all area public schools will be in session.

Ontario, Upland, Walnut and Montclair city halls will be closed Monday but Pomona, Claremont, Chino and San Dimas will be open for business as usual.

Refuse collection will be on regular schedule Monday except for Upland where refuse will be picked up a day later because of the holiday.

There will be no regular mail service and only special delivery service will be delivered throughout the valliey.

Banks will be open.

New contracts

The Naval Sea Systems Command has awarded two contracts exceeding $24 million to the General Dynamics plant in Pomona for work on standard missiles.

The largest contract totals $22 million and is for the production of 400 guidance sections, automatic pilots and control sections for the Type 1 Standard Missile.

Valued at $1.9 million, the second contract provides a study of the vertical launch capability of the Standard missile.

Work on both contracts will be conducted at the Pomona plant, said Rep. Victor Veysey, R-43rd District. The contracts won't increse employment levels but do assure continuation of more than 400 jobs during the next 18 months, a company official said.

Construction

Repair, restore and add on.

And that's what Pomona residents did last month.

City officials issued 198 building permits during September, reflecting a combined valuation of $323,981. Of these totals, 165 permits were for residential additions and alterations for a $22,969 valuation.

Added to this were five permits for swimming pools, valued at $24,200.

The September activity boosted the nine month totals to 1,509 permits and $6,335,303 valuation. This compares with the same period last year with 1,333 permits and a $13 million valuation.

Other permits and valuations for September include:

Commercial garages (repairs or parking), six, $12,828; additions and alterations to non residential buildings, six, $51,000; all other permits, 12, $8,584; and signs, two, $1,200.

GI insurance

Military reservists, including national guardsmen, are eligible for up to $20,000 worth of life insurance coverage under the Veterans Insurance Act of 1974, reported Director John G. Miller of the Los Angeles Veterans Administration Regional Office.

Miller explained that ready reservists, as defined by the insurance act, are personnel assigned to units or positions in which they are required to perform active duty.

In addition, they must be scheduled for at least 12 periods of inactive training each year which is credited toward retirement benefits.

Premiums for fulltime coverage for ready reservists under the Servicemen's Group Life Insurance are $3.40 monthly for $20,000 coverage for veterans 34 and under.

Child therapy

There are four openings for children in the theraputic preschool at Casa Colina Hospital in Pomona.

Dr. Elizabeth M. Neumann, director of the Children's Developmental Services department, said the preschool serves children from 18 months to 6½-years-old with physical or neurological disorders who are not eligible for public school programs.

This pre-school is cosponsored by the Pomona school district.

Children accepted at no charge for the class have seizure disorders, cerebral palsy, difficulties in motor coordination or language problems. Transportation information is available through the school at 623-5251.

Press Club

Dr. Lois Langland, professor of psychology at Scripps College, will speak at the Press Club of Southern California dinner meeting Friday at Griswold's in Claremont.

Dr. Langland will discuss "Creativity Within Constraints: Is It Possible?" She will deal with the ability of those in the news media to be creative while conforming to the rules of objectivity and impartiality which govern their profession. The meeting is open to Press Club members and guests.

Dr. Langland, a published poetess, has been on the Scripps faculty since 1965. Currently she serves as president of the Claremont Colleges Faculty Senate.

'Soul Travel'

A film on "Eckankar: The Ancient Science of Soul Travel" featuring Sri Darwin Gross, the living ECK master, will be shown Oct. 29 at 7 p.m. at 393 W. Foothill Blvd., Claremont.

Soul travel is described as the art of shifting one's attention away from the material worlds into the worlds of true beingness beyond energy, matter, time and space.

Private colleges deserve support

California students have a wider range of choices and educational opportunities than can be found in any other place in the world. We have three kinds of four-year colleges: the University of California, the State University and Colleges, and the independent colleges and universities.

Last year, California's fifty-three independent colleges and universities enrolled 125,000 students, or one-fourth of all students in four-year institutions in the state. They spent $445 million for educational programs with no direct support from the taxpayers. Because they are free to experiment, to innovate — because independent institutions treat and respect their students as individuals—these colleges and universities offer an exceptionally enriched and meaningful educational experience.

Inflation has produced the continuing rise in operating costs for both public and independent colleges and universities. The difference is that in the public institutions, rising costs have been met almost entirely by increased tax-dollar support, while independent institutions have had to raise tuition charges sharply each year to maintain the quality of their academic programs. Independent higher education faces far greater price competition from public agencies than any business in the country.

To continue as independent enterprise, independent colleges and universities must depend increasingly on voluntary contributions. One important avenue of support is through the unified annual campaign of the Independent Colleges of Southern California. Together these fifteen participating colleges serve over 30,000 Southland students: Chapman College, Claremont Graduate School, Claremont Men's College, Immaculate Heart College, La Verne College, Loyola Marymount University, Mount Saint Mary's College, Occidental College, Pepperdine University, Pitzer College, Pomona College, Scripps College, University of Redlands, Westmont College and Whittier College.

In recognition of their vast service in the public interest and savings to the taxpayers, October has been declared "Independent College Month" by the California Legislature and the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. It is the month when the Independent Colleges of Southern California embark on their fund drive to help keep these colleges in business. We urge your support.

How far have women come--a long ways?

As the saying has it, "You've come a long way, baby." Just how far women have come, and where they are going is suggested by the findings of the Third Virginia Slims American Women's Opinion Poll.

In this year's poll, conducted by the Roper organization, 3,000 women (and also 1,000 men) aged 18 on up were asked their views on marriage, divorce, child rearing, male and female roles and the changing values and morals of society. Some of the findings:

—Women are leaning toward bonafide partnerships in marriage where husband and wife share the responsibilities of household and family. Over 50 per cent favor combining marriage, children AND careers.

—But marriage in either the old or new style remains the preferred way of life for more than nine out of ten women and men. Given a choice, only a handful of women (2 per cent) would pursue a career rather than marriage and having children.

—Divorce as a solution to a bad marriage is favored by three out of five women. Furthermore, a majority oppose alimony when the woman can earn a reasonable income.

—Nearly half of women today think having two children is ideal, compared to only one in four who thought so in 1952 and 1941. Most cite the high cost of living and overpopulation as the reasons.

—Women are still trying to come to grips with the so-called new sexual freedom prevalent among unmarrieds in society today. About two out of five see it as a change for the worse and nearly an equal number express mixed feelings.

—For the first time, a clear majority of American women — 57 per cent — say they are in favor of efforts to strengthen women's position in society. Yet men continue to show greater enthusiasm for this goal than women themselves; 63 per cent of the men interviewed were for improving women's status.

White cane day ahead

Tuesday, Oct. 15 will, by Congressional resolution and Presidential proclamation be White Cane Safety Day.

The white cane, of course, is both the useful tool and the symbol of the blind. It serves many as a blessed instrument of at least partial freedom from their affliction. It serves the rest of us as a signal that here is someone who needs our consideration.

There will be many appeals for donations to various groups sponsoring a multitude of helpful programs and charitable projects for the sightless. It might be enlightening for us, before we make our contribution, to walk around a familiar room with our eyes closed, preferably with someone near at hand.

It might just stir us to be a bit more generous.

Tens of thousands respond to request for a Bicentennial slogan

WASHINGTON — We have been hearing about America from its people. We asked, you may remember, for a Bicentennial slogan. The response was spontaneous; tens of thousands of citizens from all walks of life have sent us slogans, phrases and poetry expressing how they feel about their country.

Many have written accompanying letters of testimonial. To read them is to understand that the Watergate horrors, economic uncertainties and other afflictions have not shaken the American faith.

Some with a lifetime behind them have written about the turmoil they have seen. Youths looking ahead have written about the challenge of events. We have heard from aliens about the dreams which brought them to this land. Even a few convicts have responded, with a special poignancy, about the meaning of freedom.

Some have applauded President Ford's attempt to return to the White House a humanity and openness more becoming a free republic. Others have taken issue with the President over his decision to pardon Richard Nixon and thus suffocate the legal process to its crib. They reject the idea that the country would be better served by amnesia than by truth.

We received one slogan from an authentic American pioneer, 98-year-old Jesse L. Hall, who was born in the centennial year of 1876. He spent his long life pushing westwards. He lived through the blizzard of 1887 in a homemade muslin tent on the Nebraska prairie. In Wyoming, he was elected to the state legislature. Now he resides in Reno, Nev.

He summed up his view of America in a simple, three-word slogan: "The Republic Stands."

From cell C-8 in the Florida state penitentiary, Raiford, Fla., Willie Young wrote: "Need I say, my life has been a miserable road to travel. After years of walking it alone, I discovered one must believe in something."

He put his sentiments into these words: "A Country not made by Hand but by the Grace of God and the Will of Man."

There were other poetic responses. "We may stumble but never fall; Down through the years, we still stand tall," wrote Raymond Richardson from Chicago.

A Boalsburg, Pa., teacher, Ruth H. Carter, felt "an extreme need for the children to know their country's heritage." She suggested this slogan; "So the Children Will Know."

In Toledo, Ohio, the second and third grade students at Lincolnshire School composed a slogan together: "I work for Democracy because it works for me."

Many other children sent in slogans. For instance, a 12-year-old Forest Heights, Md., girl, Mary Elizabeth Henry, proposed: "America, a Homesteaded Heart." And 14-year-old Penny Chandler of Fresno, Calif., sent in this one: "Two Hundred Steps — and More to Come."

Teen-agers, too, responded by the hundreds. From Annapolis, Md., 18-year-old James P. Gough told of his frustration over "recent acts by men in high places." Yet he could still offer two heartfelt slogans: "America, a Theme that is Timeless" and "America, Something Warm that Touched My Heart."

A 19-year-old, Johnny Carter of Long Beach, Calif., suggested this sign be posted across America: "Conquerors and Corruptors Beware. This Nation is the Property of the People."

And a Wilmington, N.C., high school student, Stewart Moshe, submitted this slogan: "There's No Way Like the American Way."

From John Lauria of Jacksonville, Fla., we received a simple, sincere motto: "America, Where People are Happy." He added meaningfully: "I should know. I came here in 1903."

Here are a few other offerings selected at random from our mailbag:

Florence A. Tracy Revelle, Ardmore, Okla. — "Pride in our past; Faith in our future; Forward America."

Lionel Wernick, New York City — "America: The Promise Kept and now Renewed."

George Kelly, Philadelphia, Pa. — "Here Lives a Free People, 1776-1976."

Joseph P. McGoldrick, Jackson Heights, N.Y. — "In America, there are no impossible dreams."

John Klunck, Sheboygan, Wis. — "If we can't get to Heaven, we'll settle for America."

Jim Felton, Little Rock, Ark., — "America is coming of Age."

William Eric Rohrs, Tacoma, Wash. — "Now, Let's Put It All Together."

Adeline Feinberg, Belmont, Mass. — "Appreciate our Differences."

Louis Ginsberg, Paterson, N.J. — "Take no liberties with liberty."

J.K. Smith, Salt Lake City, Utah — "Freedom: 1776, 1976, Forever."

Evelyn Conley, Pittsburgh, Pa. — "USA: Undaunted Stands America."

Ross Doty, Spokane, Wash. — "America, My Country: May She Ever Hold High the Torch of Freedom."

Meanwhile, our search for a Bicentennial slogan continues. Please send your suggestions to Slogans, c-o Jack Anderson, 1401 16th Street, N.W., Washingotn, D.C. 20036.

TOM TIEDE

Fish, politicians: a lot in common?

WASHINGTON — British critic Malcolm Muggeridge says that he has cast only one political vote in his life — for a candidate who, having recently been released from a mental institution, had a document attesting to his sanity. This November, American voters will likely have no such luck in judging the suitabilities of office seekers, but there will be at least one kind of documentation to consider: each candidate will be classified as incumbent or no and perhaps this should weigh in a voter's decision.

A Washington group called The New American Revolution believes that except in rare cases, voters should reject incumbents this year, specifically those who've held their office for two terms or more. Hugo Buehring, Revolution coordinator, says election day should be rejection day for officials who've grown old in their jobs.

The idea, Buehring adds, is not just to throw the old rascals out, but to return public office to that which it was originally intended to be, an ever-changing repository for fresh ideas and activity unencumbered by political self interest. The Revolution group currently is trying to fire interest for the idea by public appeal; eventually, it hopes to lobby for a Constitutional amendment which would do what voters are reluctant to do, limit the terms of all elected.

The thought is not new, as witness the 22nd Amendment, but, understandably, it is rarely discussed in this town. Sen. Mark Hatfield had the audacity to suggest the possibility in the Senate a few years ago. He felt no member of Congress should serve more than 18 years. Not surprising, his support was zero. Term limitation is dirty language among politicians; "All members of Congress have a primary interest in being reelected," as ex-Representative Frank E. Smith once put it, "some members have no other interest."

And to be sure, there are some serious flaws in the limitation thesis. On those wonderful occasions, as example, when truly decent men are elected to public trust it would seem a shame not to take advantage of their excellence for as long a time as possible. If Abe Lincoln were mayor, and George Wallace challenging, the question of having a fresh face with fresh ideas becomes moot indeed.

On the other hand, limiting the term of the President has had no noticeable effect on the democracy, nor has the same curb on governors resulted in disaster for the states that so rule.

Thus no matter that the proposal has no chance of becoming real law, because lawmakers do not pass laws against lawmakers, it may at least be considered by those voters this Autumn who are weary of the status quo.

The fact is , public office is not as accommodating to change as it once was. The founding fathers intended that the doors to elected responsibility should swing easily both ways so that a fickle electorate could regularly yank people out to put people in. Over the decades, however, elected office has tended to become a career rather than a fling. In 1870, according to Hugo Buehring, there was a 50 per cent turnover in Congress each election, in 1900 this turnover fell to 30 per cent, and now it is about 12. During the last election 79 per cent of incumbent senators and 96 per cent of incumbent representatives won reapproval.

This turned, made possible of course by the American voter, has obvious and damaging consequences. The longer one is in office the more his political debt, and, in many cases, the less his spunk and spirit. Reform rarely comes from the kind of men who attain power by outlasting others in a seniority system; a nation expecting imaginative leadership from men who substitute power for imagination and compromise for leadership is a nation with small expectations.

On balance it is probably not a good idea to be against a candidate merely because he has won before. But there are, no doubt, worse ways to make up one's mind on Election day. It is one thing for voters to see and lament the lethargy and carelessness of career officials, it is quite another for free ballots to promote more of the same.

How do Republicans and Democrats differ?

How do Republicans and Democrats differ? The Republican Congressional Campaign Committee newsletter this week suggests the following:

"Democrats buy most of the books that have been banned somewhere. Republicans form censorship committees and read them as a group.

"Republicans consume three-fourths of all the rutabaga produced in this country. The remainder is thrown out.

"Republicans usually wear hats and almost always clean their paint brushes.

"Republicans employ exterminators. Democrats step on the bugs.

"Republicans boys date Democratic girls. They plan to marry Republican girls, but feel they're entitled to a little fun first.

"Republicans sleep in twin beds—some even in separate rooms. That is why there are more Democrats."

Just in jest

It was the Greek philosopher Plato who, over 2,350 years ago, remarked:

"Let early education be a sort of amusement; you will then be better able to find out the natural bent."

And so, in all justice to certain California State University College officials, I am sure they were only following Plato's astute advice when they suggested that California's taxpayers should finance intercollegiate athletics in the 19 campus system.

And while we are on the subject of education being a sort of "amusement," it should also be pointed out that such "amusement" can be enjoyed by the educator as well as by the student. What fun that Michigan State University psychologist must have had recently as he conducted a scientific research which proved conclusively that rats enjoy cocktails after a hard day's work.

Soviet 'nonpersonage' could apply to Nixon

"Nixon cursed him, says photog." — News report headline.

WASHINGTON — The Russians have a word for it. Or was it just another expression coined by the capitalistic Western press? Either way, the word is "nonpersonage."

That's the status (or nonstatus) Soviet society accords those fallen from Marxist grace — as, for example, the late Nikita Khrushchev following his removal from the power sanctums of the Kremlin.

Until recently, nonpersonage appeared, in Western eyes, to be one of those cruel and unusual punishments devised by the Orwellian minds of the new post-Revolution generation of commissars.

True, it beat the old revolutionary Stalinist method of dealing with deposed adversaries by several hundred civilized kilometers. But still, there seemed something eerie, to say nothing of repressive, about a calculated, organized effort to ignore the once-powerful and exalted.

Now, however, I for one am having some second thoughts on the subject. The Russians, at long last, may have invented a social arrangement we ought to consider copying; a civilized way of allowing deposed leaders to enjoy, or suffer, the remaining years of their lives on their own terms.

My question, you see, has to do with the implications of that headline last week. President Richard Nixon in a wheelchair would have been legitimate news, regardless of what he or his press secretary thought. But Private Citizen Nixon is something else again. If he doesn't want to have his picture taken, well dammit, he has a right not to have his picture taken.

Meanwhile, 3,000 miles across the continent, the other half of the 1972 Republican ticket's sunken ship is having similar problems. Spiro Agnew, according to reports, doesn't like network television cameras set up near his doorstep. He recently had it out with a news reporter who informed him that, although he's no longer vice president, there is "public interest" in his activities. Agnew's reply: Get off my property.

All right then, what's the answer? Does "public" — i.e., news media — interest in a former public figure override his objections to being pursued by newsmen and photographers? Or does a resigned — our equivalent of deposed — American political leader have the right of nonpersonage if he wants to assert it?

If you haven't guessed by now, my answer to the first question is no; to the second yes.

Which is simply to say that American society, as represented by the press, ought to grant Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew the same rights of privacy in hospital corridors and in their homes that the American Civil Liberties Union demands for other private citizens.

Not having been in the hospital corridor last week when the former President allegedly cursed that photographer, I can't take an oath that the incident occurred in the exact way it was relayed to the wire services. But the story seems likely enough.

After all, the ability to show up in places where their subjects least expect them is part of the equipment that goes with being a good news photographer in the capitalistic Western world. As for the Nixon penchant for expletives in connection with press coverage of his affairs, that's a well-documented footnote to the history of our time.

But there's a difference now, it seems to me. Private citizen Nixon, in his nonpublic pursuits, is entitled to his right to nonpersonage. Let our enterprising papparazzi look elsewhere in their hot pursuit of photographic subjects of "public interest." Or are we less civilized than the commissars?

Thoughts for today

The end of the matter; all has been heard. Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man. — Eccl. 12:13.

The duty of man is plain and simple, and consists of but two points: his duty to God, which every man must feel; and his duty to his neighbor — to do so as he would be done by. — Thomas Paine, American political essayist.

Bite the bullet when widowed dad brings 'other woman' home as wife

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl 17 and my sister is 12. We need your help desperately.

Our father has been secretly dating another woman off and on for several years. Mom knew about it and broke them up on two occasions.

Last January Mom died. Dad started to date this woman almost immediately. Sometimes he doesn't come home at night and we know he is with her.

It looks like they are going to be married. This is very hard for us to take because we know how much heartache she caused our Mom. The woman is divorced and has two children. There are four of us. (We have two younger brothers.)

My sister and I think that if the ten of us try to live under one roof it will be a disaster. We are unable to hide our true feelings for this woman and don't know what to do. Are we wrong in feeling this way? — From Chicago

Dear Chicago: I have no idea what your father's marriage was like, and neither do you. I am not condoning his behavior, but I am suggesting that there might have been some factors you kids didn't know about.

If your dad does marry this woman please do your darnedest to create an atmosphere of acceptance and forgiveness. Remember — "Hate the sin, but love the sinner."

Dear Ann Landers: It's taken me until now to simmer down after reading the letter from the young man who wanted to picket the doctor's office because he was sent a bill for $40 after removing a plantar's wart.

I have been a medical assistant's secretary for nearly three years and I am sick of hearing complaints like this. First of all, a doctor is a professional man who has studied, worked and sacrificed many precious hours of leisure that many of us take for granted.

My boss is at the hospital at 6 a.m. to make his rounds. He pinch hits for other doctors, does clinic work, attends meetings and is in his office at 12:30 to see patients.

His bills are reasonable, yet I must spend hours sending out "reminders" and telephoning patients about long-overdue remittances. It's strange how they turn from sick and desperate people to deadbeats. They MUST see the doctor at once because they are dying! When they get well they'd rather have died than pay their bill.

Thanks for listening, Ann. I feel better now. — Teed Off

Dear T.D.: I hope the kid who had the plantar's wart sees your letter. And for the record, the price was NOT high. If the job was well done and the wart was removed permanently, he got a bargain.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 19-year-old son is stationed about 600 miles from home. He phones collect every Sunday, and I live for those phone calls. I told him before he left to call us collect, in fact, I insisted on it.

Whenever his collect calls come my husband becomes annoyed. He says the boy should cut down on something else and pay for the calls himself if he wants to talk to us.

I should add, this lad sends his younger sister (Who is handicapped) $10 a month, so you can see he is not an insensitive person. Please give us your opinion, Ann. Should he call collect or not? — A Mother

Dear Mother: Thousands of parents whose sons wore the uniform would give anything to hear their voices again, but they never will. Hand this column to your husband.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Lay the groundwork now for any important agreements you're contemplating so things will go off in accordance with your schedule.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Conditions that have an effect upon your work or career will be more harmonious than usual. Try to use this period to your advantage.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Certain benefits can be gained through contacts that you now have or will be making socially. Try to develop them properly.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A domestic situation that has kept things off-balance a bit at home can be clarified now with no scars to any of the involved parties.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't lock yourself into any type of plan that can't be altered if a sudden shift in conditions occurs, such as will happen shortly.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be alert at this time for profit that can be acquired through those with whom you share a close personal relationship.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're going to be able to bypass a stumbling block. It has hampered you where your self-interests are concerned. Be ready to move out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) For best results at present keep what you hope to accomplish limited to the parties affected. People who are not directly involved shouldn't be told.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Through a friend you will learn of something new that will capture your interest and imagination. You'll devote considerable time to this project.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) For the next few days you'll find those whose cooperation you need for matters of importance will be more helpful than usual.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Concentrate now on plans that affect not only the present but what is important a few weeks from this date. Lay a firm foundation.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Give as much attention as you can to a joint venture that has financial or material overtones. This is now a profitable area.

Your Birthday Oct. 14

This year your creative ideas will return you more profit than before. Discuss those ideas with associates who can be of help to you.

Rubies and sapphires created by impurities

Young lady, how would you like a ring with an enormous stone of aluminum oxide? Accept it. That's what a ruby is And a sapphire, too. What makes the difference between the ruby and the sapphire is the sort of impurities therein. Add titanium or iron, you get a sapphire. Add chromium, you get a ruby.

A MAN LOOKS at his fingernails by cupping his hand palm up. A woman looks at her fingernails by straightening her hand palm down. How do you account for this difference?

Consider children between the ages of 2 and 4. When you put a couple or more of them together to play, you can expect some sort of minor fight to break out at least every five minutes. That's the contention of a team of experts who made a study of the matter. And they say it is the younger of the children who usually starts the fracas. However, that's not bad, these scholars aver. RATTLES & STRAWS

It's no secret garages hold secrets

By JOSEPH H. FIRMAN

A dedicated busybody and nosey Parker, I have always enjoyed wandering up the alleys of a town rather than strolling the bustling city streets, because alleys are made up largely of garages and carports, and each has a wealth of information to be gleaned by dedicated busybodies and Nosey Parkers.

The average alley today is a rabbit warren of open garages with cars, boats, bicycles, paint cans, tools and trash barrels, a tapestry of human life as revealing as a Balzac novel.

The typical garage of suburban America I found (until that savage St. Bernard chased me off) is at once a treasure trove, a domestic catchall and a salvage yard. Here is Dad's outboard motor and Timmy's surfboard, the abandoned couch, the cartons of the children's science projects and finger paintings. There will be the broken TV set, the deserted guinea pig cage, a [illegible] potter's wheel and some [illegible] patio furniture destined for the county dump or a garage sale.

The garage to some Heads of Household is a precious repository of items essential to the running of the household. This father has his tools neatly arranged on the wall, each in its rack, labeled. There are jars of nuts, bolts and nails; shelves of paint cans, thinner, a place for everything and everything in its place. The place is as neat as a hospital operating room. The owner is obviously compulsive about orderliness and seeking basic ego gratification in material things — a manic depressive on the downhill phase. I stroll on to the next garage.

Here chaos reigns. Suitcases, bird cages, broken bicycles and stacks of mildewed books are all a-tumble with empty wine bottles, old mattresses, stacks of newspapers, a three-legged desk and an old camping stove. Nothing is in order, everything is useless, but obviously rich in nostalgic association. Who could throw out those mouldy sleeping bags, Freddy's ant farm, little Nancy's first rocking chair (sob). Here, I felt, as I passed the open garage, sniffing slightly, was a family of warmth and sentiment, of open horizons and enriched living.

One garage is decked with a hundred car license plates dating back to 1911, plus oil cans, STP emblems and photographs of the winners of the Indianapolis 500 for several years. This garage has bits of machinery, valves, tubes, batteries, and calendars that would make the Playboy publishers blush.

And so you wander down the line of the Gasoline Alley of the whining '70s, peering into people's garages as you would leaf through their family photo albums, learning much, learning all, from the lares and penates they keep and cherish and leave in garages open to the alleys and to the busybodies and Nosey Parkers who happen by.

Even the CIA doesn't work Sundays

By RALPH NOVAK

It was a quiet day down at CIA headquarters. The Head of Central Asian Affairs strolled into the Chief's office.

"Say, Chief, I just had an idea," he said casually. "Don't you think it would be a good idea to get Afghanistan to appy for statehood? A few million bucks strategically placed here and there, a few old tanks and planes smuggled to the right people and who knows? Just think—we could even point out that they would become first in the alphabetical llisting of the 51 states."

"No, Meduling, I don't think so," the Chief said. "We tried that with Yemen last year, remember? Of course, they would have been last in the alphabetical list; maybe that's what put off that government in exile led by the camel driver in Disneyland. But no; refine it a little and maybe next year we can run it up the top secret files and see if anyone microfilms."

Just then the Director of the International Freedom of the Press Defense Section, Pacific Branch, came in, looking very suntanned.

"Just back from Tahiti, Chief," he said. "Listen, I think we ought to consider funneling in a few coconuts, as they say, to back opposition drum beaters who are the only thing standing between the island and a complete takeover by Marlon Brando. He's never forgiven them for making fun of Sacheen Littlefeather and it's only a matter of time before he clamps down. We could launder the money through a free-spending tourist cover; I'd even be glad to volunteer to go back and take on the job myself."

"Well, Spoud, we all know what a menace to world peace the Communist threat in Tahiti is," the Chief said. "God knows how much more serious the threat of Marlon Brando is. But I'm not sure this is the right moment. Why don't you just take a slow boat to China and see if it floats?"

The Chief had just gotten his crayons out and was beginning to color in his world map when the Under-director for Rationalization came in.

"Chief, I've come up with a good explanation for that nuclear device we planted to blow up some ballot boxes in Lichtenstein," he said. "We'll just say it was actually supposed to be an automatic voting machine we had sent to help them democratize their elections but it got mixed up in the post office."

"No Soffistri, I don't really think that would convince anybody. In any case, we don't want to antagonize the post office, do we? Who would help us, uh, monitor the mail of all those domestic insurgents in Ohio and Colorado?"

At that point, the Commander of Expatriate Invasions came running up, breathless.

"I've got it," he shouted. "We get all the Americans of British descent and put them in motorboats and conquer England. We could take them by surprise."

"No, Rasher, not this week," the Chief said. "In fact, we aren't starting anything new today. Monday we quelled some leftist revolts, Tuesday we landed a few spies, Wednesday we financed some secret police. Thursday we ransacked some shrinks' offices. Friday, we padded our budget request, Saturday we denied everything. It's Sunday. On the seventh day, we rest."

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Stacking taxes easier than raising them

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — More of everything you were afraid to know about President Ford's new economic program:

Q. What exactly is a surtax and why did Ford propose it instead of increasing present tax rates?

A. A surtax, also known as a stack tax, is a tax that is stacked on top of another tax. Ford proposed it because stacking taxes consumes less energy than raising them. And it is politically safer.

If a congressman voted to raise taxes outright, he might lose the election. But if he votes for a surtax, he only gets penalized for piling on.

Q. How did the surtax get its name?

A. This type of levy was first proposed by Millard Fillmore. It caused taxpayers to exclaim "Gad, Sir!" and therefore was called the gadsir tax.

Later, it became known simply as the sir tax, or, in the south, the suh tax. From which came surtax.

Q. Why does Ford insist on putting economic proposals and energy conservation measures in the same package?

A. The two are interchangeable. If the economic proposals fail to halt inflation, Ford can claim they were designed to save fuel.

And if fuel shortages develop, he can claim his energy conservation program was an anti-inflation device.

Q. Is there any other connection between inflation and energy?

A. Yes, indeed. Roughly 40 per cent of our energy production is used to maintain present high levels of inflation. If inflation didn't take so much energy, we wouldn't have to pay so much for fuel.

Q. The President said Americans could save 300,000 barrels of oil a day by "car pooling, taking the bus, riding bikes or just plain walking." What is "walking?"

A. The President was referring to a transportation concept, still largely in the experimental stage, that involves moving people about on their own feet.

Tests show this is technologically possible. But like solar energy, it has not been proven commercially feasible.

Feet still have many bugs that must be eliminated before they will be suitable for mass transportation.

The chief drawback is their limited range, which presently is even less than electric cars. The average pair of feet will only go three or four blocks between rest stops.

Additionally, most sidewalks were not built for large scale pedestrian traffic.

Q. How does the Community Improvement Corps proposed by Ford differ from the WPA projects of the 1930s?

A. Under the new program, when 6 per cent of the workers are unemployed they will be given CIC jobs. Under the old program, 94 per cent who had WPA jobs only worked 6 per cent of the time.

Commentary

Overrun--it all began with USS Constitution

By WARREN L. NELSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Overrun" is a nasty word that makes Pentagon officials blanch and congressmen angry.

Cost overruns are considered bad, even evil. They're bad because they indicate Pentagon blundering. They are evil because many congressmen feel the Pentagon intentionally presents low estimates to Congress to get it to support a program.

A recent study made for the Army agreed that cost estimates are often intentionally lowered to make a program more saleable —but not just to Congress. The study found that the first estimates made for Army weapons were remarkably close to accurate.

But as the program moved higher within the Pentagon, the study found cases where officials ordered that estimates be lowered to gain support for the proposed weapon at the next highest level.

While much attention has been focused on cost overruns since the C5A expose of the mid-1960's, they were nothing new then. The Navy's first cost overrun came on the USS Constitution, the first ship it ordered in the 1790's.

Congressional critics complain the armed services try to fool Congress with low estimates. But none with experience in Congress has really been fooled since the USS Constitution.

Years before the word overrun was publicized, this reporter lunched with a group of congressional staff aides who discussed cost estimates given Congress —not only for weapons but also for dams, post offices and social programs. One staff member added 50 per cent to all estimates, another 75 per cent and another 100 per cent.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., is one of the strongest critics of Pentagon cost overruns. He also said the overrun on the Medicare program makes most weapons overruns look like peanuts. In 1965, when Medicare was enacted, the costs for 1975 were estimated at $4.3 billion. Now they are put at $14.2 billion—a 230 per cent overrun.

Some overruns are the fault of Congress itself.

The General Accounting Office, an arm of Congress, regularly checks the Pentagon's overruns. Earlier this year it reported that of $7 billion in new overruns uncovered in the last half of 1973, 35 per cent were the result of inflation.

Another 20 per cent resulted from stretching programs out. In other words, instead of ordering 60 copies of a new plane each year for 10 years, 50 a year are ordered for 12 years. That makes the budget look better this year but shoves the cost out further into the future.

Such changes generally force production lines to operate at less than economical rates. And that adds still further to the cost of weapons.

Such stretch-outs are sometimes ordered by the services, other times by the White House. But often Congress orders them so members can show the voters they are holding down the budget.

CHILD HEALTH

Immunizations

Appalling lack of interest in shots

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's health detectives are calling all parents.

They want mothers and fathers to respond willingly to immunization against childhood diseases—and the threat of epidemics.

These include polio —which can cripple and kill. Also: measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus. These, too, can kill.

The last survey conducted by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta showed around 5.8 million of the nearly 14 million boys and girls in the most susceptible age group were unprotected against polio, measles, rubella and other bad diseases.

Between nine and 10 million youngsters in the same age bracket currently are not protected against mumps.

The specter of preventable epidemics among such children is the reason the health detectives all during October will be beating drums to call attention to the unprotected children —urging parents to get them immunized.

The National Awareness Program on Immunizations is being run with help from the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Medical Association, the Center for Disease Control and many concerned public and private organizations also on the health team.

The disease fighters cautioned:

"Dangerously low national childhood immunization levels open the doors to the threat of epidemics and have spurred the designation of October as Immunization Action Month.

The large group of unprotected pre-school children means very clearly that there is a possibility of epidemics in childhood diseases.

How did this happen?

Immunization became a widespread and accepted practice when safe, effective vaccines became available for disease control. Threats of epidemics, as a result, have almost disappeared from the public mind.

Many parents of young children are less conscious of the continued need for immunization. Unwittingly, they have created the base for the recurrence of the diseases.

Dr. John J. Witte, director of the CDC Immunization Division, said if an epidemic occurs it is most likely to spread quickly among children in the one-to-four age group. The playpen and sandbox set.

He said the accompanying complications of childhood diseases such as polio, measles and mumps, disabling their victims for life and frequently causing death, cannot be overstated.

Rubella, transmitted to young women of child-bearing age, is the greatest cause of infant birth defects.

"The statistics are really pretty frightening," Dr. Witte said. "In 1963, some 84 per cent of children between the ages of one and four were vaccinated against polio.

"Last year the figure was down to 60.4 per cent. That simply isn't enough to prevent epidemics. Anyone who remembers the polio epidemics. . .when thousands of children were permanently disabled knows what that means."

Some other points about the diseases:

—Only 61.2 per cent of young children were immunized against measles last year. Dr. Witte commented that "some people still regard measle as a harmless disease and aren't too concerned about having their children immunized. But before vaccines became available 11 years ago, hundreds of children died each year from the disease. Encephalitis with permaent brain damages is a common measles complication.

—The real horror is that not enough children are being immunized now to assure that epidemics will not occur on a broad scale.

—A further danger created by lowered immunization levels among very young children involves exposure to such diseases contracted by them by older unimmunized children and adults. In the older children and adults, for example, what would be a "mild" childhood disease for preschool children can create serious complications.

Check young Benny Goodmans' teeth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Before your child starts playing a musical instrument, particularly a wind instrument such as a clarinet or saxophone, a New York orthodontist recommends you check first with your dentist.

Dr. Ernest Herman said some instruments with some individuals could cause a variety of dental problems, ranging from faulty alignment of teeth to gum difficulties.

He said in a report in the September issue of the Journal of the American Dental Association that millions of children are playing instruments they selected themselves or are studying music in schools with instruments that may have been assigned to them on a haphazard basis.

"As a result, thousands of children are not dentally or temperamentally suited to their instruments," he said. "Many a would-be musician is handicapped from the start and will never be any more than mediocre in his field.

"Every dentist delivering proper service to his patients should advise would-be musicians, teachers and parents about various factors related to dentistry that are involved in the playing of wind instruments. A dental consultation should be held before a great amount of time, effort and money is spent in this pursuit."

Herman said most dentists agree that single-reed instruments such as the clarinet and saxophone are responsible for most of the problems with tissues and gums surrounding teeth that are experienced by wind musicians.

One reason is that a good part of the weight of the instrument rests on the lowerlip which is supported by teeth. Herman said continued pressure on the teeth decreases blood circulation in the bone.

He said the strong muscles of the jaw also unintentionally increase the outward pressure which can harm teeth alignment.

Playing the brass instruments, the trumpet, trombone and horns, causes compression of the lips against the upper and lower teeth. Herman said extended periods of playing have caused some mobility of teeth.

He said anyone with sharp or irregular front teeth would suffer lip pain playing the oboe or bassoon and a person with a short upper lip would have difficulty playing the flute.

Some string instruments also have potential for problems. Herman said studies have shown that violin playing causes pressure on the jaw, which holds the violin against the shoulder, and this may lead to a faulty bite in some people.

To guard against possible dental problems arising from playing musical instruments, Herman said the would-be musician should be given a careful oral examination that includes evaluation of the relationship of the jaws, alignment of teeth, status of the tongue and even the lips.

"Proper recommendations can ensure dental suitability so that a would-be musician is not needlessly handicapped," he said.

Vitamin E... does it or doesn't it?

By AL ROSSITER JR.
UPI Science Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two California researchers have raised new possibilities about the role of vitamin E, a mystery nutrient burdened over the years with unproven claims it could cure or prevent a variety of human ailments.

The lack of knowledge about vitamin E, once described as the "vitamin in search of a disease," has given rise to numerous rumors of its miracle effects. There have been claims, among others, that large doses could improve sexual prowess, prevent heart attacks, smooth facial wrinkles and banish body odor.

These claims were repudiated a year ago by a committee of the National Research Council, which said they had no basis in sound experimentation or clinical observations.

Now Drs. Lester Packer and James R. Smith of the University of California's Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory say they have found vitamin E capable of stopping the normal aging process of human lung cells in test tubes.

This is not to suggest the vitamin can make people live longer, the physiologists said, because it cannot reverse other aging processes of the human body. But their finding did suggest some interesting possibilities.

"Even if vitamin E can't turn a 40-year-old into a 14-year-old, it might prevent an early death, or brain disease, heart attacks or senility," Packer said. "Of course, we don't know these things at all yet. That's speculation.

"We don't want to overstate it," he said in a telephone interview. "We can't jump from experiments with isolated cells to the human body. I personally feel this is the level at which we need a lot more work before we can do intelligent tests in animals and humans."

What Packer and Smith found was that human lung cells survived twice their normal life span in a laboratory environment when vitamin E was added. These cells normally die in test tubes after reproducing themselves about 50 times. With the vitamin, they continued past 120 cell divisions and still appeared young.

"Quite frankly we don't really understand it very well," Packer said. "We have found these effects. The real significance remains to be explained."

A traditional view is that vitamin E functions chiefly to protect body cells against damage from chemicals known as oxidants. Oxygen from these chemicals can cause cell deterioration by entering molecules and changing their structure and behavior.

This led some scientists to speculate that vitamin E might protect people against air pollution.

Packer said it is possible such antioxidant activity might be involved in the extension of the cell division. He and Smith plan to continue their search for an explanation in studies supported partly by the National Institutes of Health, the Veterans Administration and the University of California.

Dr. John G. Bieri, a nutrition specialist at the National Institute of Arthritis, Metabolism and Digestive Diseases, said the Packer-Smith report was interesting, "but it's too early to tell what it means."

Vitamin E was discovered in 1923 and 14 years later was isolated as a light yellow viscous oil from wheat germ oil. It is fat soluble like vitamins A, D and K and is widespread in nature.

Two-thirds of the vitamin E in an American diet comes from salad oils, shortening and margarine, and the rest from fruits, vegetables and grains.

Although scientists disagree on how much vitamin E humans need, the National Research Council committee said most people get enough in their normal diets.

"Self-medication with vitamin E in the hope that a more or less serious condition will be alleviated may indeed be hazardous, especially when appropriate diagnosis and treatment may thereby be delayed or avoided," the panel warned.

The only known vitamin E deficiency in humans sometimes occurs in premature babies because of a limited transfer of the vitamin from the mother's blood before birth.

Vitamin E is considered vital for human health, but its function is still not understood.

One possible role was suggested in 1971 by Dr. P. P. Nair, director of biochemistry research at Sinai Hospital in Baltimore. He and his associates suggested the vitamin was important in the formation of an iron molecule in hemoglobin.

Inca capital ideal junket

By STEPHEN MORROW

LIMA (UPI) — More than a quarter million tourists will visit Peru this year to see the remnants of the vanished civilizations of the Inca empire and its Spanish conquerors.

The tourists see Cuzco, capital of the Incas and of the first generation of Spanish conquistadores before they moved their headquarters to the coastal city of Lima. It affords a rich view of these remarkable peoples, especially if the visit includes a side trip to Macchu Picchu, an Inca city isolated on a narrow ridge between mountain peaks, looking down on a lush river valley 2,000 feet below.

When the Spaniards arrived in western South America in the 1520s, Cuzco, 11,100 feet in altitude, was capital of an empire that stretched 3,000 miles along the Andes mountains from present day Colombia to the middle of Chile.

The King, or Inca, ruled as a god on earth. Agriculture thrived on terraces built onto steep slopes watered by complicated irrigation schemes. The Incas organized complex transportation systems without ever discovering the wheel, kept elaborate records without a written language, built great palaces and temples without the arch.

Francisco Pizarro and his small band of Spanish knights conquered this empire of at least 10 million. The Spaniards greedily sacked the Inca cities of their treasure, but they never discovered Macchu Picchu. Three and a half centuries later, the American explorer Hiram Bingham stumbled across the city 67 miles from Cuzco near where the Amazon jungles begin.

Trains, which take three-and-a-half hours to descend 4,000 feet, now carry more than 100,000 travelers to Macchu Picchu every year. From the train station at the foot of the mountain, buses wind up a roofless stone houses, stairways and temples, once home to at least 1,000 Indians. Archaeologists for 50 years have debated whether Macchu Picchu was the last independent Inca capital, a border fortress, a shrine or a farming colony.

On either side of the city the mountain plunges downward 2,000 feet to the Urubamba river.

Beyond the small hotel stretch a maze of terraces, steep slope to the hotel beside the ruins.

Buster Brown dishes now valuable items

By DOROTHY HAMMOND

Q: Seventy years ago my grandparents gave me a Buster Brown tea set. We treasured the set so much that I can only remember using the dishes on two occasions during my childhood. It consists of six cups and sacuers, six sandwich plates, plus the teapot, sugar and creamer. Each piece is decorated with Buster Brown and Sister Sue with his dog Tige. Could you have us a figure on the value of this set? W. McK.

A: The collecting of children's dishes has long been a popular field, and those sets decorated with Buster Brown and his dog Tige are of special interest. Complete sets like you have are rarely found. Its value is in the $250-$300 price range.

Q: Would you have some idea what a wind-up Victrola might be worth? Mine is a large wooden oak console type with 15-inch-high legs. In all, it is 35 inches high, 3 feet long, and 22 inches deep. The center top raises up to expose the turntable, and there are four doors on the front. The two center doors are the speaker, and the two side doors are for storing records. This victrola must be cranked to wind the spring which turns the turntable. This machine was made by the Victor Talking Machine Company of Candon, New Jersey. It is in perfect working condition, and so are most of the records. Mrs. M.B.

A: Victrolas in good workable condition are currently being priced for about $150.

Q: I have in my possession a matched pair of unusual cast iron candle holders. Their bell-sheped stand is filled with lead to weight them. From the center of the bell handle there is a horizontal arm shaped like a serpert with outstretched wings. Then, next to it is the candle holder with a small decorated drip plate attached directly below. The width of these candlesticks is eight inches, and the height, just under five inches. Thank you for anything you can tell me about these pieces, including their value. Mrs. A.L.

A: Your crnate cast iron candle holders probably date from the late 1800s and their value is about $18 each, if perfect.

Vans teach child tidiness

By STEVE ELLINGSON

A natural combination! Give a tot a truck for his toys and neatness soon becomes a game. All children delight in loading their very own van with playthings and other personal possessions. Once loaded, these movable storage bins can be backed into their garage and the whole mess is parked neatly out of sight. There's probably no better way of teaching children how to clean up their rooms.

These simulated trucks in their double garage are more than just toy boxes . . . they're also great toys in themselves. The top surface of the 'garage' makes a great play table.

The movable toy storage plan is easy to follow. A cutting diagram shows how to get the most out of the plywood. A list of parts and their exact sizes is included, together with detailed drawings. Any amateur woodworker will find this project a quick-and-easy undertaking, for very little cost.

To obtain the Movable Toy Storage Plan No. 546, simply send $1.25 (includes postage and handling). If airmail is desired, send $1.50 by cash, check or money order to: Steve Ellingson, Pomona Progress-Bulletin Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys CA 91409.

Bicycling tips . . .

By JOHN W. TERVEER

Q. I want to know what the lightest sew-up tire is? Also is it a good tire? —F. T. Pomona.

A. The lightest sew-up tire made would be in the area of 6 to 8 ounces. There are a few companies make tires of this weight, for all purposes. Of those tires the Clement Campionato Del Mondo Seta is the best. Seta means it is a silk tire. Silk tires are lighter and faster than cotton tires, but naturally they cost $10 to $15 more.

Q. Is it possible to get a speeding ticket on a bike? — N. R. Pomona

A. Yes! As a matter of fact I know a few instances where my friends received citations for pedaling 10-20 miles over the speed limit. Your bike is a vehicle, the same as a car when it comes to rules and regulations.

(John Terveer welcomes questions from readers. While he cannot reply to them individually, he will answer those of general interest in his column. Write to Cycling, c-o Newsroom, Progress-Bulletin, P.O. Box 2708, Pomona, Ca. 91766.)

New Process 'Copies Fragrances'

Public Offered Most Expensive French Perfumes At 1/3 the Cost

BEVERLY HILLS (Special) —An exciting new laboratory process has been pertected to make "exact copies" of the world's most expensive French perfume fragrances and they are now available to the American public at one third their normal cost.

"Yes, we proudly admit it" stated JoAnn Harmon, head of SEDUIRE, a California-based firm. "After extensive labratory experimentation, our perfume experts have finally duplicated the exact romantic fragrances of the world's most sought-after perfumes and have put the price within the reach of everyone."

New Low Cost Process

Using modern techniques, the firm's chemists have been able to "re-create" the exact fragrances at a far less cost than the original. This big savings, plus NO high import taxes and direct-from-manufacturer-to-consumer selling, enables Seduire to offer these perfumes at such great savings.

Fully Guaranteed

SEDUIRE (pronounced sayd-your) confidently promises that nobody but you and your checkbook will know the difference between the original expensive scent and the copy. The claim is backed with a money-back guarantee.

Extranjeros ilegales son la minoria callada de U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Juan Guerrero, de 24 anos de edad, estaba esperando en la esquina de una calle centrica a las 7 de la manana por alguier que lo llevara a su empleo cuando vio a un hombre muy bien vestido que se aproximaba. Juan empezo a comer, dejando astras a su hermano mayor, Ignacio.

Despues de una carrera corta, Juan reprentinamente se detuvo. Minutos despues el fue uno de los 22 extranjeros ilegales arrestados en Washington durante ese dia ya sea para ser deportados o "salir voluntariamente" hacia su pais de origen.

"Estoy contento de que usted se haya detenido — No me sentia como para andar corriendo," dijo el hombre bien vestido, un investigador del Servicio de Emigracion y Naturalizacion de los Estados Unidos, quien hablo a Juan en espanol.

"Principie a correr," replico Juan, "pero entonces pense, so soy un criminal."

Tecnicamente, Juan Guerrero no es un criminal, pero el francamente admitio que no poseia la tarjeta verde necesaria para probar que el llego a los Estados Unidos legaimente como extranjero. Juan declaro que el salio de El Salvador el verano pasado, viajo a traves de Mejico sin papeles, y cruzo el Rio Bravo con otros diez hombres en dos barcas, evadiendo los patrulleros al cruzar la frontera.

Ignacio, de 27 anos de edad, no trato de escapar porque el si posee la tarjeta verde.

Leonard F. Chapman, el director del Servicio de Emigracion y Naturalizacion, dice que Juan Guerrero, no es su verdadero nombre, fue uno de entre 6 millones o 7 millones de extranjeros ilegales que se cree estan viviendo en los Estados Unidos, atraidos por el magnetismo de encontrar empleos muy bien pagados.

Durante los pasados cinco anos, investigadores del Servicio de Emigracion han hecho 2.7 millones de estos arrestos, pero Chapman cree que la "inundacion" de extranjeros ilegales no puede ser detenida sin la ayuda de una ley prohibiendo su empleo por los ciudadanos norteamericanos.

El Procurador General William B. Saxbe, esta de acuerdo, y esta tratanto con poco exito hasta hoy, de consequir que el Congreso apruebe dicha ley, que esta pendiente en el Senado.

"He dicho abiertamente que si llegamos a tener una ley asi, de todos modos por un tiempo seria imposible el comprar una comida en Washington," Saxbe dijo recientemente, refiriendose a la abundancia de extranjeros trabajando como meseros en restaurantes y lavaplatos.

Chapman declaro a un subcomite en la Legislatura que "estamos casi al borde de lo que podria ser una crisis nacional a menos de que se tomen medidas y muy pronto." El se quejo de que los extranjeros ilegales toman los empleos que necesitan los ciudadanos norteamericanos que estan desempleados, pagan poco o nada de impuestos, reciben asistencia, atienden escuelas y otros servicios publicos, y a menudo envian parte de su dinero a sus familiares en su pais.

Juan Guerrero, quien habia ganado $50 mensuales en El Salvador, declaro a un reportero despues de su arresto de que el estaba siendo pagado a $2.40 por hora en un club campestre de las afueras de Washington y que enviaba $50 a su familia cada mes.

Se cree que hay aproximadamente 36,000 extranjeros ilegales viviendo a escondidas en Washington. La ciudad de Nueva York se considera ser un puerto seguro para mas de un millon de ellos, y Chicago puede tener tantos como 500,000. La mayoria de los que se deslizan dentro del pais vienen de Latinoamerica y muchos de ellos no llegan mas lejos que a los estados del suroeste donde trabajan por muy poco dinero en los ranchos.

Los investigadores del Servicio de Emigracion recorren las calles de Washington muy temprano cada manana, arrestando Juanes Guerrero. Los 22 hombres arrestados ese dia significan el promedio de arrestos diarios aqui.

Como parte de la patrulla durante la manana cuando Juan fue arrestado, ocho investigadores del Servicio viajando en cuatro automoviles siguieron la pista dada por telefono y rodearon una casa amarilla de dos pisos en una vecindad de habitantes de habla hispana.

Pronto un hombre salio de la casa, y dos de los agentes se acercaron a el al dar la vuelta en una esquina. El y una mujer que lo seguia fueron detenidos como "mojados", palabra derivada del antiguo "espaldas mojadas", sobrenombre aplicado a trabajadores mexicanos del campo quienes cruzaban ilegalmente el Rio Bravo.

El subdirector del distrito James M. Hays se unio a los patrulleros aquella manana y aprehendio a una atractiva mujer de pelo negro, vestida en bellbottoms y blusa blanca.

Al principio ella dijo que era "legal" pero al final admitio que al vencerse su permiso de visitante, decidio quedarse en el pais. Ella era de Guatemala pero sus padres viven en Colombia.

Durante el recorrido hacia el cuartel general del Servicio de Emigracion la mujer, quien habia trabajado en Washington cuidando ninos, suplico en espanol por ser comprendida. "Nos estamos muriendo de hambre-que quieren ustedes que hagamos?"

En el caso de Juan, el puso una fianza de $500 esperando una audiencia en caso de su deportacion. Los que contestaron sus casos fueron enviados a prision a esperar su comparecencia ante el juez. Los "ilegales" de ese dia incluian personas de El Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico, Nigeria, Colombia y Ecuador.

En el mismo edificio de la corte, la Juez de Emigracion de los Estados Unidos, Beatrice G. Davis esta ocupada con los procesos de deportacion en una pequena sala de la corte. Entre sesiones, ella expreso su preocupacion sobre el problema de los "mojados."

La gente no realiza el impacto que esto produce en todo el pais," dijo ella. "A los patrones no les importa este pais. Esta gente, los "mojados" no tienen puesto en el pais."

Tanto como mostrar compasion por los extranjeros venidos a menos, el juez dijo que hay "gente allende los mares esperando venir legalmente-ellos merecen compasion."

El Rev. Sean O'Malley, director del Centro Catolico Espanol que ayuda a las personas de habla hispana a encontrar empleos y consultas legales, tiene un punto de vista diferente.

Durant una misa en Dia del Trabajo celebrada en el Santuario del Sagrado Corazon, el Padre O'Malley denuncio la "persecusion insidiosa" del gobierno hacia los extranjeros ilegales.

"Ellos contribuyen a la sociedad, trabajando en empleos que los norteamericanos prefieren no hacer-sirvientes, lavando platos, en agricultura," el dijo. "Los norteamericanos mas bien recibirian asistencia que tomar los empleos que estos inmigrantes tienen.

"Aun esta gente estan relegados a vivir en un temor constante, temerosos de ser admitidos en un hospital, o de enviar a sus ninos a la escuela. La unica sclucion que veo es cierta clase de amnestia que permitiria a la gente a llegar a ser residentes legales."

Contacts on rise

Dr. Harry Bollander of New York's Sight Improvement Center reports that he has received on the average of 25 per cent more calls weekly from people with questions about contact lenses since President Ford announced that he was being fitted for contact lenses.

Programa en su cuarto ano

El programa Volunteer Vital English (VVE) principio su cuarto ano en el valle con 150 maestros voluntarios y mas de 300 alumnos ansiosos de aprender el idioma ingles.

El programa principalmente esta designado para las personas nacidas en el extrajero, de cualquier edad, que quieren aprender a hablar o escribir ingles, y las clases se ofrecen en las casas de los alumnos, en su mayoria, de acuerdo con el coordinador del programa, Marquita Strang.

Una excepcion son las clases que han principiado en los salones de Open Door en La Verne a las 3 p.m. los lures.

La Sra. Strang explico que VVE ofrecera clases en casi todos los sitics donde el programa pueda alcanzar a estudiantes.

"No obstante de que el enfasis es en aprender ingles las relaciones entre maestros y alumnos llega a mas," ella dijo. "Ellos llegan a ser amigos. El alumno que no sabe las costumbres o modos norteamericanos, llega a depender en el o la maestra, de ese modo llegan a ser verdaderos amigos."

La mayoria de los maestros trabajan con uno o hasta con cuatro alumnos, y esto con frecuencia causa que falten maestros. La Sra. Strang dice que cuando menos hay 40 alumnos en la lista esperando recibir instrucciones.

Tan pronto como los alumnos se van matriculando los entrevistan los interpretes y tan pronto como hay maestros disponibles, ellos pueden principiar sus clases. La Sra. Strang afirma quedurante los cuatro anos que tiene el programa, no ha habido ningun incidente con los estudiantes.

Para ampliar el trabajo de la organizacion, el VVE planea tener dos sesiones de orientacion este verano donde el programa se explicara a los futuros nuevos maestros. Una sesion se llevara a efecto a las 9 a.m., el dia 12 de este mes en la Biblioteca Publica de San Dimas, y a las 7 p.m., el dia 6 de noviembre en el edificio de la YMCA en Ontario.

Mexico firma un acuerdo para investigacion

MEXICO, D. F. — Los gobiernos de Mexicoy Alemania occidental han firmado un acuerdo para llevar a cabo investigaciones marinas y pesqueras a lo largo de la costa del Pacifico.

La investigacion se llevara a cabo no solamente en las 12 millas de las aguas territoriales de Mexico pero tambien a lo largo de una extensa area de la plataforma continental.

El gobierno de Alemania occidental dijo que dos embarcaciones de investigacion saldran de Habugo con destino a la costa del Pacifico. Principiando en octubre ellos pasaran nueve meses en investigaciones pesqueras y otros nueve meses en investigacion maritima en general.

El estudio pondra enfasis especialmente en estudiar el periodo de vida y los movimientos migratorios de las especies marinas queactualmente no estan explotadss comercialmente por los pescadores mexicanos.

El programa de llevara a cabo con una inversion de 10 millones de dolares (120 millones de pesos). El acuardo tambien provee por la posibilidad de inversiones en union de Alemania Occidental con capital mexicano en su mayor parte si los resultados del estudio indicarian suficientes recursos marinos listos para explotarse.

Train robbery marker stolen

ADAIR, Iowa (UPI) — A bronze plaque reading, "Site of the first train robbery in the West, committed by the notorious Jesse James and his gang of outlaws July 21, 1873," has been stolen.

The plaque, which was attached to a large locomotive wheel, marked the spot of the famous robbery on the Rock Island Railroad 1½ miles west of here. Research indicated it was the world's first robbery of a moving train.

Skin cancer cause?

Aerosol sprays cited as destroyer of ozone

WASHINGTON (UPI) Responding to concern raised by several researchers, the National Academy of Sciences has named a committee to look into the possibility that gases from aerosol cans and leaking refrigeration units might damage the earth's ozone radiation shield.

Some scientists fear these aerosol propellants and other gases called fluorocarbons will break down the ozone layer in the upper atmosphere so much that increased ultraviolet radiation from the sun will cause widespread skin cancer.

An academy spokesman said Monday the five-member panel will meet Oct. 26 to determine if the matter is serious enough to warrant a full-scale investigation by the National Research Council. A kesman said.

"The nature of the problem rapidly as possible," the spotaken it needs to be taken as is such that if action is to be decision is expected several weeks later.

F. S. Rowland, the University of California at Irvine chemist who raised the issue last month, said millions of pounds of these gases are escaping into the atmosphere annually from aerosol products such as deodorants, insecticides and hair sprays and from leaking refrigeration units.

The gases, the most common of which is known commercially as Freon, are harmless to man. But Rowland said the gas molecules will raise into the stratosphere where sunlight will break them down into chlorine atoms and other components. He said one chlorine atom is able to destroy hundreds or thousands of ozone moecules.

Ozone is a form of oxygen most abundant about 15 miles high. It is an effective screen for most of the sun's ultraviolet radiation and Rowland and other researchers said the aerosol propellants might destroy a significant portion of it, letting more radiation strike earth and its peoples.

Manufacturers of the gases announced last week that several industry supported scientists will look into the matter.

TODAY'S

Women

Couples exchange marriage vows

Foster-Smith

Bridges Hall of Music in Claremont was the setting for the marriage of Miss Catherine Ann Smith and David Joseph Foster.

Dr. Ray Fowler performed the evening double-ring service.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Smith of Cucamonga was given in marriage by her father. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Foster of Pomona.

The bride's empire satin gown was accented with chantilly lace. The train was overlayed in chiffon. Matching lace trimmed the veil of silk illusion. She carried a nosegay of apricot roses and white carnations.

The maid of honor was a sister, Jeannie Smith, while another sister of the bride, Julie Smith, and the groom's sister, Celeste Foster, were bridesmaids. Mrs. Scott Williams handled the guest book.

Attending the groom were his three brothers, Paul, who was best man, and Stephen and Michael Foster, ushers.

A reception at Oldenborg Center, Pomona College, honored the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster will reside in Claremont. They honeymooned in Monterey and Carmel.

McKee-Mackey

Miss Deena Lynne Mackey and David Kevin McKee were united in marriage in an evening ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Warren Nybeck performed the double-ring rites which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mackey of Montclair and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee of St. Louis, Mo.

The bride wore a gown of point de gaze lace fashioned with long fitted sleeves, a sheer yoke etched in lace and a princess-styled skirt which ended in a hem of pleated organza with lace roses.

She carried a Bible and a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and yellow baby's breath.

Mrs. Shauna Wilkins was matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Barbara McKee, Miss Darla Houska, Miss Sue Landon, Miss Toni McKee and Miss Brenda Hartwig.

The groom's brother, Stephen McKee, was best man. Ushers were Danny McKee, Larry Mackey, Brian Campbell, Richard Wilkins and Gary Jones.

A reception at the Ebell Clubhouse honored the newlyweds who will reside in Upland after a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe and Reno.

Wylde-Allen

A double-ring ceremony at the Chapel of the Wildwood in Upland united in marriage Miss Carol Lynn Allen of Montclair and Daniel William Wylde.

Miss Allen, who is the daughter of Ralph Allen of Hemet and Mrs. Mary Allen of Bloomington, was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a long white gown with lace sleeves and bodice and a long lace train. She carried a cascade arrangement of blue and white daisy mums with baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Betty Sigur. Flower girl was Sherry Allen.

John Eberle served as best man for the groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wylde of Hacienda Heights. Robert Allen served as ring bearer.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Chapel of the Bells in Ontario. The couple will reside in Montclair.

Helberg-Stevens

Miss Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Stevens of Chino, wore an A-line gown of nylon organza and lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and lace and pearl appliques around the skirt and train. She wore a three-tier illusion veil and carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations and baby's breath.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Maid of honor was Linda Stevens, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids included Susan and Wendy Stevens, sisters of the bride, Renee Giles and Bernice Corcoran. Dana Disney was the flower girl. Valerie Disney and Michelle Pixley served as candlelighters.

Jerry Dimbo served as best man for the groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Helberg of Morro Bay. Ushers included Mike Payne, Jay Corcoran, Arthur Helberg, Mike Helberg and Ed Perry. Ring bearer was Joseph Jaramillo.

After a reception, held at the church, the couple left for a honeymoon in Carmel and Monterey. They will reside in Ontario upon their return.

Sauer-Berg

St. Paul's United Methodist Church in San Bernardino was the setting for the marriage of Miss Donna Claire Berg of San Gabriel and Stuart Owen Sauer of San Bernardino.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Berg, former San Dimas residents, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sauer of Portola.

The Rev. Franklin Greene performed the evening rites.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown trimmed in lace and pearls. The long train was appliqued with lace and petals. Her floor-length veil fell from a Juliet cap. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies, white rose buds and an orchid with a white Bible.

Miss Bette Bradstreet was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Nancy Cline, Miss Cheryl Magiera, Miss Jody Sauer and Miss Holly Sauer, sisters of the groom.

Brian Smith was ring bearer. Flower girls were Robyn Berg and Jennifer Wallace.

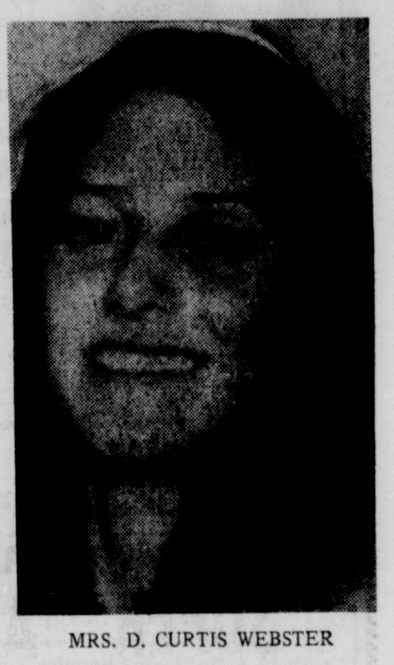
Jack Ginkins was best man. Ushers were Thomas E. Berg, brother of the bride, Danny Boyd, Gregg Telliard and George Scott.

Three hundred guests attended a reception at the Edgehill Club in San Bernardino.

Mr. and Mrs. Sauer will reside in San Bernardino.

MRS. LARRY C. BUCKELEW

MRS. ALAN REDDERSON



MRS. D. CURTIS WEBSTER

Weinberg-Shelton

A double-ring candlelight ceremony at the Foursquare Church of Pomona united in marriage Miss Linda Shelton and David Weinberg.

Miss Shelton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyde Shelton of Pomona. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Karasten of Pomona.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an empire gown made of organza and chantilly lace and fashioned with a ruffled scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves. The gown was trimmed with pearls and lace to match the three tier fingertip veil.

Mrs. Deborra Scheller was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Kathy Balint, Miss Linda Massie, Mrs. Janice Browne and Miss Zelda Low. Flower girl was Jennifer Balint. Miss Cheryl Singleton attended the guest book.

Daniel Scheller served as best man. Ushers included Lynn Singleton, Mike Mulder, Daniel Buchner and Daniel Shelton. Travis Singleton was the ring bearer and Donald Shelton and Steven Karsten served as candlelighters.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church. Since returning from a honeymoon at Catalina Island, the couple has established a home in Upland.

Buckelew-Clark

Miss Sally Jean Clark became the bride of Larry Curtis Buckelew during an afternoon double-ring ceremony at Trinity United Methodist Church in Pomona. The Rev. Roy Buckelew officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Clark, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark of Pomona, was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a white silk miramist gown, adorned with an ice pink bodice, eyelet lace, pink satin ribbon and long camelot sleeves. Her waist-length veil was of silk illusion and was edged with a band of fresh flowers.

Maid of honor was Lory Burhus of Newport Beach. Patricia Schultz, sister of the bride, served as the attendant. Flower girl was Stacey Schultz, niece of the bride.

Glen Schaeffer of Pomona served as best man for the groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Buckelew of Altadena. Jim Schultz served as an usher and Jimmie Schultz, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Both the bride and the groom are seniors at the University of California at Berkeley.

Redderson-Reed

A late afternoon ceremony at the Chapel of the Bells in Ontario united in marriage Miss Linda Maureen Reed and Alan Redderson. The Rev. Lee Kirk officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, who is the daughter of Robert Reed of Montclair, was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a nylon organza gown fashioned with a high neckline, lace yoke and bishop sleeves. Her mantilla headpiece, with a matching cathedral length train and veil, was edged in lace.

She carried a bouquet of white roses with blue baby's breath.

Vicki Frazer was the maid of honor. Debi Redderson and Kim Quinn served as attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Royal served as guest book attendants.

Craig Emmons was best man for the groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Redderson of Montclair. Bob Redderson and Bob Morris were ushers.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the chapel. Following a honeymoon at Yosemite and Lake Tahoe, the couple will reside in Montclair.

Webster-Hagele

Sheri Dawn Hagele was given in marriage by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Hagele of La Verne, when she exchanged wedding vows with D. Curtis Webster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Webster of San Dimas.

The Rev. J. Thomas Taylor performed the double-ring rites in the United Methodist Church of La Verne., For her marriage, the bride chose a traditional gown of layers of Rochelle lace fashioned with a sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves. A crown of matching lace held the bride's bouffant veil of silk illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of Talisman roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

Elizabeth Daniels was honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Miss Kim Myers and Mrs. Jane Parker.

James Overin was best man. Ushers were David Waterhouse and David Quay.

A reception at Diamond Bar Country Club honored the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster are making their home in Pomona after a honeymoon in San Diego.

Inferiority engulfs youth today

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — An epidemic of inferiority engulfs many of America's children.

Like the talkative engine in the child's story, "The Little Engine That Could," they need to say to themselves:

"I think I can, I think I can." And like the Little Engine, when they accomplish, they need to say—"I knew I could."

For many children this never will happen. Already their egos are too bruised by parents, teachers and other adults. They have been emotionally abandoned —many at the pint-sized stage of life.

Result: child's self esteem sinks and stays low. Later in adulthood, there is even lower esteem, human full of emotional and mental wreckage.

Dr. James Dobson, who made those points during an interview, is assistant professor of pediatrics at the University of California in Los Angeles. He is very worried about America's children and wonders:

"Do we hate our children?"

"Without high self-esteem," he said, "every child is a potential Lee Harvey Oswald, a Sirhan Sirhan whose massive sense of inadequacy, resentment and bitterness threatens daily to explode into violence.

"Without high self-esteem every child faces an empty future of rejection, isolation, and perhaps eventual withdrawal into mental illness."

What is particularly damaging to the nation's children, as Dr. Dobson sees it:

"A movement in society for adults to get their fulfillment . . . even if it means slighting the kids, emotionally abandoning them."

Moms and Dads who do this may take the kids with them for tennis, vacation, exercise or even cocktails.

But they take, too, a "mother's helper" brought along. She sees that the kids don't distract parents in their pursuit of fulfillment.

Some parents abandon their children by giving them everything—including a personal television and a personal phone, both installed in child's room.

Such children are under the same roof with Mom and Dad. But they, too, are among the emotionally abandoned.

Dr. Dobson was in New York in connection with the publication of his new book, "Hide or Seek" (Revell). His first book, a bestseller, was "Dare to Discipline." In that, he urged parents to stop being too permissive.

On sounding an alarm about the national trend to alienating children, Dr. Dobson does not stand alone. Many authorities have been on the same track and that includes perhaps the nation's number one authority on the family — Dr. Urie Bronfenbrenner.

He is professor of human development and family studies and of psychology at Cornell University in Ithaca, N.Y.

In "The Origins of Alienation" —in Scientific American— Dr. Bronfenbrenner made this point:

The estrangement between young persons and adults in the United States is currently higher than it has been in other times.

To help relieve the alienation he suggested that shops and businesses be located where children can have contact with adults at work, recreational and daycare facilities readily accessible to parents as well as children ... and places where children and adults could walk, sit and talk together.

"It may be fitting to propose . . . nothing more radical than providing a setting in which young and old can simply sit and talk," Dr. Bronfenbrenner reported.

"The evil and the cure lie not in the victims of alienation but in the social institutions that produce alienation and in their failure to be responsive to the most human needs and values of a democratic society."

To parents and teachers, Dr. Dobson would say — Look out and speak up.

"Somebody has to," he said. "We have come from a very child-oriented society to the opposite extreme, where children are in our way.

"True, children require an enormous investment of human energy but there is no other way —if America loves its kids."

Other side of counter

Salespeople respond with views

NEW YORK (UPI) — Let's hear it from the other side of the sales counter.

Clerks in department and specialty stores have their complaints too. The customer apparently isn't always right. I gather this from the mail received after this column chided salespeople who knot in corners to talk while a shopper waits, who disappear into a stock room and don't emerge, whose writing on sales slips is illegible except for the amount of purchase.

The annoyed readers countercharge that some customers are simply more than human patience can bear.

They write of the "just looking" type, obviously not really a buyer, but using up a saleswoman's time just the same.

They chide the customer who insists on trying on practically everything in sight, or tries to.

Then there is the in-a-hurry shopper who on lunch hour or coffee break decides, for example that she wants a dozen pairs of stockings or other necessities, the clerk finds only half a dozen in stock, asks to be excused to check the stockroom, returns to find the customer gone. "It does take a little time to walk to and from the stockroom," wrote one annoyed clerk.

Lack of courtesy on the part of customers in another gripe. Clerk says, "May I help you?" and gets for reply a look of disdain or in some instances the observation, "I'd rather have a man help me."

Clerks after a while recognize the repeat customer who's rude, nagging and overbearing —and they learn to shy away from the "pain in the neck."

As for my challenge of handwriting on sales slips, salespeople answer that they don't have time to show they were perfect in school penmanship. But as for the figures being clear, said one, "I don't want our computer to chew me out."

There's the complaint about the late shoppers. They duck in just before a store closes, start trying on, and are there 20 minutes past closing time while the poor clerk who's tired and has aching feet misses her regular bus and as a result will have little time with her family that evening.

With the Christmas holiday shopping season coming on, the salespeople are forewarning. As one said, "You can get so rushed there is no time to eat or anything. As for the Christmas spirit, it's practically non-existent in the majority of shoppers towards the clerks.

"Shoppers are worse (at Christmas) than at any other time of the year."

Attention, brides

The Progress-Bulletin Women's Department looks forward to printing the stories of your engagement and wedding.

Please pick up engagement and wedding forms at the newspaper office and return them with the picture you wish used.

Engagement forms are not accepted if they are received less than six weeks before the wedding, and wedding forms should be returned within two weeks after the wedding with a black and white picture of the bride only.

Snapshots, polaroid and color pictures are not acceptable for wedding pictures, although most color photos will be accepted for engagement announcements.

Check plugs

Check the plugs on home appliances regularly to make sure the wires are in good condition. If insulation is torn or missing, have the cords repaired immediately for safety's sake.

Long-Rosenau rites read at St. Paul's

St. Paul's Episcopal Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Marcia Carol Rosenau and David Wayne Long.

The double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Alan Rosenau, vicar of St. Michael's Church, Arkadelphia, Ark., brother of the bride.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Rosenau of La Verne and Carl H. Rosenau of El Cajon, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of ivory voile fashioned with long sleeves ending in hand embroidered cuffs. The bodice was also embroidered. A headpiece of lily of the valley and tulle petals caught her three-tiered veil of ivory tulle. She carried an arrangement of white roses and heather and caspia.

Mrs. Herbie Robinson was matron of honor and Miss Melba Perry was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Conley and Miss Nancy Long.

The bridegroom, son of Daniel M. Long and Mrs. Miriam Hanawalt Long of La Verne, chose Chuck Robinson as best man. Ushers were Carl Duane Rosenau, Hurlyn Rosenau and Darin Lyle.

A reception at La Verne Terrace Hall followed the wedding. The couple will be at home in San Diego after a honeymoon at Cardiff-by-the-Sea.

Anniversary luncheon plans told

Chino General Hospital Auxiliary will mark its second anniversary at an awards luncheon to be held Saturday at 12:30 p.m. at Los Serranos Country Club.

Officers will be installed during the afternoon and awards will be given for the hours of work given to the hospital.

Judge Ben Burrell and Dean Garrison will be the speakers. Mr. Garrison is the new hospital administrator. Mrs. Burrell and Mrs. Garrison will be guests.

The luncheon is open to guests. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Rose Kramer, director of volunteers, 627-6111.

Local club will open 82nd year

For the first meeting of its 82nd year, the Pomona Woman's Club will meet at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Rozella Herman, 430 W. Orange Grove Ave.

Members will respond to roll call with the motto of their home state and the description of state flags.

Mrs. Harriet Harrison will discuss "The Avenue of Flags," one phase of Pomona's participation in the bicentennial. Other features of the bicentennial will be presented in November by Mrs. Alta Visnac.

The December program will be highlighted by Christmas music presented by students of Mrs. Lucy Nordyke and January will feature slides of a Canadian trip by Mrs. Edith Dean.

A book review is scheduled in February and the March Guest Day will offer a European travelog by Mrs. Esther Cox. A program on Quilling by Mrs. Stella Weigle is slated for April and a trip will be planned in May.

The club will conclude its year in June with the annual picnic and installation of officers.

Secretary to discuss procedures

The speaker at the Thursday meeting of the Arcadia Unit of the Professional Secretaries Association will be Miss Helen Burrus, secretary to Dr. Milton S. Plesset, professor of engineering sciences, Cal Tech.

Miss Burrus will present, "Bits and Pieces," a discussion of various office problems and procedures.

The meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. at Michael's Restaurant, 301 E. Alosta Ave., Glendora.

Secretaries interested in learning more about the group are invited to the open meeting. For information or reservations, call Theresa Buechel, 629-5111, extension 8375.

Lutheran rally charted

The Lutheran Women's Missonary League, Zone 16, has scheduled its fall rally Wednesday at the Trinity Lutheran Church, 5080 E. Kingsley St., Montclair.

One hundred women, representing eight churches, will attend the rally which begins at 9 a.m.

Speaker will be the Rev. James Poerschke, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church in Whittier and district counselor for the Inspirational Department of the Missouri Synod Lutheran Church. Other participants in the program include the Rev. Maynard Saeger of Trinity Lutheran Church, Mrs. David Henslin, zone president; and Mrs. Betty Northwick, Southern California District second vice president.

Officers will be elected and installed at the business session in the afternoon. Luncheon will be served by members of the host church. The public is invited to attend the rally.

Day in Court charted locally by secretaries

President Gerald R. Ford has officially proclaimed National Legal Secretaries Court Observance Week beginning Sunday.

The national association has sponsored "Day in Court" programs since 1965 to allow legal secretaries, students and paraprofessionals as well as the public an opportunity to visit local courts, observe trials in progress and obtain firsthand knowledge of the functions of various departments connected with legal judicial systems.

The Pomona Valley-Citrus Legal Secretaries Association has scheduled its court observance activities for next Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. at the Pomona Superior Court, 400 Civic Center Plaza, Pomona.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served from 8:30 until 10:45 a.m. by members of the Pomona Valley-Citrus Legal Secretaries Association.

At 10:45 a.m., Judge Paul Egly will welcome everyone in attendance in Department A.

A no-host luncheon will follow at 11:30 a.m. at the Barrister Restaurant, 500 W. Mission Boulevard, Pomona.

Church bazaar planned

An old-fashioned country store bazaar is planned Saturday from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. at 3205 D St., La Verne.

Members of the United Methodist Women of La Verne Methodist Church have spent many hours during the year making the items to be offered.

There will be a snack bar, homemade baked goods, jams and jellies, aprons, stuffed animals, garden items and plants, quilts, cards and stationery and an assortment of Christmas decorations and gift items.

A stew dinner will be served from 5 to 7 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Bitner is bazaar chairman and Mrs. Price Glasgow is in charge of the dinner. The event is open to the public.

Counter chairmen are: Mmes. Neal Mouser, Harvey Case, Floyd Slagle, Glen Hall, James Bowen, Jack Flood, Tom Taylor and Miss Hazel Snoke.

Former congressman to address Hadassah

Jerry Voorhis, a former congressman, will discuss the current political scene at the Thursday meeting of Sharon Chapter of Hadassah.

The 7 p.m. meeting will be at Imperial Savings and Loan Association, 400 N. Indian Hill Blvd., Claremont.

Mr. Voorhis opened the first home for orphan boys for the Episcopal Church in Wyoming and, from 1928 to 1938, he conducted the Voorhis School for Boys in San Dimas. His master's degree in education was obtained from Claremont College and he has taught American History at Pomona College.

A Democrat, Mr. Voorhis served five terms in the House of Representatives. He served as executive director and president of the Cooperative League of the USA until his retirement in 1967.

Mr. Voorhis is the author of seven books, the most recent being "The Strange Case of Richard Milhous Nixon" published in 1972.

Husbands of members and guests are welcome to the meeting.

Presbyterian association sets program

"Authentic Christian Living" will be the program topic for the Tuesday meeting of the Claremont Presbyterian Church Women's Association.

The speaker is Dr. James W. Angell, pastor of the church and chairman of the Presbyterian General Assembly's Committee on Christian Living. He is the author of several books, the latest being released this month titled "Yes Is a World."

Luncheon will be served by Circle 4, with Mrs. Milo Lacy as chairman. The meditation at 11:30 a.m. will be led by Mrs. John Roth and Mrs. William Bentley.

TOPS Club recognizes 10 members

TOPS CA 519 meets each Wednesday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the Montclair United Methodist Church, 9950 Fremont, Montclair.

Awards were presented to members for their weight loss achievements during the past months at a recent meeting. Honored were Jean Aller, Mary Barge, Vena Cook, Peggy Callan, Louise Callahan, Lil Purdy, June Vestal, Jeannie Weddle, Becky Jacobs and Barnara O'Hara.

Cal Poly women plan event

Cal Poly Women's Club has planned a coffee social Oct. 22 as a means of getting reacquainted in an informal atmosphere.

The event is scheduled at 10 a.m. at the Manor House on the Cal Poly Pomona campus and will replace the fall tea.

Newcomers, as well as women staff members, wives of staff members, faculty women and faculty wives are invited to be present.

Mrs. Robert Kramer will welcome the guests. She will be assisted by Mrs. Raymond Morales, hospitality chairman, and Mrs. Allen Van Winkle, chairman of the Newcomers Division, who is also chairman for the coffee.

The activity groups will be represented by their respective chairmen who will acquaint members with the programs planned for the coming year.

The Cal Poly Women's Club's primary interest is in presenting scholarships to deserving students, as well as making available programs and interest groups to all members.

Newcomers may make arrangements to be escorted to the event by calling Mrs. Keith Weeks, 599-3380.

What's Going on at Griswold's

How to employ young people without overstepping the fancy rules that are handed down from Sacramento and from Washington? We're urged to give the nation's youth jobs—but you sure gotta watch your step about seeing that they don't work more than the time specified on their work permit, or that they don't work between 10:30 p.m. and 5 a.m. in the morning, or that they punch out after 8 hours even when you've got a jammed dining room and the kid wants to work extra.

When a gal gets excited about running a shop—you've got a fun person to deal with. We've got three of them in Griswold's. BRENDA GREY in the Claremont Smorgasbord gifts has built a following of steady customers for Hummel figures, Danish Christmas plates, and jewelry. MAXINE STEWART in Decor 8 is a real fan of MARIMEKKO — the smartly designed fabric from Finland that is both useful and decorative. TERRY JEFFERSON is ecstatic about all the beautiful NORITAKE stoneware which she has selected. She has a tremendous assortment of cooking gadgets and cookware in COOK'S NOOK upstairs in GOSH.

We made a wedding cake for a customer that was a ¼ sheet cake bearing two hearts, one of which bore the word "Heaven" and the other "Happy Wedding." This was for a young Indian man who was returning to India to marry. His family has selected 12 girls, and he will interview each girl for one hour — and after a bit of deliberation — will select the one for his bride . . . yes! Something's always going on at Griswold's.

See You At Griswold's

First game of Series goes to Oakland

A's do little things right in 3-2 win

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES — The Oakland A's don't exactly overpower anybody. Their hitting statistics won't impress anybody, but the defending World Champions know when to get their hits.

Oakland took the first game in the 1974 World Series away from the Los Angeles Dodgers, 3-2, before 55,974 customers — the most ever at Dodger Stadium — here Saturday afternoon by doing the little things.

It was just like the American League playoffs when the A's, who are bidding for their third consecutive World Championship, won the pennant by beating Baltimore, 2-1, despite getting only one hit.

The opportunist A's used clutch pitching, a beautifully executed suicide squeeze play and Reggie Jackson's power to record the victory. The Dodgers, who banged out 11 hits to Oakland's six, wasted their chances in leaving 11 runnners stranded.

Los Angeles needs a win this afternoon in the second game to even it up before action resumes Tuesday evening at the Oakland Coliseum.

A's manager Alvin Dark, who used his top starter, Jim "Catfish" Hunter to record the final out, will use lefthander Vida Blue in today's 1:30 p.m. contest here while the Dodgers will counter with their ace, Don Sutton.

That means Hunter will face lefthander Al Downing in Tuesday's third game.

The big play of Saturday's game came in the fifth inning when Oakland shortstop Campy Campaneris put down a perfect squeeze bunt on Andy Messersmith's 2-2 pitch to score Ken Holtzman for the A's second run.

Jackson supplied the power when he ripped a Messersmith pitch into the leftfield pavilion to open the second inning for the first run of game.

Oakland's third run came across in the eighth inning when Dodger third baseman Ron Cey committed a throwing error to allow Campaneris to score.

The 'Cucamonga Kid' was getting tired

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES — The Dodgers have a record-setting relief pitcher in Mike Marshall but the Oakland Athletics

KTTV (Ch. 11), 1:30 p.m.
KNBC (Ch. 4), 1:30 p.m.

have Rollie Fingers and like it that way.

Fingers, called the "Cucamonga Kid" in Oakland, handcuffed the Dodgers for 4 and 1-3rd innings in a sterling relief appearance before tiring and giving up a home run to Jimmy Wynn and single to Steve Garvey with two out in the ninth inning.

"I was tired and getting the ball up," admitted the Upland High grad. "Wynn hit a bad breaking ball that just hung there. I'd say I threw about 90 per cent fastballs and not many breaking pitches in the game. I'd thrown about five straight fastballs and decided to try a breaking pitch."

When Garvey followed with a single, manager Alvin Dark called in Catfish Hunter, his 25-game winner, to strike out Joe Ferguson for the final out.

The victory evened Finger's World Series record at 2-2. He allowed just two singles, walked one and struck out three before giving up the homer and single with two out in the ninth.

This is only the third time this year I've gone more than three or four innings," the former American Legion star related. "I felt great for three innings, but I was getting sloppy and trying to aim the ball in the ninth. When I try to aim the ball, I get in trouble."

In the crowded post-game interview room, the inevitable question about Friday's fight with Blue Moon Odom came up.

"It's just one of those things," shrugged Fingers. "A lot of the guys have been together a long time and it's only natural to have some differences once in a while. But with us when you get in a shouting match it always seems to get in the papers."

(Please turn to Page 23, Col. 3)

MR. UMP SEZ— 'YER OUT SAL!'

Oakland A's third baseman Sal Bando looks back at Dodger catcher Steve Yeager as Yeager, still rolling after being knocked over at home plate, holds up ball to show he still has it. Ump Tom Gorman makes the call in background. This 8th inning World Series action was set up when the A's Reggie Jackson lofted a fly to L.A.'s Joe Ferguson in center, who made a strong throw to nail Bando.

Battle of Polys ends up a draw

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

They say ties are like kissing your sister.

When two Cal Polys play to a deadlock, that saying is especially true.

Neither team was too happy about Saturday night's 14-14 tie at Cal Poly Pomona's Kellogg Field before 8,500 fans, easily the largest crowd to ever attend a sports event on the Pomona campus.

But the tie definitely hurts Cal Poly San Luis Obispo more than Pomona. SLO was practically knocked out of a chance to win its seventh consecutive California Collegiate Athletic Association crown while Pomona is still in the running for its first football title.

The visiting Mustangs are 0-1-1 in CCAA play with only two games left while Pomona is 0-0-1 with two big games next weeks against Cal State Los Angeles and UC Riverside.

"I can't say I'm real happy with the tie but I would much rather have a tie than lose for the seventh consecutive time to them," commented Dr. Robert Kramer, the president of the Pomona campus. "I must add we're very happy with the crowd. I've never seen anything like this here before."

Pomona coach Andy Vinci, who promised a victory over the archrivals, said, "We didn't prove anything tonight but we gave the fans a great game. We played a hell of a defensive game but our offense suffers when (Jim) Zorn has a bad night. He had some great moments but a bad game."

Joe Harper, the man who built SLO into a football powerhouse, was obviously down. "We're very disappointed. We just didn't play well enough to win."

The key play in the game came with 1:35 left on the scoreboard when a SLO first down on the Bronco 13 was nullified by a clipping penalty. Instead of having a first down after quarterback Rich Robbins ran two yards, the Mustangs had a fourth down and 15 to go on the 28.

Kicker John Loane's try for a 45-yard field goal fell short as he missed for the fifth time. However, his five attempts were all long from the 32, 39, 45, 33 and 35.

"I sincerely doubt that clipping call," Harper said, "but it doesn't make any difference now. This game is history."

Zorn may have been hit by the Sports Illustrated jinx. His photo is in the current issue for his big night of 505 total offensive yards against Southern Utah but he was off target Saturday.

Odds favor L.A.

STATELINE, Nev. (UPI) — Harrah's Tahoe Race Book Saturday named the Los Angeles Dodgers a 7-5 favorite to defeat the Oakland A's Sunday and even the World Series at 1-1.

The Race Book listed Oakland as the 5-6 underdog. There were no odds for the series winner.

White FG gives Bruins 13-13 tie

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES — UCLA was both happy and lucky to get the tie. Stanford was unlucky and unhappy.

Brett White's 37-yard field goal on the last play of the game gave the Bruins (2-1-2) a 13-13 tie with the visiting Cardinals (0-3-2) before 45,937 fans at the Coliseum Saturday night.

The field goal came officially at the 15-minute mark of the fourth quarter. White had missed 32-yarder earlier in the period. Each team now is 0-0-1 in Pac-8 play.

Stanford had held a 13-10 lead since late in the first half. With inside linebacker Gordon Riegal leading the way the Stanford defense did a good job of shutting off the Bruins, especially the second half.

Riegal, voted defensive player of the game, was credited with 14 unassisted tackles and assisted on five others. Leading the Cardinal charge, he helped hold UCLA scoreless for 29:59 of the second half and restricted the Uclans to 164 yards after the Bruins had rolled up 229 yards in the first half.

The Bruins misfired much of the evening. An uncertain time clock didn't help. John Sciarra completed only four of 13 passes for 73 yards and one touchdown, but had one intercepted. Sciarra also gained 75 yards while carrying the ball 18 times.

But the Bruin quarterback was very nearly the goat of the evening.

It was his fumble with a third and goal on the Stanford one-yard line that blew a UCLA touchdown opportunity in the second quarter.

The 5-10, 172-pound junior recovered his own fumble at the two. White then booted a 19-yard field goal. It gave UCLA a 10-6 lead at the time. But it should have been at least 13-6 and probably 14-6.

At other times, Sciarra forced his passes and was lucky more were not intercepted. He also pitched out at least twice when he shouldn't have and was lucky there weren't more fumbles.

To top off a bad evening, Sciarra nearly blew the Bruins' chances for the game-tying field goal attempt.

With a first and ten on the Stanford 14-yard line, 23 seconds remaining in the game and one time out left, Sciarra went back to pass and slipped for a four-yard loss.

Instead of calling time out, Sciarra huddled his teammates briefly and then threw an incomplete pass to stop the clock. It was stopped with one second left. But Sciarra may have thought he had move time.

White kicked the field goal climaxing a 60-yard drive that took nine plays and 2:29 on the clock.

"We had one time out left and John knew it," coach Dick Vermeil said. "On that final drive, we lost quite a bit of time for two reasons that I know of. One, when Gene CLark was injured, we felt we should have an injury timeout. Because of that, we said no if we wanted a timeout thinking the clock would be stopped anyway. As you know, they started it up before we were aware of it.

"Also," Vermeil continued, "I thought several seconds disappeared mysteriously between the one minute and the 38-second mark. However in an exciting finish like that, there is always a lot of confusion on the field and I have no complaints."

Stanford did have some complaints. Two pass interference penalties especially hurt the Cardinals.

"I don't know if we are snake-bitten in the Coliseum or official-bit or what," said Stanford coach Jack Christiansen. "I have no comment on the clock at the end of the game."

Stanford scored first in the game. Mike Cordova, voted offensive player of the game, drove the Cardinals 73 yards in 13 plays with Sig Ostrom bucking over from the one. But Mike Langford's kick was wide.

Sciarra turned right around and took the Bruins 69 yards in eights plays, passing 22 yards to Norm Anderson for the TD. White converted to give the Bruins a 7-6 lead.

Stanford marched 79 yards in 11 plays late in the second quarter to go ahead 13-10, after White's first field goal had put the Bruins in front. Quarterback Guy Benjamin passed to Bill Singler 11 yards for the touchdown. This time Langford converted.

Davis leads SC to 54-7 romp

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — Anthony Davis scrambled and dived for 194 yards and two touchdowns to lead the ninthranked Southern California Trojans to a 54-7 Pacific-8 win over Washington State Saturday night.

Davis picked up all but five of his yards in the first half as the Trojans took complete control of the game and racked up a 21-0 halftime lead.

Davis' only second-half action came on a short five-yard USC drive in which he carried the ball all three plays and plunged over from the one for his second touchdown.

The drive was set up when a pass by W S U quarterback John Hopkins squirted out of the grip of running back Ron Cheatham at the Cougar 13-yard line and into the arms of Trojan defensive back Doug Hogan, who carried the ball to the five.

Davis came out after scoring the touchdown and did not see action the rest of the game.

Davis' other touchdown came late in the first quarter when he ran for two yards up the middle capping a 54-yard seven-play Trojan drive.

Claremont pulls off last-minute win against Cavs to take first

By MARK GRIP
P-B Correspondent

End Mike Toomay caught a 36-yard scoring pass from quarterback Kent Stalwick with 1:05 left in the game, breaking a 28-28 deadlock as Claremont went on to beat Montclair 35-28 Friday night at Citrus College in Azusa.

The victory puts the Wolfpack in sole possession of first place in the San Antonio League with a perfect 2-0 record in league competition.

The Cavaliers fought back from a 21-0 halftime deficit to tie the score with 9:14 left in the game on Bob Behnke's 25-yard pass from quarterback Brett Jetton.

Claremont started the crucial drive with 2:00 left on the Cavs' 47. Four plays later, the Wolves had broken the tie. Jim VanZee added the extra point, his fifth of the evening.

Claremont opened the scoring in the first quarter with Stalwick going in on a 36-yard run at 6:50. VanZee added the conversion.

The Pack scored their first second quarter TD with just two minutes gone. This time it was halfback Dan Thomas plunging in from the one with VanZee kicking the point after.

Thomas scored again on another one yard run with 6:50 left in the half. VanZee again kicked the extra point. The play was set up seven plays earlier when Toomay intercepted a Jetton aerial, returning it 21 yards with Claremont taking over on the Montclair 29 after a 15 yard penalty on the Cavs.

Foreman, Ali fight at 7 p.m.

The starting time for the George Foreman-Muhammad Ali heavyweight title fight has been officially announced for 7 p.m. the night of Tuesday, Oct. 29.

Foreman defends his title in a 15-rounder that will be coming live and direct from Zaire, Africa.

Locally, the fight is being shown at the Fox Theater in downtown Pomona and at Cal Poly's Kellogg Gym.

By KEVIN CLOE
P-B Staff Writer

Somebody is now challenging the "Big Daddy" of drag racing for this year's National Hot Rod Association's (NHRA) Supernationals title at Ontario Motor Speedway.

And that somebody is James Warren, the part-time driver from Bakersfield.

Warren took the qualifying honors away from defending Top Fuel champion Don "Big Daddy' Garlits Saturday with a 5.88-second run in the eliminations, which were wrapped up Saturday afternoon.

Garlits, who won the Ontario event last year and set the all-time low elapsed time in drag racing history at 5.78 seconds, had the top qualifying time prior to Saturday — running a 5.91-second run Friday.

Warren, Garlits and 14 other top fuel qualifiers will be competing in today's $200,000 final eliminations. Time trials will be held from 10 a.m. to noon, with the final eliminations starting at 1 p.m.

While Warren was overtaking Garlits, Mike Miller and Bob Glidden led the qualifying in their respective categories.

Miller, driving in the Funny Car division, clocked a time of 6.23 seconds, while Glidden, in the Pro Stock category, ran a time of 8.81 seconds — breaking his old mark of 8.83 seconds.

In the elimination runs Saturday, two drivers suffered minor burns when their engines caught fire.

Shirl Greer had burns on his face, neck and hands, while Bill Spevack suffered burns on his hand.

Warren and Garlits may have clocked the better times during the eliminations, but they can't ignore Gary Beck.

Beck, who first made a name for himself by winning back-to-back Top Fuel titles in the U.S. Nationals (A feat previously accomplished only by Garlits and Don Prudhomme), reached another milestone in the sports this season when he won three major events in one year, something never previously accomplished in the sport.

In addition to winning the Winternationals in Pomona, the Springnationals at Columbus, Ohio, and the Grandnational-Molson at Montreal, Beck was runner-up at the Gatornationals in Gainesville, Fla.

In the six major national races contested prior to the Supernationals, Beck had the low elapsed time in four and the top speed in three.

His bid for an unprecedented third straight National Championship was halted abruptly in the first round at Indianapolis when his "Export A" machine lost a right rear wheel.

For the first time, the Supernationals will be combined with the World Finals.

Under the new format, world champions will be crowned in the sportsman brackets as in previous World Finals. For the pros, the event will merely be the climax to a full season of points racing, with those points earned at Ontario applied toward a season points championship for Top Fuel, Funny Car and Pro Stock eliminators.

C-M, Hens have it rough on the road

Both Claremont-Mudd and Pomona-Pitzer found the going rough on the road Saturday.

The Stags traveled to San Diego only to drop a 31-7 game to United States International University. The Sagehens did not fare any better up north in Moraga, losing to St. Mary's, 32-3.

Citrus found its trip to Southwestern much more pleasant, however, as the Owls nabbed a 35-13 Mission Conference junior college win. Also in the Mission Conference, winless Chaffey stayed that way as the Panthers were edged by Riverside City College, 21-20.

Claremont had tied USIU at 7-7 in the second quarter on a one-yard run by Tom Rix, but it was all USIU after that. Ed Acosta rushed for 192 yards in 26 carries while quarterback Greg Briner accounted for 125 passing yards to lead the USIU offense.

About the only bright spot for the Stags was reserve fullback Tyrone Tallie who gained 78 yards on eight carries.

Pomona-Pitzer had to again rely on the passing arm of quarterback Larry Cenotto. The ground game for the Sagehens only netted a minus 52 yards. Cenotto connection 13 of 35 passes for 151 yards, but had three intercepted and was sacked on numerous occasions.

Citrus had both a strong running and passing attack against host Southwestern. Owl quarterback Bill Strycula connected 6 of 11 passes for a total of 131 yards. Ed White led the Owls' 292-yard ground game with 103 yards on 12 carries.

Poly Broncs end up tied in 'biggie'

The Bronco's lefthanded quarterback threw three interceptions in the first quarter and ended up with only seven completions in 16 attempts for 69 yards. Andy Sanchez, the top receiver in the conference, was held without a completion.

But Zorn did his job on the ground as he rushed for 85 yards on 30 carries including two touchdown runs of nine and one yards.

Tailback Rich Paulson was the Broncos' top offensive threat as he ran for 88 yards on 18 carries.

SLO won the statistics battle by rolling up 320 total yards to Pomona's 249.

The Mustangs scored first in both instances only to have the Broncos come right back to tie.

SLO's opening score in the first quarter came after linebacker Chris Faller intercepted a Zorn pass and returned it to the Pomona 29. Five plays later, Bob Trudeau ran 10 yards for the touchdown.

Pomona bounced back when Zorn drove the Broncs 9-yards early in the second quarter. He ran nine for the tying touchdown.

The Mustangs broke the ice on their first offensive series in the second half when Upland High Product Rocky Chapman climaxed a 80-yard drive with a 14-yard run after the Broncs' Allister Crumlish barely missed on a 43-yard field goal try.

It didn't take long for Pomona to tie it as Zorn took the Broncs to the end zone on the next offensive series with a 21-yard pass to tight end Dave Stock setting up one-yard TD run.

Garey High graduate Gary Davis led the Mustangs rushers with 97 yards on 15 carries while Chapman added 70 on 15 tries to frustrate the Broncos.

MSAC enters conference winless

Mounties drop another one

By MIKE RAWLINSON
P-B Sports Writer

VAN NUYS — Typically, Mt. San Antonio College won everything but the game Saturday night at Los Angeles Valley College's Monarch Field.

Coach Mal Eaton's Mounties are still winless this morning after spotting Valley 28 points in the first 13½ minutes in a 28-21 non-conference setback.

With a bye on the schedule next weekend, MSAC will take an 0-3-2 record into South Coast Conference play when it hosts Orange Coast Oct. 26.

As has been the pattern in all five of their games to date, the Mounties were dominant in the statistics, outproducing Valley Saturday 20 to 12 in first downs, 239 to 226 in rushing yards, and 125 to 64 in passing yardage. But the 28-point lead the Mounties gave the Monarchs was way too much to overcome.

For some unexplained reason, Eaton elected not to start the team's leading ground gainer Binky Benton.

Benton, who had gained 346 yards and a 3.7 average in four previous games, didn't make an appearance until Valley had scored four times.

About midway through the second quarter Benton joined the Mountie huddle and MSAC started to move. Benton had his biggest night, gaining 157 yards on 24 carries with one touchdown as the Mounties played catchup — a game they are most familiar with.

Valley scored on its first three possessions of the evening. Halfback Frank Bowling got things rolling with a 59-yard sprint that got Valley on the board with less than two minutes gone in the opening quarter.

When the Mounties couldn't move the ball the Monarchs got chances to score and didn't miss them. Within a five-minute period Bill Olivo scored on a nine-yard run and Julius Mathis scored on a 36-yard pass play from quarterback Geoff Robinson.

Two minutes into the second period Mark Bradford scored on a 13-yard run following Odis McKinney's pass interception and 42-yard return to the Mountie 13.

Then it was all Mounties. The offense put kicking Mondo Herrera into field position for field goals of 39 and 45 yards before the half ended.

The Mounties were moving again in the third period, taking the opening kickoff to a touchdown, quarterback Kurt Porter hitting tight end Dave Vega on a 20-yard pass.

The Mounties got a break with seven minutes to play in the third quarter when a bad snap from center went over the Valley punter's head into the end zone for a safety to make it 28-14.

'Pack takes over league lead, 35-28

Down 21-0, Montclair opened the exciting second half, scoring at 9:00 of the third quarter. Halfback Jim Donaldson romped 67 yards for the score with the pass for two points failing.

Claremont had the ball one play following the kickoff before Montclair's Fred Dominguez intercepted a Stalwick pass on the Pack 22 yard line. Two plays later, fullback Mike Hartsfield scored from four yards out at 6:31 of the quarter. Jetton ran for the two points.

Thomas then scored his third TD of the game with 2:18 left in the quarter on a four yard scamper. VanZee added the extra point.

Montclair trailing by 14 points wouldn't give up as it scored on the first play of the fourth period. This time it was Jetton hitting end Al Huggins from the two, with Randy Thomas adding the conversion.

The play that tied the game was set up when tackle George Hairbedian recovered a fumble on the Claremont 40. Five plays later Jetton hit Behnke for the score.

Homecoming win for Walnut, 26-0

By CRAIG TRAVIS
P-B Staff Writer

Walnut kept a share of the Hacienda League lead Saturday night after a dominating display at aerial-filled Mt. San Antonio College Stadium.

No fewer than 61 passes were attempted by the two combatants, Walnut and Gladstone, with the visitors completing just 6-of-36 while Mustang quarterback Scott Stowell made good on three of his 11 completions for six-pointers in a 26-0 Homecoming victory over the Gladiators.

A balanced attack, running, passing and defense buried the Glads quickly as the hosts passed for 170 yards (11-of-25) rushed for 174 yards and held the Glads to 26 yards rushing and 74 passing (6-for-36) on the game.

Gladstone had just 19 yards total offense in the first half as the Mustangs led 19-0 at intermission.

Coach Ken Gunn's victors, tied with Bonita at 2-0 for the H.L. lead, scored on its first possession of the night, with the key playing of the drive being a 15-yard penalty against Gladstone on a Walnut punt.

Keith McDermott, who for the second straight week surpassed the 100-yard rushing figure — 107 for 15 carries — gained seven yards and Terry O'Neil added five more. (o'Neil had 33 yards for 9 totes).

On the next play, Stowell connected with Alex Solorzano on a 27-yard TD pass with 8:06 left in the first quarter. Jim Vallandingham's PAT made it 7-0.

The Mustangs had the ball for one play at the end of the period and made it count.

Stowell hit Dale Nelson, who had slipped down the sideline and passed the linebackers, for a 47-yard scoring pass.

Walnut upped its lead to 19-0 on its first march of the game, the first time it had the ball in the second quarter. Stowell hit McDermott, who also caught five passes for 36 yards, on a 5-yard scoring pass to culminate a 74 yard drive that took 13 plays.

Walnut's final score was started by Bob Walker's interception at the Gladstone 39. Six plays later O'Neill scored from a yard out.

Raiders roll past Bassett

Rowland High rolled to its second straight Montview League triumph Saturday night at Nogales High, besting Bassett 27-7.

Running back Bob Alkema led the charge for the Raiders, rushing for 135 yards in 12 carries. Alkema's 70-yard gallop in the opening quarter got Rowland on the board.

Rich Fisher recorded two of the Raider touchdowns, the first on a one-yard run in the opening period and the other on a 30-yard interception return late in the contest.

Quarterback Flavio Garcia scored the other Raider TD while Dave Higham booted three successful PATS. Dave Fletcher scored the lone Basset TD.

Rowland is now 2-0 in the Montview League while Basset falls to an 0-2 league ledger. Overall the Raiders are 3-1 on the year.

Nastase, Borg meet in finals

MADRID (UPI) — Ilie Nastase of Romania beat Guillermo Vilas of Argentina 61, 1-6, 6-1, 6-1, Saturday to qualify for the final of the Commercial Union Grand Prix tennis tournament.

Nastase will meet Swedens Bjorn Borg in the title match today. Borg defeated Manuel Orantes of Spain, 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 7-6 in the other semifinal.

Roth takes early lead

NEWARK, Ohio (UPI) — Mark Roth, a Brooklyn, N.Y., righthander, averaged 238 on a six-game pinfall of 1,432 Saturday to take a commanding lead after the first round of the $38,500 AMS Regional Champions Classic at Valley Bowl.

Roth, trying for his first Professional Bowler Association tour crown, rolled lines of 247, 214, 279, 237, 207, and 246 to take a lead of 85 sticks over Teata Semiz, River Edge, N.J., who had a high game of 256 in his 1,347 block.

FINGERS FIRES — The A's Rollie Fingers shows how it's done as he foiled the Dodgers in Saturday's World Series opener at Dodger Stadium. Oakland posted 3-2 victory in the contest.

L.A. finally knocked starter Ken Holtzman out in the fifth inning after tagging him for seven hits. With one out, Davey Lopes was safe on Campaneris' error. Bill Buckner followed with a single and Lopes was able to score when Jackson, who is slowed down with a hamstring pull, took awhile to get to the ball and then made a bad throw for an error as Buckner took third base.

Dark made the switch after Holtzman walked Jimmy Wynn.

Relief ace Rollie Fingers, the former Upland High star, came in to strike out Steve Garvey on three pitches. After Fingers hit Joe Ferguson with a pitch, Cey flied out to left.

The Dodgers, behind 3-1, stranded two more runners in the eighth when pinch-hitter Von Joshua grounded out after Cey walked and Willie Crawford singled in a pinch-hitting role.

Fingers retired the first two batters in the ninth inning easily but Wynn kept the Dodgers alive when he belted a home run just over the left-field barrier on a 2-2 pitch.

When Garvey followed with a clean single to right, Dark decided he had seen enough of Fingers. He surprised everyone by bringing in Hunter, who recorded a save by striking out Ferguson on a 2-2 pitch to wrap it up.

"I decided before the game that Hunter would be my second righthanded relief pitcher, regardless of the inning or situation," Dark explained.

"Catfish wasn't scheduled to pitch until Tuesday and he asked for some extra work today, if it worked out that way, after throwing 15 minutes Friday," the A's manager added.

The big squeeze play in the fifth developed after Holtzman, who had not been at the plate the entire season because of the American League's designated hitter rule, hit an one-out double down the left field foul line.

Holtzman moved to third on Messersmith's wild pitch and came on home when Campaneris laid down the perfect bunt which Messersmith fielded with his only play at first base.

"It was just a squeeze play," Dark answered when asked about the play. "Campy put down a perfect bunt and it worked. No, we don't do it that much. But we have had trouble scoring runs lately and we need runs whenever we can get them."

Holtzman, who has been unhappy throughout most of the season about coming out of games, said he didn't argue about Dark's decision.

"I was a little surprised but I didn't argue," the lefthander said. "I stopped doing that the first week of the season. I was throwing good and if I'd gotten a break that could have been my easiest inning. Only one of the Dodger hits was hit hard. Most of the others were grounders that found holes."

Hunter said he also pitched in relief in the seventh game of the 1972 World Series against the Reds. "I wanted more work because I'm not starting until Tuesday," he explained.

In discussing his home run, Jackson said, "I hit the home run about as hard as I can hit it if not as far. I expected Messersmith to throw me pretty much as he did except for the home run pitch which was a mistake. He threw it high over the plate. I can't run 100 per cent and I can't beat out infield hits but the injury does not hurt my swing."

Dodger skipper Walter Alston said he wasn't surprised about the squeeze.

"We thought Holtzman kind of gave it away. He was a little anxious and ready to run. But either Andy (Messersmith) picked it up too late or just didn't see Holtzman," Alston commented.

"I thought Oakland might do it. Dark has the right man at the plate in Campaneris, who can handle the bat," he added. "It's a little different with the pitcher on third base but I thought it might occur."

Messersmith appeared to be his old self Saturday as he struck out eight A's in his eight innings of work. He wasn't recording many strikeouts near the end of the season when an elbow injury bothered him.

"I thought Andy pitched well," Alston said, "but he made a mistake or two and they cost him the game. We hit as well as they did today. We just didn't hit the ball at the right time."

The biggest play by the Dodgers Saturday came when Bando was at third base in the eighth after Campaneris scored on Cey's throwing error over Garvey's head.

Jackson followed with a fly to center. It was headed right for Wynn, which would have meant a certain run because of Wynn's sore elbow, but rightfielder Ferguson jumped in ahead of Wynn to make the catch and make a brilliant throw to nail Bando at the plate.

The big crowd went wild while hoping the play might change the momentum.

"That might be the best throw I ever saw from that deep," Alston said. "Remember he was moving to his right when he caught the ball. He had to stop, set himself and throw. He executed the play perfectly."

If the Dodgers had pulled the win out, Ferguson's play might go down in World Series history but the loss nullified the impact.

"It didn't mean much if we didn't win," Fergy commented. "I cut in front of Wynn because his shoulder has been bothering him all year. We talked it over before the play and he knew if I could handle it I'd make the throw."

Both Ferguson and Wynn moaned about the missed opportunities.

"We left too many on base today," Wynn said. "We'll have to forget about today and come back tomorrow. Now that we have had a taste of it, it might be a lot different tomorrow. We've been coming back all year but we have to win tomorrow and go into Oakland even at 1-1."

Sutton has the assignment Sunday of getting the Dodgers even." I would have to say that Oakland gets more runs and better production out of its hitting than any team in baseball," Sutton said in previewing. "I got to stay ahead of the batters, throw strikes and not make any mistakes. They are a mistake-hitting ball club."

Packers hope to upset Rams today

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) Vince Lombardi was coach and the Packers were kings

KNXT (Ch. 2), 1 p.m.

the last time Green Bay was able to beat Los Angeles in a regular season National Football League game.

The year was 1966 and the Packers were en route to becoming the first Super Bowl champions when they trimmed the Rams twice, once on the coast and once at home.

Since then, Green Bay has dropped six successive regular season decisions to the West Coast team, with only a playoff victory in 1967 interrupting the string of defeats.

In fact, in the last 10 years, Green Bay has been able to beat the Rams only four times —the playoff victory, the two 1966 wins and a 6-3 decision in Milwaukee in 1964.

Now it's Green Bay Coach Dan Devine's turn to try to turn things around, but the task, he admits, will not be an easy one.

"We've got to play awfully well against this club," Devine said.

"This would be a good week to break out with no fumbles, no pass interceptions and long kickoff returns."

The Rams are two touchdown favorites in the game at Milwaukee County Stadium. Kickoff time is 1 p.m. PDT to accommodate television, which will beam the game to much of the country as the second half of a doubleheader.

Devine has been heartened by his team's practices this week and at one point said that if practice sessions mean anything, it appears the Packers are ready for a good effort.

The Rams report no new injuries. Lineman Bill Lueck and Dave Pureifory of the Packers, both of whom have been hobbled by injuries, are reported ready to play, but their effectiveness may be hampered by lack of practice time this week.

Pureifory is expected to start, but Lueck will probably be replaced in the starting lineup by Malcolm Snider.

Devine has been looking for his Packers, normally one of the best running teams in football, to break out of a rushing slump.

But Los Angeles leads the NFC in defense against the run, allowing only 81 yards a game. The Packers have picked up only 108 yards a game and, unless Green Bay's John Brockington gets going, he will miss being a 1,000 yard rusher this season for the first time in his career.

He has only 181 yards in four games—well below his career average—and needs to average 81.9 yards a game the rest of the way to join the 1,000-yard club for a fourth successive year.

The Rams are led by the passing of quarterback John Hadl and the running of NFL leader Larry McCutcheon and Jim Bertlesen, a former Wisconsin high school star.

Fingers gets in plenty of work in victory

Fingers would not comment on a question regarding the type of "shouting match" which ended with one of the "shouters" having six stitches (new count) in his head.

One thing was evident. It didn't affect his pitching Saturday. The A's star reliever was asked if the thought of the fight bothered him during his term on the mound.

"It didn't bother me at all," he said. "The only thing I think about when I'm pitching is hitting the catcher's glove."

Fingers posted a 9-5 record during the regular season this year wth a 2.65 earned run average. He aippeared n 78 games, pitched 119 innings and was credited with 18 saves.

He appeared in two of the four playoff games with Baltimore, pitching three innings and getting credit for a save.

Where does he figure in the games remaining since he just finished his longest stint of the year?

"Well, I can go an inning or two if I have to tomorrow (today)," he grinned, "and if I don't have to pitch (today) I'll be ready for four innings Tuesday."

"We've got the momentum now," he continued. "We won the first game against Baltimore too. But I don't think the Dodgers feel any pressure. They're just too good a ball club for that."

Manager Alvin Dark best described the A's. "We have pitching, speed and defense and just score what we can," he said.

"We're not scoring too many runs," agreed Fingers. "But we seem to get the big hit. I don't see why we can't do it again tomorrow."

Upland's Scott paces UC Irvine

SAN DIEGO — Led by former Upland High distance ace Steve Scott, UC Irvine bested San Diego State 20-55 in a cross-country meet at State Saturday.

Scott finished second over the five-mile course to San Diego's Mike Arrea. Arrea clocked in at 26:19 with Scott right behind at 26:28. Irvine men placed second through eighth to clinch the triumph.

Kings battle to 4-4 draw

MONTREAL (UPI) — Jacques Lemaire and Steve Schutt scored third period power play goals Saturday as the Montreal Canadiens battled the Los Angeles Kings to a 4-4 tie.

Lemaire scored from just inside the blue line at 4:57 to narrow the Kings' lead to 4-3. At 9:10 the Kings were forced to send out a man when they were caught playing with too many players. The Canadiens capitalized when they got their fifth power play goal in only their first two games of the season as Schutt scored at 10:15.

Bob Nevin had given Los Angeles a 1-0 lead in the first period. Bob Berry scored at 3:45 of the second period to give the Kings a 2-0 lead.

Yvan Cournoyer converted a goalmouth pass into a goal past Los Angeles netminder Gary Edwards midway through the second session to narrow the Kings' lead to 2-1.

Larry Brown drilled a 60-footer past Montreal goalie Ken Dryden at 15:03 to put Los Angeles in front 3-1. Pierre Bouchard, who scored only once last season, got the Canadiens' second goal less than two minutes later when he scored on a rebound.

The Kings took a 4-2 after only nine seconds of the third period while they had a one man advantage. Tom Williams' shot from center ice eluded Dryden.

Sports news in brief

Blazers finally get paid

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) The Florida Blazers of the World Football League finally got paid Saturday and team officials immediately announced the Blazers would take the field against Memphis next Wednesday.

Angry at not having received their salaries, the players had threatened this weekend to boycott the Memphis game if their money didn't arrive by Saturday. But now the players' financial problems seem to be solved--at least for a while.

"We've been paid and we're going to go there and play," said a team spokesman. "The Blazers will definitely be going to Memphis to play the Southmen Wednesday night. We will treat this game as any other away game."

The World Football League promised to pay the team half its back salary after the Blazers' front office went broke.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., (UPI) — How would "Brewer General Manager Henry Aaron" sound? That's what the latest rumors are.

If true, Aaron would become the first black general manager in baseball history.

The rumors come from officials of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Montreal Expos and an executive with the Milwaukee Brewers who asked not to be identified, the Milwaukee Sentinel said today in a report from Los Angeles.

"The report said Aaron believed generally to be headed the Brewers' way as the designated hitter would be eased into a general manager role with Milwaukee after his season with the Brewers as DH. If you'll believe baseball people like former Brewer General Manager Frank Lane, Aaron is practically a Brewer right now," the Sentinel reported.

Aaron has expressed a desire to play again in Milwaukee where he got his start with the Milwaukee Braves.

ALBUQUERQUE (UPI) — San Jose State's Mark Lye and Arizona State Saturday held the inside track to the individual and team titles as the William H. Tucker Invitational Golf Tournament headed into the final round.

Lye, who has played consistent if not spectacular golf throughout the week, bolted into the individual lead with a two-under par 70 Friday. He holds a one-stroke lead over Arizona State's Charles Gibson and a two-shot edge over the Sun Devils' John Adams.

NASSAU, BAHAMAS (UPI) — Eric van Dillen and Charles Pasarell powered the United States into the second round of North American zone Davis Cup play Saturday by whipping the Commonwealth doubles te am6-2, 6-1, 6-10.

The doubles victory over Bahamas and Caribbean champion Leo Rolle and his partner, John Antonas, gave the U.S. a 3-0 lead in the Davis Cup match. Arthur Ashe and Tom Gorman won their singles matches Friday over Richard Russell of Jamaica and Rolle, respectively.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Virginia Wade of England and Helen Gourlay of Tasmania Saturday advanced to go the finals in the $50,000 Virginia Slims-Phoenix Tennis Tournament Saturday, with victories over Billie Jean King and Betty Stove.

Miss Wade upset top-seeded Billie Jean King 7-5, 6-1 in a semifinal match, and Miss Gourlay advanced with an easy 6-1, 6-4 victory over Betty Stove of the Netherlands. The finals will be held Sunday.

Leo defense stops APC

By GRAHAM CROW
P-B Correspondent

The pre-game headlines asked the question, "Can La Verne Stop Azusa's Farmer?"

And the post-game answer is "YES!"

The Leo defense, playing before a partisan home crowd, completely throttled the entire Cougar offense during the hot afternoon Saturday to record an impresssive 10-0 victory.

The headlines were referring to Jim Farmer, the fine senior tailback from La Puente, who entered the game averaging 5.6 yards per carry and nearly 140 each game.

Against Ben Hines' defensive crew, however, Farmer was limited to just 27 yards in 18 carries as Azusa had a net 68 yards on the ground and another 36 through the air.

The only offensive threat for Azusa all afternoon was wide receiver Phil Boyce who caught three passes for 29 yards, picked up 64 yards on an end around and returned one kickoff for 43 yards.

The game seemed very long for Cougar quarterback Rick Dutton as he was sacked 10 times trying to pass for a net loss of 70 yards. He was only able to complete four passes in 13 attempts and had two others intercepted.

While the sacks were many, they were also spread around for La Verne as George Pasoc had one, Chris Hawks, Jeff Button and Grant Seiler had two while Francis Vanderkallen added three more.

Neither team seriously threatened in the first period although Azusa's Brad Kramer did try a 44 yard field goal that was about 20 yards short.

Kramer then lined up midway through the second quarter for a 56 yard attempt. But his bare-footed kick was blocked by Steve Herrera and La Verne took over on the 47 yard line.

Fifteen plays later, the Leos were camped at the one inch line on fourth down, but an illegal procedure penalty forced them to settle for John Karns' 22 yard field goal with 35 seconds left in the half.

Kramer tried another field goal at the start of the final period, but this 41 yarder was blocked by John Herrera, Steve's brother.

La Verne put the game away, and its their record at 2-2, with a 38 yard drive in six plays, with quarterback Ricky Tedford scoring from the one.

A key pass interference call on fourth down extended the drive, and although the call was disputable, it's questionable whether Azusa could have mounted any threat anyway. After all, they'd had three and one half periods to do so before and weren't able to.

Offensively for La Verne, bruising freshman fullback Ben Morrow had 62 yards in 14 carries to lead the Leo running game that netted 144 yards. Tedford was 6-12 passing for 53 yards and one interception.

Azusa has its homecoming next Saturday when its hosts St. Mary's while La Verne travels to Thousand Oaks to face Cal Lutheran.

Daily Double: $1,060.20

ARCADIA — Four-year-old Royal Robe, the second-longest shot in the eleven-horse field, scored a $107.20 upset in Oak Tree's second race Saturday to can a $1,060.20 Daily Double at Santa Anita Park.

By far the largest double of the young season and the third highest in Oak Tree history, the large payoff was made partly possible by Pelegrin Sands' surprise two-length victory in the first race.

Raul Cespedes hustled Pelegrin Sands from just off the pace in the six-furlong opener to draw away from Away Satan in the final sixteenth and stop the timer in a fast 1.09 2-5. The winning payoff was $34.60.

The winning margin for Royal Robe was two and one-half lengths, giving jockey Curt Levine his first Oak Tree victory.

Tide handed 'weird' victory

By United Press International

Florida State gave up a deliberate safety with 1:27 left in the game Saturday, then lost to Alabama 8-7 on Bucky Berrey's 36-yard field goal 54 seconds later.

It was that kind of Saturday again in college football.

Florida State, desperately striving to end a 16-game losing streak against the undefeated and second-ranked Crimson Tide, held a 7-3 lead with 1:27 left and was in a punting situation on its own five yard line.

Seminoles Coach Darrell Mudra elected to have punter Joe Downey step out of the end zone for a safety rather than risk a blocked punt.

After Florida State free kicked from its 20, the Crimson Tide returned the ball to the Seminole 48. From there, they worked the ball to the Florida State 19 and Berrey, who had kicked a 44-yarder in the third quarter, kicked his game-winner with 33 seconds showing on the clock.

Florida State outgained the the Crimson Tide, 345-229, and scored the game's only touchdown on Larry Key's six-yard run in the first quarter. But the Seminoles' soccer-style kicker Ahmet Askin missed on field goal attempts of 26 and 19 yards, while a 33-yard try was blocked.

Top-ranked Ohio State, which was one of the few top teams expected to be tested, obliterated 11th-ranked Wisconsin 52-7. Buckeyes quarterback Cornelius Greene scored three touchdowns, ran for 146 yards on 16 carries and connected on five of seven passes for 81 yards.

Archie Griffin had his 16th straight 100-yard rushing performance, gaining 110 yards in 16 carries, and safety Bruce Ruhl intercepted three Wisconsin passes.

Third-ranked Michigan built a 21-0 halftime lead and stretched their unbeaten streak to 16 games with a 21-7 victory over Michigan State before the second largest crowd in college football history, 104,682.

Defensive end Dan Jilek recovered a botched punt in the end zone, quarterback Dennis Franklin hit Jim Smith with a 44-yard touchdown pass and Gordon Bell ran 13 yards for the Michigan scores.

Missouri, faced with rebounding from a 59-20 beating by Wisconsin last week, upset fourth-ranked Nebraska 21-10 at Lincoln with a three-touchdown burst late in the last quarter.

The Tigers started their comeback with 6:56 left in the game when Tony Galbreath scored on a two-yard run to cut the Cornhuskers' lead to 10-7.

On the next series of plays, Nebraska fumbled and Missouri recovered on the Cornhuskers' 25. Five plays later, reserve quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz hit Mark Miller with a nine-yard touchdown pass for a 14-10 lead. Then Steve Yount intercepted a Nebraska pass and returned it to the five to set up another Galbreath touchdown.

Fifth-ranked Florida suffered its first setback of the season when substitute quarterback David Lee scored one touchdown and passed for another to lead Vanderbilt to a 24-10 Southeastern Conference victory.

Sixth-ranked Auburn stamped assumed the role as Alabama's chief challenger for the SEC crown with a 31-13 romp over Kentucky to remain undefeated.

Don Lugo wins again

Don Antonio Lugo High remained undefeated on the season Saturday, posting a narrow 16-14 win over the Pomona High Frosh in a game played at Chino High.

Running back Gil Duenas scored both of the Don Lugo touchdowns, the first on a seven-yard run in the first quarter and the second on a 75-yard pass from quarterback Ron Lopez.

Pomona threatned late in the game on two TDs by running back Tom Ferrar, but two two-point Lugo conversions engineered by Dan Reyes proved the difference.

St. Joseph's Hill of Hope sponsors 2nd golf tourney

By PHIL ROCHE
P-B Staff Writer

ST. JOSEPH'S Hill of Hope will hold its Second Annual Open Invitational golf tournament for men, Friday at Western Hills Golf and Country Club, Carbon Canyon Road, Chino.

Among those playing will be golf professional H. Ellsworth Vines and other personalities from fraternal and service organizations who will lend their efforts to this nonprofit, charitable event.

A social hour at 7:00 p.m. will precede dinner and dancing at Western Hills Country Club.

For reservations and further information, call Saint Joseph's Hill of Hope, 528-6953.

Tee-off times are scheduled between 7:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Golf alone is $20, and it's $25 for golf, dinner and dancing.

PALM LAKE Golf Course in Pomona will have a new look in the near future. The owners, Zeke and Elsie Avila, and manager Charlie Osborn are planning to add length to the finishing holes, No. 8 and 9.

No. 8 currently plays at 85 yards, but when the hole is lengthened, it will play at 140. The finisher will be nine, which will be stretched to 235 long yards from the 207 mark. That's a tough par 3 on anyone's course.

Plans are under way to reorganize the men's club soon.

SPEAKING of Palm Lake, Tom Gates of Diamond Bar made not one hole-in-one there recently, but punched in two aces on the same day.

Playing 27 holes, Tom scored on an ace on No. 4, (103 yards) and another on No. 9, which was playing at 62 yards that day. Congratulations on TWO big ONES.

National Football League

More quarterbacks in danger

By United Press International

The National Football League season is only a month old and already coaches are playing musical quarterback.

Howard Schnellenberger's refusal to replace Marty Domres as Baltimore's quarterback two weeks ago caused his dismissal by owner Robert Irsay. His successor, General Manager Joe Thomas, immediately made Domres the first major quarterback casualty by replacing him with Bert Jones.

As play enters its fifth week today, eight more quarterbacks have lost or are in danger of losing starting berths.

Today's action has Dallas at St. Louis, New England at the New York Jets, Miami at Washington, Houston at Minnesota, Pittsburgh at Kansas City, Los Angeles against Green Bay at Milwaukee, Oakland at San Diego, Cincinnati at Cleveland, Buffalo at Baltimore, Chicago at Atlanta, the New York Giants at Philadelphia and New Orleans at Denver. San Francisco is at Detroit Monday night.

The quarterback changes for today have some big names going out and some big ones coming back.

At Pittsburgh, Joe Gilliam, the preseason sensation of the NFL, could be through as a starter, with Terry Bradshaw waiting to regain his job. Gilliam led the Steelers through an unbeaten exhibition schedule and was impressive in the first two regular season games, leading them to 65 points. But he has engineered only one touchdown in the last nine quarters and Coach Chuck Noll cay junk Gilliam's riverboat gambler style for the more conservative play-calling of Bradshaw.

Bill Kilmer was unable to move Washington's offense in a 28-17 loss to Cincinnati Sunday and 40-year-old Sonny Jurgensen, who threw two touchdown passes in a fourth-quarter rally against the Bengals, could be back in business. Miami has had its problems on pass defense this year and George Allen may want to go with the long-range potential of Jurgensen rather than Kilmer's ground-oriented style.

Bill Munson has been unable to lead Detroit to a victory in four games and Greg Landry, injured in the Lions' preseason finale, may be ready to come back Monday against San Francisco. Landry, one of the best running quarterbacks in the game, suffered a dislocated shoulder. The 49ers will have a new quarterback of their own, left-hander Dennis Morrison. Morrison takes over for Joe Reed, who was unable to establish a consistent offense as a replacement for injured Steve Spurrier.

Norm Snead, booed off the field by irate Giant fans Sunday, suddenly has developed a mysterious knee ailment and Jim Del Gaizo may be the starter against Philadelphia. Del Gaizo, who has a strong but inaccurate arm, flunked trials with Miami and Green Bay before being picked up by the Giants this summer.

Charley Johnson has an injured right thumb and Denver's quarterback against New Orleans may be Steve Ramsey. Ramsey, who at one point this year was wearing glasses on the field but now has gone to contact lenses, led a secondhalf rally last week as the Broncos topped Kansas City.

Bob Lee finally got Atlanta untracked last week against the Giants as the Falcons recorded their first victory of the season but they still managed only 14 points and seven of those came on an intercepted pass. Coach Norm Van Brocklin has hinted he may use Pat Sullivan against Chicago if Lee doesn't get the offense going soon.

Celebrities golf tourney

Oscar-award winner Jack Lemmon and veteran movie and television star Jim Garner head the field for the pro-celebrity-amateur portion of the Long Beach Queen Mary Open on Sunday, Oct. 20.

A 72-hole championship tournament will be held Wednesday to Saturday. Both tournaments will be at Recreation Park.

Lemmon, who won an Oscar for his performance in "Save the Tiger," played in the 1972 Queen Mary celeb event and Garner, who recently began a new TV series called "The Rockford Files" on NBC, was a participant last year.

All will play in a two best ball of foursome with one pro and two amateurs, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Tickets priced at $2.

Renaissance dance group to meet in park tonight

The Anglo Folk, a group devoted to English country dancing of the Elizabethan era, will have its first meeting in Memorial Park, Claremont, at 7 o'clock tonight.

All persons interested in medieval dancing are invited.

The Anglo Folk performs dances developed in the courts of England for social enjoyment. They are much like square dances, but come in varied sets: four-couple squares, long ways dances for a variable number, three-couple and two-couple sets.

Each dance has its own tune, the phrases of which regulate the dance. No "caller" is needed once the dance is learned.

The Anglo Folk performs each year at the Renaissance Pleasure Faire at Agoura.

Information on the dance group can be obtained at 624-0955.

Two exhibits scheduled at library

Acrylic works by Edie Gross of Pomona and china painting by Louise Negrini of West Covina will be on exhibition Saturday through Nov. 19 at the Pomona Public Library.

Miss Gross holds a bachelor of arts degree in art from UC Berkeley and did graduate study in printmaking at the California College of Arts and Crafts, Oakland. She has exhibited in many art shows and has had one-woman shows at Jack Carr Gallery, Pasadena; Los Angeles Valley College; Grandview Gallery, Los Angeles; Brand Library, Glendale, and Emerson Gallery, Encino.

Mrs. Negrini has been painting since childhood. She specializes in china painting.

Faculty show now on view at MSAC

"Three To Get Ready," an exhibit of work by three members of the Mt. San Antonio College art faculty, is open at the college gallery through Friday.

The artists are John Blough of Claremont, Carol Thompson of Alhambra and Roy McCowan of Walnut.

Blough, a ceramics instructor and former president of the Design Division of the American Ceramics Society of Southern California, has produced a series of sculptured crucifixes in styles ranging from Byzantine to abstract. He has combined wood, clay, and metal to produce comments through untraditional pieces.

Miss Thompson provides a light note with her unusual ceramics. Shining animals with box bodies and noses that resemble horns represent her fantasy. She is an art historian and ceramics instructor at MSAC.

Painting instructor McCowan is exhibiting his own works in acrylic and pen, and pen drawings.

Season tickets now on sale for S.B. CLO

Season tickets are now on sale for the 28th season of the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera, presented in the California Theater of Performing Arts, San Bernardino.

The season will include "South Pacific," starring Howard Keel; "Godspell," the Biblical rock musical, and "Applause," with Ginger Rogers.

Each production will play for 10 days. Season tickets offer a 10 per cent savings over individual tickets. They can be ordered from the CLO box office, 2079 N. E St., San Bernardino 92402, or purchased at Mutual agencies and the Ontario Chamber of Commerce. Single tickets go on sale Wednesday.

The season will open Nov. 15 with Keel in the Rodgers & Hammerstein musical, "South Pacific," in a silver anniversary salute to the popular Broadway hit. Keel last appeared at CLO in the successful "Man of La Mancha."

"Godspell" will open Feb. 14, and Miss Rogers will star in "Applause" starting May 9. The musical is based on the film, "All About Eve," which starred Bette Davis.

IF YOU KNEW SUZIE — John Payne and Alice Faye do the Suzie Q in "Good News," the nostalgic musical of the 1920s, playing through Oct. 20 at the Shubert Theater in Los Angeles. The show, now on national tour, will open at the St. James Theater, New York, Nov. 3.

'Good News'

Musical comedy of '20s scheduled for Broadway

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Broadway —are you ready for this? —here comes still another revival out of what some regard as the golden past.

You must remember the 1927-28 season. The bottom had not yet fallen out of Wall Street. Jimmy Walker was the charming mayor of all time. Lindbergh was still being lionized for his solo transatlantic flight.

And on Sept. 6, 1927, at the 46th Street Theater, the public welcomed, for 551 performances —such long runs were not common in those days — a musical comedy titled "Good News."

That is the show, revised but still anchored in the nostalgic 1920s, that will arrive at the St. James Theater, Nov. 3 after a 10 month national tour. College romance against a football background. Songs: "The Varsity Drag," "Lucky in Love," "Just Imagine," "The Best Things in Life Are Free."

That was a time when the authors of those songs, Buddy DeSylva, Lew Brown and Ray Henderson, constituted the hottest team in the music business. Also, when the producers of "Good News," Laurence Schwab and Frank Mandel, turned out hit after hit for several years —"The Desert Song," 'New Moon" and "Follow Thru," to name a few.

What was that 1927-28 season like? It was one in which there were well over 200 Broadway productions. The average today is about 50. There were 80 Broadway theaters then; 35 today. Talking movies, radio and, later, television, had not yet eroded the living theater.

Many of the productions were short-lived, as is the case today. But producing in that time was a relatively simple and inexpensive business. A drama could be put on for, say, $5,000; a musical for a fraction of today's $500,000 and up.

What else was going on in the 1927-28 season besides "Good News?"

Texas Guinan, the "Hello, Sucker" star of the Prohibition years, was in "Padlocks of 1927." Flo Ziegfeld had another "Follies" revue, with Eddie Cantor starred; Barbara Stanwyck, not yet a movie star and a Guinan nightclub graduate, was in the successful "Burlesque" play; Ann Harding was the star of popular "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

Also, it was the season of what many regard as the finest of all musicals, "Show Boat;" Katharine Cornell was in W. Somerset Maugham's "The Letter;" Ed Wynn in "Manhattan Mary," with another Sylva-Brown-Henderson score; a play and musical by George M. Cohan, with him self starring in the latter, "The Merry Malones;" Walter Hampden in Ibsen's "An Enemy of the People;" the beginning of all that vampire stuff, "Dracula," with Bela Lugosi; the "Porgy" drama (not the later musical); Lesli

If those don't impress you, have some more:

The original production of the Rodgers-Hart musical, "The Connecticut Yankee;" Helen Hayes in "Coquette," the drama that was interrupted by her pregnancy, resulting in litigation and an "act of god" ruling; Edward G. Robinson (pre-Hollywood) in "The Racket;" Fred and Adele Astaire in "Funny Face;" Bert Lahr in "Delmar's Revels;" Judith Anderson in "Behold the Bridegroom;" Philip Barry's "Paris Bound;" the Kaufman-Ferber "The Royal Family;" Eugene O'Neill's "Marco Millions" and "Strange Interlude," with Alfred Lunt in the former and Lynn Fontanne in the latter, one of the few occasions when this married acting pair was separated; Joe Cook in the "Rain or Shine" musical; Dennis King in "The Three Musketeers;" pre-Hollywood Mae West in her own famous play, "Diamond Lil;" Robert Emmet Sherwood's first success, "The Road to Rome," with Jane Cowl.

It was quite a season.

Best gain reported in market history

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market, with a new government economic program to ponder and signs of easing monetary pressures to appreciate, rallied this week for the best gain in history in the heaviest trading of the year on the New York Stock Exchange.

President Ford's detailed program to fight inflation and boost the economy stirred Wall Street hopes and provided much of the spark that ignited the rally—at a time, as one analyst put it, "when the market was ripe."

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 73.61 points for the week, its best gain ever. The previous record was 51.55 points gained in the week ended last June 7.

The Dow scored the sixth biggest daily gain in its history —28.39 points —on Wednesday, the day after Ford announced his "Whipping Inflation Now" program.

Ford's program included a 5 per cent income surtax on corporations and middle-income Americans, some relief for the poor, incentives to business, and proposals to reduce oil consumption by one million barrels a day in 1975.

Skeptical investors stayed on the sidelines at first, but when they saw the reception to the program was not overly critical, they plunged into action and produced an upswing that carried through Friday. The 26,360,000 shares traded Thursday marked the fifth heaviest turnover in Big Board history.

Volume for the week totaled 95,729,225 shares—heaviest of the year — compared with 73,189,970 shares the week before and 100,888,007 traded during the same week a year ago. The increased volume was welcome news for financially strapped brokerages on Wall Street.

The advance was broad, also. Advances outstripped declines, 1,727 to 152, among the 1,985 issues traded during the week. Analysts observed most of the stocks were at severly depressed price levels, especially blue chips and glamors.

In addition to the Dow, the extent of the advance was reflected in the rise of other market indicators. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index, a broader index than the Dow, climbed 8.80 to 71.14. And the NYSE common stock indicator rose 4.59 to 37.49.

At least two events occurred last weekend which observers say put investors in a good psychological mood. First, Ford cancelled a $500 million wheat deal for the Soviet Union, which had been kept secret until the last moment.

(On Thursday, the Agriculture Department reported corn and soybean production would be sharply lower this year, a development which should mean higher food prices in the near future. This information was released the same day the Labor Department reported the wholesale price index in September made its smallest increase in 11 months.)

Second, much of Ford's economic program, which evolved from a series of meetings throughout the nation, capped by a summit meeting in Washington, was leaked to the news media.

Investors apparently liked what they saw and produced a 23-point gain in the Dow on Monday. They retreated to the sidelines Tuesday, however, waiting for Ford to spell out the details.

Wall Street got additional good news Friday when First National City Bank of New York and First National of Chicago, both trendsetters, lowered their prime lending rate to 11 ½ per cent from 11 ¾ per cent. The rate charged most creditworthy corporate customers has been at a historic high of 12 per cent much of the year and has been a major concern for investors.

Trend to starting saving habit in school

NEW YORK (UPI) — If a little kid at your house charges interest when you borrow two bits from him, you know he's not ignorant about money.

The same for a youngster who wants her allowance adjusted to reflect increases in the cost of living.

Such boys and girls are typical rather than being exceptions when it comes to being wise about money.

Today's youngsters understand a lot more about the subject than their parents did at comparable ages, says Rex J. Morthland, president of the American Bankers Association (ABA).

The head of the Peoples Bank and Trust Co. in Selma, Ala., said children have a good grasp of the fundamentals.

Take the case of an eighth-grader who was asked for a definition of money. He answered:

"Nice to have. You get a warm feeling if you have a lot."

A degree of sophistication surfaced in the answer of a pupil asked —"If you had $10 to whom would you give it."

"Something tax deductible," the grade schooler answered.

These examples came from responses to a questionnaire devised by the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. The bank wanted to find out how much grade school kids know about banking.

Morthland also told of classroom banks.

It is not uncommon these days for children to be running a bank or handling checks in a classroom project.

Laura Cohen, an art teacher at Estrella Junior High in Phoenix, Ariz., developed a unique program to promote good behavior while teaching students basics of banking.

With help from Mary Olson, customer relations representative of the United Bank of Arizona, she set up a bank in each of a dozen classes.

Miss Olson also trained one student as a teller. The pupils created their own unit of currency, an estrella. Miss Olson arranged to have her bank print counter checks bearing the school's insignia. The Rocky Mountain Bank Note Co. contributed checkbook covers and registers.

Having a bank account —a real one —is not a pipe dream for many American teen-agers. Seventeen Magazine estimates more than 12 million girls between 13 and 19 have their own savings account.

The magazine estimates a quarter of a million teen-age girls have their own checking accounts.

Here's one man's plan for teaching children money management.

J. Kent Willing, 3rd., a vice president at Provident Bank in Philadelphia, has three children. Four, five and six.

He teaches them about money his own way.

"The starting point for an allowance is when a kid begins to like gum," he said.

"Then he must use his own money.

"Each child received 15 cents when he was three years old, with the stipulation he keep his room clean.

"I don't know that a kid should get paid for keeping his room clean but it helps."

When each child was four a dime was added for doing a specific job. Such jobs include setting the table, taking out garbage and occasional dishwashing."

"Each child has a savings account where we put in the birthday and the Christmas money.

PENSIONER FRANK V. HOGRAEVER

Chrysler plan

Oldest pensioner gets cost of living boost

DETROIT (UPI) — For Frank V. Hograever, who is "pushing 90" by his own admission, being 13 is lucky.

That's the number Chrysler Corp. issued him in 1950 for his retirement benefits, which then totalled the grand sum of $45 a month.

On Tuesday, Hograever's monthly check was increased $59.45 and he now gets $295.05 a month. He's the oldest pensioner from Chrysler at 89. All other United Auto Workers retirees also got their checks raised, too, on Tuesday.

"Never missed a day of work in my life—never," he said in strong voice from his home in nearby New Baltimore, Mich., Friday.

"I'm pushing 90, and healthier than you," he told an interviewer. "Can't hear too good, of course, 'cause for 37 ½ years I only stood two feet away from that hammer, and it hittin' 5,000 pounds on every whack."

Hograever was a hammer man, one who operates the huge hammer in a drop forge shop, pounding white-hot steel into tie rods for vehicles.

"Mister," he said, "I made me some tie rods. Time I retired, I was turnin' out 1,660 of 'em a day.

"In my time, I made enough of the things to build four railroad tracks clear around the world."

He said he fought for the pension he now gets by walking a picket line for 14 weeks in 1950. He retired on Aug. 2 that year, one day after the pension plan went into effect.

Complete Livability:

Small home is geared to outdoor activities

By HIAWATHA ESTES

Here is a good combination — a home that looks inviting and distinguished outside and is livable and satisfying within. From every angle, this is a design of fine appearance, complete livability and thoughtful detail, and yet the home is less than 1300 square feet in size.

A roofed porch provides a passageway to the front door, next to which is located a door height, stationary glass panel. An extra wide closet opens to the entry and every room is accessible from the entry because of the central hall plan.

This house is distinctively geared to outdoor activities. Sliding glass doors open from both the kitchen and living room to the roofed patio.

Only a partial wall separates the hall and the living room-dining ell. If preferred, this wall could be eliminated.

The third bedroom or den is separated from the other two bedrooms. This allows more flexible use of the room than if it were located in the bedroom wing. A bath is accessible from this room and also the service-kitchen area.

The efficient kitchen includes a spacious eating nook where most meals will be served.

The exterior is a pleasing combination of strong, robust materials. Although tile roofing has been used in the design of this pleasant Spanish exterior, other roofing could be substituted if building cost becomes a factor. Note the interesting design obtained by adding a planter at the right side of the garage and then extending a portion of the roof over the planter.

The same basic exterior plus a contemporary exterior are also available in two other two bedroom and den plans, at a different price structure, and are illustrated in our book, Prize Homes.

Complete working drawings for plan 31179 can be purcahsed for $12.67 for the first set and $7.42 for each additional set ordered at the same time. This plan will be available at these special prices until Feb. 13, 1975. Please allow two to three weeks for delivery. A specification booklet is available for $1.06. A large reproduction rendering of the exterior is available for $1.06. The following home plan books are also available: Distinctive Homes — $1.59; Prize Homes — $1.59; Hallmark Homes — $1.59; Town & Country Homes — $1.59; Homes by Hiawatha — $1.59; Ranch & Modern Homes — $2.39. All six books — a $10.34 value — for only $8.22. Orders for less than three books, please add an extra 20c per book for postage and handling. Prices include sales tax. Send all orders to: Hiawatha Estes, P.O. Box 404-PO, Northridge, California 91324.

Realtors to be panelists at meeting

Two area residents will serve as panelists at the Century 21 Real Estate national convention this week in New Orleans.

On the panel of brokers and sales managers discussing the firm's relocation and referral program will be Patricia Stevens of West Covina.

Machinists

LOOK NO FURTHER . . .

. . . if it's opportunity you're seeking.. Honeywell has plenty to offer top-notch Machinists in a variety of disciplines.

N/C MACHINE OPERATOR

Selected candidate will plan, layout, set up and operate various types of numerical control machining equipment to perform complex machining operations on production and experimental parts to close tolerances where the operation program and tooling are established. Position requires at least 1 year machine shope experience, preferably on N/C equipment, as well as a solid grasp of algebra and trigonometry.

MACHINE OPERATOR "A"

This position requires the performance of machine functions on piece parts produced on various types of lathes and mills. Requirements include a minimum of 18 months directly related machine shop experience.

SHEET METAL FABRICATOR

Successful applicant will plan the sequence of operations to fabricate and assemble complex chassis and consoles to exact tolerances suing both standard and specialized assembly and fabrication technique and equipment. Position requires 18 months directly related experience.

Candidates for the above position must be able to work any shift.

Interviewing 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

DICK TRACY

by Chester Gould

Treat 'em to Wrigley's Gum—it's a great Halloween value.

On Halloween, give the treats you'd like your own kids to bring home. Wrigley's Gum gives them long lasting flavor. Each stick is individually wrapped. And it doesn't spoil young appetites like some other Halloween treats. This year get plenty of popular Wrigley's Gum—it's a great Halloween value.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY — To help a child pick up his clothes, lower the clothes rod in the closet to make it easy for him to reach it. This works wonders in helping him to keep his room tidy. Saves Mom work, too! — JANE.

DEAR POLLY — Like many women I prefer washing my hair at the kitchen sink and find a coffee filter fitted inside the sink drainer is excellent for catching the hair that could clog the drain. This could also be used to prevent bits of food from slipping through the slots in the drainer. — ALICE.

Polly pays $1.00 for every idea used. Send them to her, % this newspaper.

DEAR POLLY — My children are now grown and take care of their own clothes so, at flea market sales, I bought a sleeve board and traveling iron for each of them. These are kept in their closets. When clothing needs a bit of touch-up ironing they do not have to go to the laundry room where I may be busy at the time. — ROSE.

DEAR POLLY — When cleaning the rocks in my fish bowl I use a bleach bottle, cut in half, that has holes punched in the bottom. The rocks are put in this and then the water run over them. — PEGGY.

DEAR POLLY — Pointers for the college student: Buy white towels and washcloths. They go into the same load with other whitewear, saving on washer and dryer fees. Also: monogram them for easy identification if you plan to share quarters. — WILMA.
(POLLY'S NOTE — Embroidered letters can be bought that only require sewing to the towels.)

DEAR POLLY — My plumber gave me a simple tip on how to keep the blades sharp in our garbage disposal. Just empty a tray of ice cubes into the disposal and leave them there for five minutes. Then turn the disposal on but DO NOT turn on the cold water. As soon as the ice cubes are all ground up turn the switch off. I was told to do this once a month to keep the blades sharp and have found it to be most satisfactory. — MRS. R.W.

DEAR POLLY — Clean nail polish brushes are good to use in those hard-to-get places when one is painting. — KIM.

DEAR POLLY — I have a pair of inexpensive draperies that always drooped at the top so the traverse rod showed. Now, after washing, I put them back on the rod while slightly damp, clip clothespins along the top to hold them against the rod and then spray with spray starch. When dry, they look like new. — LINDA.

How your Horoscope can bring you wealth, love, success and happiness.

by Norman P. Kennedy

Did you know your horoscope could mean the difference between happiness or sorrow; between success or failure?

Picture a long room with doors at each end. In this room there are money, attractive persons of the opposite sex, books that tell you the secret of happiness and many other valuable articles. But, also in this room are bottomless pits, traps, hostile persons and dangerous beasts chained in various places around the room. You must walk through this room, but you may take out of it anything you can.

Now if you had a choice, would you choose to 1) go through the room blindfolded or 2) go through the room with your eyes open and with written instructions on which places and people to visit or avoid.

Of course, all of us would pick the second choice in a case such as this. Isn't it ridiculous, then, that we would choose to go through life, the same situation, blindfolded! Even when there is a means to go through life with a map and our eyes wide open! The means provided is Astrology. The map is our astrological horoscope.

How does it work? Nature's cosmos imprints each of us at the time of birth – when the umbilical cord is cut. We then become ourselves. Until the cord is cut, we are part of our mother. Why or how we presently do not know. The movement of the large solar bodies then times potentials for events in our lives. Astrology does not cause events but is timing of events. But, it's not fortune telling. It's a prediction of potentials which free will can override.

A natal horoscope analysis contains the best psychological analysis of yourself that you can get today. In addition, a natal horoscope analysis includes discussions on the following: financial outlook; taxes and inheritances; early home environment; relationships with family, relatives and parents; lovelife and marriage; children; career and occupation; hopes; wishes and goals; and subconscious attitudes.

Many people think that astrology only appeals to "way out" unscientific people. Nothing could be farther from the truth. In fact, studies show that astrology appeals most to intelligent and logical people. Famous scientists Galileo, Carl Jung, Johannes Kepler, Roger Bacon, Tycho Bache and Albert Einstein all believed in astrology.

Anyone familiar with Jackie Onassis' horoscope will be amazed with the uncanny way that it has predicted her love life. For example, Jackie's Cancer lies on the cusp of her eighth house. This indicates that she will marry a man connected with water. Her first husband, the late President Kennedy, was a P. T. boat Captain in World War II and also enjoyed sailing. And, of course, her current husband, Aristotle Onassis, is a super-wealthy shipping magnate. Her Sagittarian rising sign shows that she prefers foreign countries and people. Her husband, Aristotle, is Greek and Jackie is known for her jet-setting image. Finally, the planets Jupiter and Venus symbolize money. The fact that these two planets fall in her seventh house, the House of Partners, indicates that she will have a very wealthy husband.

Your horoscope can help you be in the right place at the right time. Your horoscope can help you avoid disasters, while guiding you to your beneficial opportunities.

Did you know that astrology helped the Allies win World War II? The Allies employed astrologers. The Axis powers started out employing astrologers. But, this was ceased early when the famous astrologer, Karl Ernst Krafft, predicted the exact time and place of an attempt on Hitler's life in 1939. Hitler thought the astrologers were conspiring against him, so they were imprisoned.

Hitler turned back to astrology – too late. He read his horoscope in the last moments of the war as Berlin burned around him.

On the other hand, astrologers aided the Allies in forecasting the Axis' moves. The most famous astrologer, Louis de Wohl, employed by the British Government, predicted the exact events leading to the downfall of Mussolini. He gained the faith of the American military, when he predicted Pearl Harbor a year before it happened.

More on avoiding disaster, came these stories from a recent article in the Miami Herald newspaper. The article tells the story of Mary Kelly, a Miami computer programmer, who heeded the advice of her horoscope which warned her of a wrong medical diagnosis. She avoided an unnecessary operation that would have left her a cripple.

Your horoscope can bring you wealth. Famous business tycoon, J. P. Morgan, used astrology to acquire his fortune. Morgan did not make a financial move without checking his natal horoscope forecast.

From an article in the Miami Herald came this story:

"Stockbrokers on Wall Street are as likely to call an astrologer in this decade as Hollywood film stars would call a psychiatrist in the last. David Williams, a 75 year-old retired financial expert who lives in Clearwater, has made $150,000 from the stock market in 13 years by using astrology as an investment guide."

Your horoscope can show you the way to success and happiness in love and marriage. Horoscopes of Grace Kelly and Jackie Kennedy predicted their current successful marriages. Grace Kelly to Prince Rainier and Jackie Kennedy to Aristotle Onassis. As with these famous people, your horoscope can help you find and keep a lasting and meaningful love relationship.

Now and through the ages, a good natal horoscope analysis has meant the difference between success and failure. Will you miss your success opportunities? Will you stumble into pitfalls you could have avoided?

Today, right this moment, you can have your natal horoscope cast and analyzed. You can get it for only the cost to make your duplicate copy. You get the expensive casting and analyzing process – FREE. The article below will tell you how. The means are available, but the choice is yours.

HOW TO GET YOUR NATAL HOROSCOPE FOR ONLY THE COST OF MAKING COPIES.

by John F. Ford

Send me your exact time and place of birth. I'll cast and analyze your natal horoscope for research purposes. You may have a duplicate copy of your horoscope for only $3.00 - which includes the cost to make your copy plus 50¢ postage and handling. You get the expensive casting and analyzing process -- FREE, because of the fact that we must produce your horoscope for research anyhow.

Your natal horoscope will consist of nine pages and over 3,000 words. Your natal horoscope will contain your psychological analysis plus a discussion of the following: your lovelife; financial outlook; marriage, family and children relationships; career and occupations; hopes, wishes and goals; and subconscious attitudes. A horoscope of this type would cost up to $300 if done by an astrologer.

I will cast your horoscope with the help of our 360 - 65 I.B.M. computer, which contains over 24 million bits of information. Your horoscope will not be the worthless type found in paperbacks. Your natal horoscope will be cast from your exact time and place of birth for you and you alone.

THERE'S ABSOLUTELY NO CATCH. I need this information for my astrological research. I am looking for certain planet configurations. If you are chosen as a research subject, I will mail to you a research questionnaire. If you fill out and return this questionnaire, you will be entitled to extra bonuses.

There is no need to worry about finding out about an unavoidable coming disaster thru your chart. As mentioned, astrology deals in potentials. Your free will can override potentials if you know about them. In any case, the policy of qualified astrologers is positive astrology. If there is something negative in your chart, you are told what you can do to make it positive.

To get your horoscope thru this special opportunity, simply fill out the research computer form and mail to the address given on the form. Include the $3.00 copy cost plus 50¢ postage and handling for each horoscope or charge your credit card. There is a limit of two per family. If you don't know your exact time of birth, fill in 12:00 PM.

If you have any questions, call me, John F. Ford, president, The American Astrological Association. Telephone me at (216) 478-2171. Thank you!

COMPUTER DATA ENTRY FORM - PLEASE PRINT

I submit my birth data for research. I am now eligible to promptly receive my 3,000 word natal horoscope for only a $3 cost to make my duplicate copy plus 50¢ postage and handling. One or two names from my household may be submitted. (Limit of 2–no exceptions)

'COUNTRY MUSIC IS ALL GROWN UP'

Country music has gained respectability. It's even fashionable, now. Eight years ago, when the now big popularity of the country sound was growing, a group of its composers, promoters, singers and fans got together and established the Country Music Association Awards ceremonies in the heart of the music industry — Nashville, Tenn. This year, on Monday at 10PM, the ceremonies, hosted by Johnny Cash, will be broadcast from Nashville's New Grand Ole Opry House on CBS.

Country music began as poor-man's music. It was born with the plaintive ballads of the Appalachian mountaineers, folks who for centuries kept their songs as isolated as their lives. Then, when the early magical days of gramaphone and vintage radios dawned, "hill-billy" music was born, spilling over an unknowing population. This newly discovered music spread during the Depression. From the Dust Bowl, it moved onward in rattling model-T's. World War II took it north into defense plants and military barracks.

Today, country music is all grown up. From its back-porch strumming milieu into a structured urban culture, the music has gained stature.

Kris Kristofferson, a Rhodes scholar and one of country music's chief contemporary songwriters and singers, remembers his family's reaction when he told them he was determined to write country songs for a living.

"Nobody who's over 14 years old listens to that kind of music," said his father. "And if they did, they wouldn't be anyone we'd want to know. Don't embarrass us by coming around."

Needless to say, Kristofferson, who will be one of the performers on the Awards broadcast, came around—and will be around for a long time.

Although its demise was forecast when electric guitars, violins and brass intruded, country music quietly boomed, instead. In the 1960s, country records started outselling classical and jazz. Artists like Ray Charles and Bob Dylan caught the bug, which made some people wonder what happened to the hillbilly stereotype.

As one country lady put it, with a toss of her mink stole, "Hillbilly becomes country when you can wear one of these."

A MILIEU OF MATCHLESS MUSIC

"Old blue eyes," Frank Sinatra, and the "Tijuana Rhythm King," Herb Alpert, both return to television this week with musical variety specials back to back. "Sinatra, the Main Event—Madison Square Garden," airs on ABC, Sunday at 9PM, and is followed by "Herb Alpert and the TJB," at 10PM. Sinatra performs in the center of the Garden where the ring is normally located. And sitting "ringside" is his special guest, Howard Cosell. Woody Herman and His Band supply Frank's musical accompaniment. Alpert's musical special will, of course, feature the TJB, and special guests include Jim Henson's Muppets and Lani Hall.

COVER CLOSE-UP

'LAND OF BEAUTY'

Contemporary is the key word for NBC's new Born Free series (Mondays at 8PM). Gary Collins and Diana Muldaur star as George and Joy Adamson, a Game Warden and his dedicated wife, living the free, rugged outdoor life in modern-day Africa. If there's a "message" in the series, it's that people and animals have a great deal in common and must learn to live in harmony together to preserve the beauty of the land.

Some people think of Africa as the home of Tarzan, filled with swampy jungles and steamy riverbeds. Others conjure up the land of the Sahara. Even those who have seen the films "Born Free" and "Living Free" may remember Africa as mostly endless plains of burned-out grass and sparse shrubs.

Kenya does offer all of those settings, from the tropical forests to Lake Victoria, to the dry, treeless near-deserts close to Samburo. But within its borders also lie snow-capped Mounts Kenya and Kilimanjaro and seacoast cities with white sands and blue waters.

A variety of these sites are serving as background for segments of the new series. Though it occasionally travels afield, the Born Free company most often films near its home base in Naivasha, in the highlands of central Kenya, an hour's drive from Nairobi. One of the area's main attractions is Crescent Island, the exposed half-circular rim of an ancient volcano in the middle of Lake Naivasha, a shallow lake approximately five miles in diameter. The island is connected to shore by a short, narrow causeway flanked by lilly pads and high papyrus fronds. On the island, hundreds of water buck and Thompson's gazelles, as well as tiny antelope called dik-dik, vervet monkeys and baboons scamper freely in open grassy areas and in the shade of thickly clustered, yellow-barked fever trees which are visited by an astounding variety of birds.

Though there is a rainy season with almost daily thunderstorms, the summer months get cold and in the dry season, the climate is nearly perfect. Most days are clear, with a pleasant breeze making the warmth of the sun's rays tolerable. The average 68-degree temperature is not only good for the cast and crew, but fine to work with lions who might balk at performing during the heat of the day.

Most crew members are situated in hotels not far from the lakeshore. To wake up in the morning coolness and look outside to freshly mowed lawns, flower gardens and the tranquil lake, a newcomer to Kenya might suspect he was instead on a Newport estate or in the English countryside.

In fact, if you were to drop in at the location site for a visit at around 11AM or 4PM, you'd find an elegant table set with china, trays of cookies and sandwiches and pitchers of milk. The only respite in the long days shooting, which often starts at 8AM and lasts into the evening, are tea and coffee breaks and lunch. So, despite logistical difficulties, the production office sees to it that such breaks are as pleasant as possible. In deference to local custom and the predominantly English crew, it's tea time twice daily, and the tables are likely to be set up alongside a thatched roof hut in a Kikuyu tribal village, or in a forest clearing with Elsa the lioness staked out in the grass only yards away.

But Kenya is also no place for the timid, as danger abounds in the beautiful but sometimes violent landscape. The lions who appear in every episode of the show pose the most obvious dangers. Though well trained, they still possess all the instincts of wild animals, as a frightened extra learned one day when—for some unexplained reason—Elsa broke away from her trainers and took off after him. Ever since, persons not working on a scene must stay in a closed vehicle when the cats are loose.

Other hazards abound in the tall grasses that hide puff adders, horned vipers, pythons and other poisonous snakes. Fierce Masai tribesman who populate the area present another kind of problem. A photographer who filmed a Masai without permission barely got away with his life when the irritated warrior hurled a spear close enough to graze the man's leg.

Equally frightening are the unseen dangers of Kenya: the diseases that abound in the primitive countryside. Innoculated against cholera, typhoid, typhus, yellow fever, small pox and hepatitis, the cast and crew must also remember to take their weekly anti-malarial medication.

'HERB ALBERT RETURNS'

Mention the name Herb Alpert and some very distinct images come to mind . . . a smooth looking man with coal black hair, the tense stance of a trumpet player blowing a Latin sound through his horn, Mexico, Brass, bullfighting, the Tijuana Brass. On Sunday at 10PM, all those images will coalesce for all the nation to see on "The Sentry Collection: Herb Alpert and the TJB" with special guest stars Jim Henson's Muppets and Lani Hall, on ABC. The special will prove one thing for sure: it's not often in the music industry that a performer can be so closely identified with a sound as Herb Alpert is with his TJB. The group has been in moth balls five years now as Herb took time out from performing in 1969. And yet five years later, anyone who listened to music in the 1960's will remember Herb as distinctly as they do the Beatles. In his special way, he made as big an impact on the music scene as John, Paul, George and Ringo.

What a sound! Twelve years ago, Herb went to his very first bullfight. He relates, "I was very much taken up by the sound of the mariachi band and also the colors and general bravado of the occasion. I had the thought of trying to combine jazz or my type of music with that feeling." Herb maintains that he wasn't trying to reproduce the music of Mexico per se, but rather the feeling that he had experiencing the bullfight.

A short month later, Herb recorded "The Lonely Bull". He was searching for a name for his group, something that had retention value so that you'd know it when you heard it. The name Tijuana Brass was suggested by one of the band members. It had a nice ring to it and so did Herb's music.

The group introduced a unique style of music and combination of mariachi jazz and pop with a dash of rock. The Lonely Bull instrumental quickly sold a million copies and a skyrocketing career was launched. Within two years, the Tijuana Brass albums were achieving sales as high as 3.5 million. The demand swelled for public appearances, so Herb started to make concert tours and star in television.

Overnight he went from being a trumpet player at weddings to stardom. Each of his 13 albums had surpassed the coveted million figure. Total sales numbered more than 45 records. Moreover, one of Herb's television specials has gone down as one of the highest rated specials of all time.

Actor James Brolin turns country singer as he hosts "New Country."

'NEW COUNTRY'

The contemporary sound of country music, with an all-star lineup of current country pop singers, is presented in an hour-long musical special, "New Country," hosted by James Brolin, Wednesday at 8PM on KNBC, Channel 4. Guests Hoyt Axton, Rita Coolidge, Kris Kristofferson, Marty Mitchell, Johnny Rodriguez, Buffy Sainte-Marie and Diana Trask offer their special brand of country-western music in an updated setting.

Host James Brolin, best known for his television role as Dr. Steven Kiley on Marcus Welby, M.D., is himself a country music enthusiast, and recently recorded his first country album. He introduces the program with an emphasis on the new country sound, as a music "whose time has come, and changing along with the people who love it."

Diana Trask opens the show with "Say When," then joins veteran country singer/composer Hoyt Axton for "When the Morning Comes." Axton, who has penned such country hits as "Greenback Dollar" and "Never Been to Spain," also tells of his long career as a songwriter and underground Western singer before "When the Morning Comes" popularized him as a country star.

Kris Kristofferson then solos with "I May Smoke Too Much" and "Lights of Magdala," while Rita Coolidge sings, "Hold An Old Friend's Hand" and "Mama Lou." The popular husband-and-wife singers join to talk briefly with Brolin about what singing means to them, before offering a duet of "It Sure Was."

The young country sound is represented by such stars as 21-year-old Johnny Rodriguez, who sings "Something" and "Dance With Me," and Marty Mitchell, who performs with "Midnight Man." Buffy St.-Marie offers, "I Can't Take It No More" and "I Want to Be a Country Girl," then joins Axton for "Boney Fingers."

James Brolin is spotlighted as he solos with "Rodeo Rider," followed by the entire cast joining in the Axton-composed hit, "Joy to the World."

'LISTEN, THAT'S LOVE'

The many faces of singer/composer Paul Williams are unveiled in a one-hour, musical-variety special, "Listen, That's Love," featuring guest appearances by top-named contemporary artists, Helen Reddy, Olivia Newton-John, Roslyn Kind, and Seals and Crofts, Tuesday at 8PM on KNBC, Channel 4.

Williams, who has composed such million-selling hits as "Just

An Old Fashioned Love Song" and "We've Only Just Begun," wrote the title song, "Listen, That's Love," expressly for the program, and uses it to open the musical hour. He is then joined by popular songstress, Helen Reddy, who offers her hit version of the Paul Williams-composed song, "You and Me Against the World."

The comedic side of songwriter Williams decorates the musical hour, as Williams dons comic costume to impersonate such memorable Hollywood greats as Peter Lorre in "The Maltese Falcon," Charlie Chaplin, Laurel and Hardy, Shirley Temple, and the possessed girl in "The Exorcist." At the same time, he sets his music humorously to the characters he portrays.

In a more serious moment, Williams offers his million-selling hit, "Rainy Days and Mondays," followed by the softly stylized voice of Olivia Newton-John, singing her current hit, "I Love You, I Honestly Love You." Williams then introduces composer/conducter Kenny Ascher at the piano, who joins him for their co-composed song, "Loneliness." Singer Roslyn Kind follows with "Winners," and Seals and Crofts entertain with "Ruby Jean and Billie Lee," as dedicated and sung to their wives.

In an audience setting, Williams closes the program with his solo performance of two more of his compositions, "I Won't Last a Day," and "Sad Song."

'TOUCHING LOVE STORY'

Kay Lenz is up to her old tricks again. The youthful brunette who has specialized in portraying off-beat and controversial characters is once again in front of the cameras in a role that would tax the talent of any actress. Miss Lenz guests in the role of a 22-year-old retarded girl who is kidnapped and later befriended by a desperate bank robber in "The Hostage" episode of the new dramatic series, "Nakia," Saturday (Oct. 19) at 10PM on ABC. The role is, by her own admission, the most challenging she has ever played.

"When I first heard the story I thought it was just another kidnap and chase idea," she said on location in Madrid, New Mexico. "But when I read the script I realized that this was one of the most touching love stories I had ever read. I couldn't believe that it was a story being done for series television."

The young actor who plays the thief who finds love and companionship for the first time in the person of the retarded girl he has kidnapped is David Huffman, who won acclaim for his performance in the "Dangerous Age" episode of Police Story. It was a choice that met with instant approval from Kay. "I had been a fan of David's since I first saw him in the F. Scott Fitzgerald special 'The Last of the Belles.' In Nakia we found that we worked very well together which was lucky since both of our parts were demanding and we had hardly any rehearsal time. It made our work a little easier knowing that the director, Lee Philips, used to be an actor. He really understood our problems.

"This was the first time I had ever done a show where the stars of the series actually asked to have their parts cut down. But Robert Forster, Arthur Kennedy, Gloria DeHaven and Taylor Lacher simply told the producers that they wanted the show to be ours. It was a rare and special time for me."

Ever since her first major part when she played a suicidal, teenage hooker in "The Weekend Nun" for ABC's Movie of the Week, Kay has been in demand whenever there is a female part demanding more than a pretty face and attractive wardrobe. In just the past two years she has starred in four Movies of the Week; portrayed the love interest to William Holden in "Breezy" which was directed by Clint Eastwood; starred in the title role in "Lisa, Dark and Bright" for Hallmark Hall of Fame and guested in several series including The Streets of San Francisco and Cannon.

"When I first started getting nothing but off-beat parts I got scared that I might be type-cast," she said. "Now, though, I realize I have been lucky because these are the kinds of parts that really hone an actress's craft. When I get older maybe I can play some normal roles. I know that when they do come I will be better prepared to play them."

Ask Them Yourself

Want to ask a famous person a question? Send the question on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR RONA JAFFE, author of "Family Secrets"

When did you first decide to be a writer?—A. S., Hartford, Conn.

● At five—when I saw my first "Tarzan" film! I thought it would be loads of fun to be a lady reporter and go into the dark and dangerous jungle with a man reporter. My first job was editing for a magazine where I had to rewrite other people's lurid stories (cleaning them up and toning them down). At that time sex wasn't as fashionable as it is now. My bosses felt that since I was 20, I was naïve and would therefore inject some innocence into the manuscripts. Finally I decided if I could improve the work of others, I should write under my own name.

FOR ALAN ALDA

How much are you and "Hawkeye," the character you portray on "M°A°S°H," alike?—Paula Wall, Hobbs, N.M.

● Neither of us is interested in war, and we both try to do our work as well as we can. Unlike the character, I'm a family man and I don't drink martinis (I've never had one in my life); but I do have a sense of humor that's always with me. When it's not on display, I keep it hidden—just below the surface!

FOR JEANE DIXON, seeress

I thought that you did not use your gift of prophecy for monetary gain but that you gave all remunerations to charity. Now I hear this is not true. Would you comment?—H. Tobola, Cadott, Wis.

● All the earnings from my lectures, articles and various radio and TV appearances go directly to the Children to Children Foundation. I personally do not receive one cent.

FOR JAYNE MEADOWS

Why do you wear furs and feathers when you claim to be a conservationist?—James Giarelli, Gainesville, Fla.

● The furs I wear are either fake or else minks that Steve bought me 15 years ago. Mink is not an endangered species. When I have to wear furs for a role, I make sure they're not from an endangered species. For "Love American Style," I wore the ostrich-feather coat designed by Edith Head 40 years ago for Carole Lombard, and supplied by Paramount Pictures. I'm not a hypocrite! I love all humans and animals.

FOR JOHNNY BENCH, catcher for the Cincinnati Reds

Doesn't being a catcher get pretty hard on your knees?—Taimi Crowell, Hawthorne, Calif.

● Actually, it's hard on the whole leg, not just the knees. When you get up and down that often, you really begin to feel it. That's one reason I like to play another position from time to time. It gives me a nice break from catching, and I still get to stay in the game.

FOR O. J. SIMPSON, football star

During the football strike, you said that "freedom of speech" was one of the players' demands that most concerned you. Could you explain?—Ted Davidson, Teaneck, N.J.

● Too often free speech in pro football has been a one-way street. For example, in Atlanta last year Coach Norm Van Brocklin said he would fine any player who criticized the Falcons' organization in the press. Yet he held players up to ridicule in front of media people. We want the chance to speak as freely as the people who discuss us with the media.

FOR ELIZABETH POST,
director of the Emily Post Institute

Should parents accept an invitation from their unmarried son or daughter to visit the apartment they're sharing with someone of the opposite sex?—G. B., Albany, N.Y.

● I definitely think they should. To refuse gains the parents nothing but a loss of communication and influence with their child. And, of course, "acceptance" of the invitation doesn't necessarily mean approval of the arrangement.

FOR MARY STUART, star of "Search for Tomorrow"

What episodes have you enjoyed most in "Search for Tomorrow"?—T. Valins, Pontiac, Mich.

● Two stand out. When I played a blind character and a deaf mute. It was challenging and fascinating, and it gave me enormous insight into how handicapped people live. I prefer stories in which I can become totally involved and lose my own identity. For selfish reasons, I'd love to have more of the music I write played on the show. My song, "Don't Look Back," was used on "Search," and it was very well received.

FOR ARTHUR HERZOG, author of "Swarm"

Is there a real likelihood that dangerous bees from South America are coming north, as you predict in your novel?—Tom Moore, Sacramento, Calif.

● Yes, there is. The bees are now in Brazil—they are imports from Africa and escaped there—and are coming north at about 200 miles a year. If they make it all the way to the U.S., they could be a problem, as they are very irritable and attack in swarms. But the U.S. Government is taking measures to try and keep them out.

FOR THE ASK THEM YOURSELF EDITOR

Do you have any professional ideas on whether it's better for an adopted child to be told of his natural parents and the circumstances that led to his adoption?—A. C., Philadelphia, Pa.

Roger Grimsby

● Professional opinion still indicates the child should NOT be told, because of the resultant search by the child for his biological parents and the emotional trauma that might result from it. Roger Grimsby, anchorman of ABC-TV's "Eyewitness News," is an adopted child who, despite sealed legal documents, was successful in locating his natural parents. In a recent lecture on the subject, he admitted he has been left with mixed feelings. He believes that the information should not be provided to the adoptive parents, but the child himself should be able to get it when he reaches legal age.

Famous Scandinavian Design Scissors

The Scissors that are molded to your hand

- Cushion plastic handles with contour finger grip gives you more comfort and cutting freedom than you've ever experienced before.
- Stainless steel blades
- Cut paper . . . patterns . . . fabrics with incredible ease

Some time ago those inventive Scandinavians introduced an entirely new concept in scissors. It was a scissors with a special cushioned handle anatomically designed to fit your hand. The comfort was incredible. You could cut through the most intricate curve, cut all kinds of materials, cut free hand into all kinds of designs or slip the scissors along the table for an even straight line cut. People who were used to the old fashioned kind of scissors couldn't imagine a pair of scissors working so efficiently and so effortlessly as this new design. Seamstresses and anyone who needed them knew they had discovered a secret. But originally these scissors cost much, much more. In fact, even today you can find this design selling for $8.00 or more in fine stores. But now we've created this same design at a fantastically low price. "Shear Joy"! It's got the familiar orange, cushion soft, plastic handle, the stainless steel blades, weighs only 3 ounces, and they're 8¼" long. If you thought there was nothing glamorous about a pair of scissors then wait until you've tried these. At this new low price you can't afford to be without them. Order now. If they are not shear joy, simply return for full money back.

Johnny Cash Talks About Himself, His Music–And His "Anchor," June

Globe Photos

Johnny Cash and June Carter with their son John Carter. Johnny and June will host the CBS-TV special Country Music Award Show on October 14.

"On weekends, when I drive out the gate, sometimes there are 40 or 50 tour buses out there! They unload at the front gate and take pictures of the house. . . . I'd like to say it doesn't bother me."

Normally, country-western superstar Johnny Cash shuns interviews. And when he does consent to them, he invariably includes his wife, June Carter, or (as in this case) Rosanne Cash (Johnny's daughter) and Rosie Nix (June's daughter). The meeting was held in their New York hotel suite.

Johnny Cash seemed to be a very relaxed man, one who smiles so often he should pose for toothpaste ads. He is much younger looking and better looking in person than he seems on TV. He talked easily, giggled often and acted very much like a man who has just found the secret of how to stay happy. Like his wife June, he wears an Israeli wedding ring and, around his neck, both the Star of David and a gold cross.

FAMILY WEEKLY: What makes you happy now?

JOHNNY: Having my family with me. It really does. That's what makes me happy, and knowing that everything's all right! Of course, a man's got to enjoy his work. I really enjoy working. The girls and I come off the stage at night and we're as high as kites! We're just so happy with what we're doing. And having John Carter [Johnny's youngest son, age four] with us makes us all feel better. He's here today, playing out in the park.

FW: Music seems to be kind of a way of life with you.

JOHNNY: It always has been. The girls both inherited a legacy of music I suppose, especially Rosie. Music in this family goes back to 1927, when her grandmother, Maybelle Carter, first started recording. June, Rosie's mother, has been onstage since she was six. I've been at it for 20 years. All Rosanne has ever known is her daddy as an entertainer and performer. I guess she wouldn't know what it was like to have a daddy who lived a normal life and worked at a regular job.

FW: Then music has always been part of your family?

JOHNNY: It's a binding kind of thing because we feel a closeness when we're singing that nobody could feel any other way. It's like we're sharing a song together. And the song is coming from each one of us, but it's coming from all of us as well. It's like a marriage out there. We're all one!

FW: How do you explain the growing interest in country-and-western music?

JOHNNY: In many ways, country and western has grown up. It's appealing to a lot more people. It's meshing and merging in a lot of ways without losing any of its originality, pureness and simplicity of form. At the same time, which is a strange thing, people like Willie Nelson, Waylon Jennings and guys like that are calling their music "hard country rock" or "hard country." Waylon Jennings is kind of like an outlaw in country and western. In many ways, he's like me. I've never really been quite orthodox country. I've done it according to feel. And that's the way a lot of people like Waylon are doing it. There's honesty in his performance and delivery. He doesn't compromise the way he feels just to please a certain group of peole. He is himself. But it's not all a bed of roses family-wise. Life on the road is very stimulating and exciting. It's a great life, living in a nice hotel like this and playing a beautiful place like the Music Theater. But when we get home, then the tough part starts. It's hard for a 42-year-old man to understand a 16-year-old or a 19-year-old girl! When we go home, there's a lot of pressure that builds up. Things are waiting for us to come home and take care of.

FW: But isn't home the only place you can really relax?

JOHNNY: It's the only place you can't relax unless you stay home three or four weeks. Then you can adjust to the change of pace. But you need time to separate the entertainment world and the home world. We haven't found that time.

FW: Do you find when you travel together as a family that you're so glad to be with each other that you don't need other people around?

JOHNNY: That's certainly not true with the girls. June and I are fairly exclusive. For example, when we finish a concert, we always have an invitation to go to a club or hear another entertainer. We rarely do it. If we could, we would put on wigs and glasses and go sit in the audience like everybody else. That would be great! We did that once.

FW: Would you like to be a bum and just go out there and do what you want to?

JOHNNY: Secretly, maybe I would! I have a blond wig and glasses. June put hers on one time, too, and the two of us went to see the Carter Family and sat right in the front row and nobody knew us. It was great fun. I guess there's a little bit of that in all of us, when we'd like to be just a face in the crowd.

FW: How do you relax?

ROSANNE: He goes off with John Carter mostly, fishing.

JOHNNY: I enjoy John Carter. I relax a lot with him. And I love to go to movies! Do you know what I like? I like children's movies! I looked in The New York Times and saw what movies were showing here for children. I saw "The Song of the South" was playing again. I'd like to go see that again. I took John Carter to see "Herbie Rides Again." That's the last movie I've seen. Do you know what I enjoy about it? The children! I enjoy the laughter and applause of children. I really get a kick out of that. I don't know if you saw it, but I really loved the scene when that Volkswagen ran up the side of that building and jumped across the river! All those kids were jumping and screaming and laughing!

FW: Have your exposure on TV and frequent public appearances robbed you of your privacy?

JOHNNY: Sometimes I resent the

One of the "little old ladies" who uses Silk & Silver.®

Eighth in a series:

She's Betty King Barker, industrial designer who can list among her credits 4 careers, 3 grandchildren, 2 sons, and 1 husband. She also manages to find time for tennis, golf and looking after her good looks. To keep her silvery hair bright and beautiful, she uses Silk & Silver, Clairol's long lasting color lotion in Silvery Pearl* #14.

"So easy," says Mrs. Barker, "I just shampoo it in every few weeks — it colors away the yellow, adds lots of body and wonderfully rich deep color." And it has no peroxide.

Mr. Barker approves. "Gray hair looks so young on Betty."

Precious 24K Gold, married to pure .999 Silver by an extraordinary advance in Gold Metallurgy.

12 Great Americans 1776-1976.

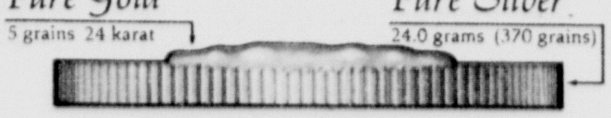
The World's first Medallic Series in Gold Bas Relief.

(UNITED STATES CITIZENS ARE LEGALLY ALLOWED TO OWN GOLD AND SILVER IN THIS FORM.)

As our great country approaches its second centennial. The Letcher Mint proudly presents a limited edition of intricately crafted commemorative medals...unique in all the world:

For more than four years research has been conducted in the laboratories of The Letcher Mint, drawing heavily on the latest space-age developments in the forming of precious metals.

As a result of these painstaking efforts by the craftsmen and technicians of the west's largest private mint, we now can create a single amazing piece of metal—with pure 24 K gold and the purest silver obtainable (99.9% silver) permanently combined to form a collector's item of exceptional rarity and beauty. This is not gold plating or common "gold on silver" —but an entirely new and revolutionary process.



A Treasury of Americana

In the relatively short span of time between 1776 and 1976 the ideas and deeds of these great men helped make America the most influential country in the world.

George Washington
Benjamin Franklin
John Paul Jones
Alexander Hamilton
Abraham Lincoln
Robert E. Lee
Mark Twain
Thomas A. Edison
Theodore Roosevelt
Charles A. Lindbergh
Dwight D. Eisenhower
John F. Kennedy

Now at a time when world events rush forward at breathtaking speed, the wise collector and novice alike have a rare opportunity. That of owning a series of precious medals of both historic significance and true intrinsic worth.

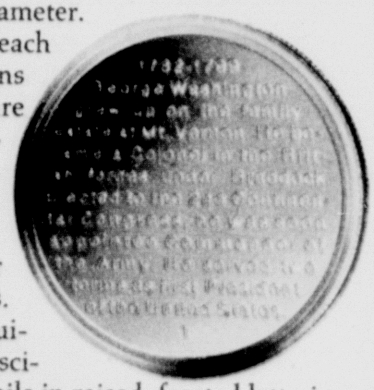
Sculptured by Boris Buzan

One of America's greatest contemporary sculptors — Boris Buzan was honored by the prestigious Society of Medalists in 1969 for his Apollo 11 design. Having recently completed his Signers of the Declaration of Independence series, Mr. Buzan is devoting himself to sculpturing the Great Americans series for The Letcher Mint.

Enduring Value

As the cost of gold and silver on world markets spirals inexorably upward, there could be no wiser choice for the collector than a purchase of pure gold and pure silver medals and coins. For here truly is a commodity whose value is timeless and virtually indestructible.

Each piece in this distinguished series measures a full 39mm (1.53") in diameter. The obverse side depicts each of 12 Great Americans sculptured in brilliant pure gold (24 K). The mirror-like, pure silver background is finely detailed with illustrations individually designed for each of the 12 medals. The reverse dies are exquisitely engraved with fascinating biographical details in raised, frosted lettering, against the gleaming, pure silver background. And each piece contains a total of 5 grains of pure 24 K gold and 370 grains of pure .999 silver (more pure than sterling).



Limited Edition

In honor of the 200th anniversary of the American Revolution, 9,800 sets of Great Americans medals will be struck. 5,000 of these have been reserved for existing Letcher Mint collectors, leaving only 4,800 available to the public at large, on a first come, first served basis. No other sets will be struck and the dies will be destroyed, insuring the rarity of the series and its value to the collector.

Price Guarantee

The Great Americans series will be issued at the approximate rate of one medal per month. And the issue price of $30 per piece will be maintained regardless of increases in the prices of gold and silver on world markets during the life of your series. This offer will expire December 30, 1974.

Please complete the order form below and each medal will be sent to you postpaid via insured mail, in its own case. You will be notified monthly as each medal is struck. What's more, when the order for your fourth medal is confirmed, you will be sent prepaid, a luxurious presentation case with lock and key, to house your entire collection.

Save $30

Charge to your credit card number or send a check for $330 with your application, you will receive prepaid, all 12 medals and the beautiful presentation case without additional invoices or effort (you save $30).

We believe that this extraordinary series will become one of your most valued possessions. If after viewing your first medal you do not agree, just return it within 10 days for a full refund. After that you may discontinue your subscription at any time with no further obligation.

Everyone knows country fair recipes taste good. But this fall, as prices go up, preserving, pickling and home-baking make more sense than ever!

Delicious Country Recipes to Bake, Preserve or Pickle!

Moss Studio

Arranged on a double-wedding-ring quilt: Cranberry Relish, Country Gold Oatmeal Bread, Dilly Tomatoes, Anadama Batter Bread, East India Pineapple Chutney and Red 'n' Orange Plum Jam.

Country Gold Oatmeal Bread

2 pkgs. active dry yeast
½ cup very warm tap water (120°F.-130°F.)
2⅓ cups milk
⅓ cup soft shortening, butter or margarine
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup molasses
6-6½ cups unsifted all-purpose flour
2½ cups quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked

1. Soften yeast in water. Heat milk till a rim of bubbles forms around edge of pan. Add shortening, salt, sugar and molasses; cool to lukewarm.

2. Beat 2 cups flour into lukewarm milk mixture. Add softened yeast and oats. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough.

3. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 8-10 minutes. Round dough into a ball. Place in large greased bowl; turn to grease top.

4. Cover with dish towel and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until double in size, about 1 hour.

5. Punch dough down; cover, let rest 10 minutes. Cut dough in half and shape into two loaves.

6. Place in 2 greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pans. Brush surface lightly with melted or liquid shortening.

7. Cover; let rise until nearly double in size, about 45 minutes. Fifteen minutes before rising time is up preheat oven to 350°F.

8. Bake about 45-50 minutes, until surface is deep brown and loaf sounds hollow when rapped with knuckle. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks. Makes 2 large loaves

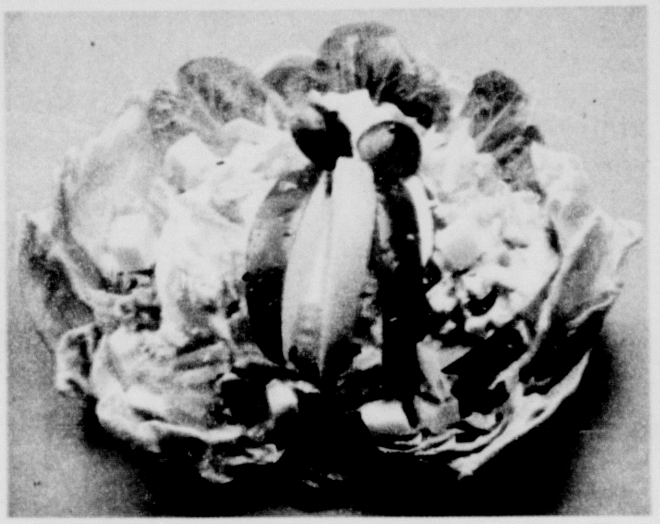
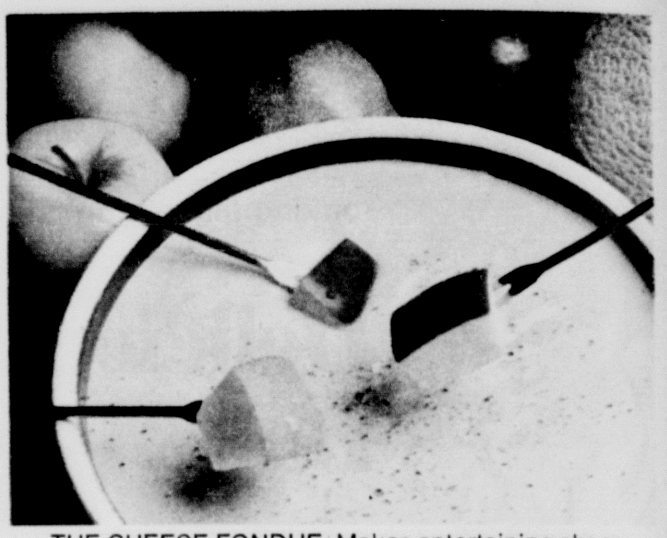
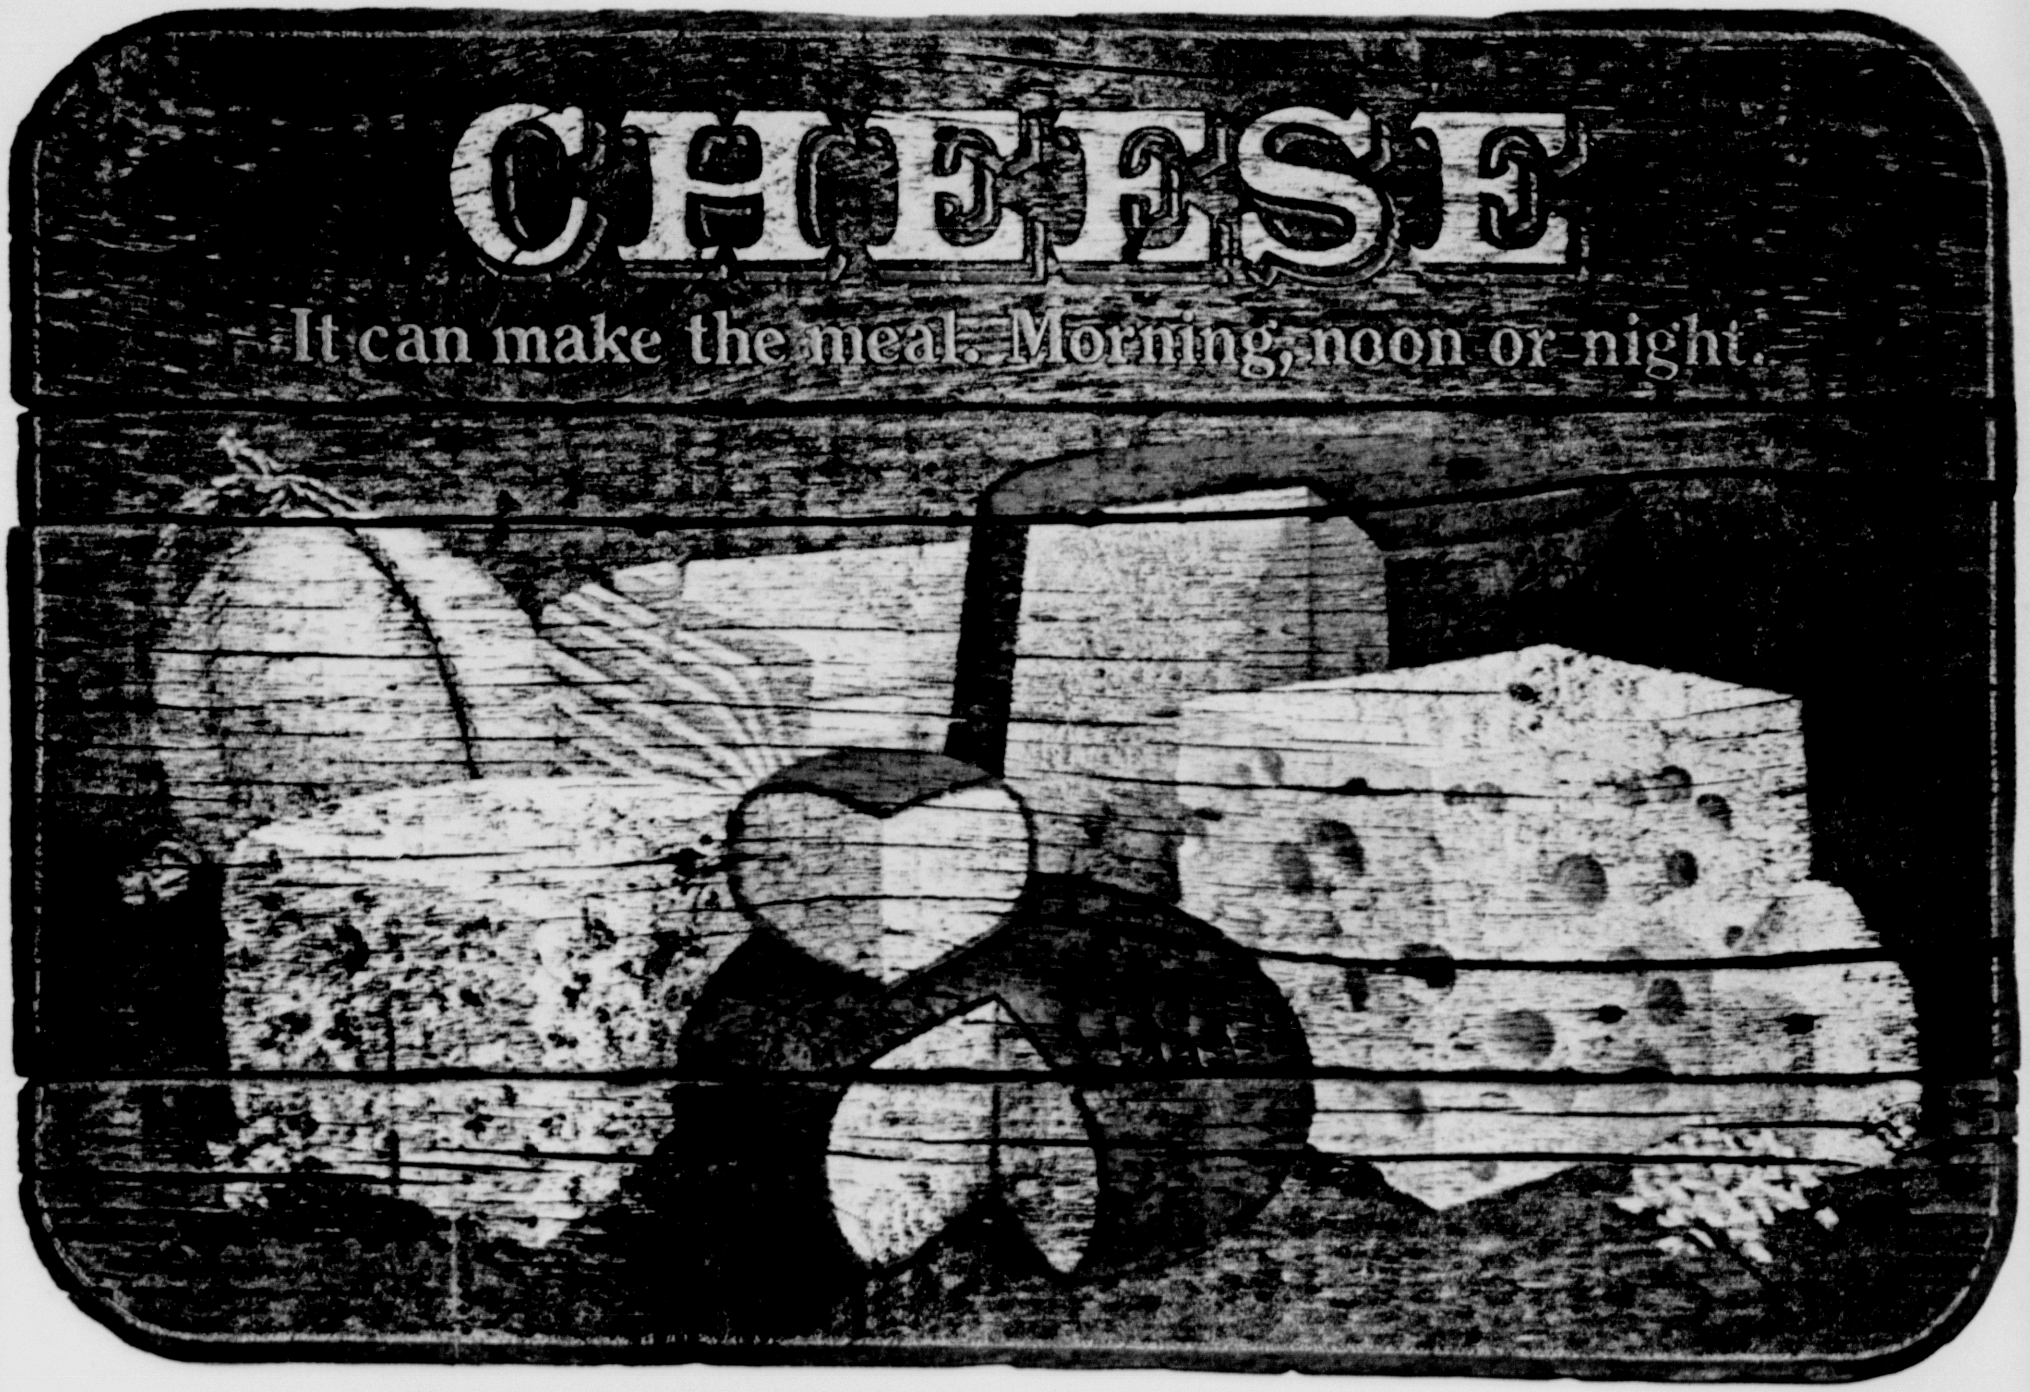
THE MORNING MUFFIN. Makes a great waker-upper. Savor the taste of bacon (Canadian style), pineapple and Swiss grilled on a hot English muffin.



THE APPLE SALAD. Makes a delicious lunch. The taste of Cheddar, Swiss, apples and nuts. Mixed with a sour cream dressing; served on crisp garden greens.



THE CHEESE FONDUE. Makes entertaining sheer delight. It's a delicious little dip for sliced apples, pears, honeydew or cantaloupe chunks.



When most people think of cheese, they think of protein-rich omelets, sandwiches, and casseroles. Sometimes they forget that cheese makes great Soufflés. Waldorf Salads. Canapés. Fondues. And lots of other great tastin' dishes.
So we put together this little cookbook called Cheese Magic. It only costs a quarter. And it's full of recipes for delicious dishes like the ones above.
Come on, send in today. Taste how cheese can make the meal. Morning, noon or night.

Three Tangy Relishes For Home Canners

ANADAMA BATTER BREAD

2 pkgs. active dry yeast
½ cup very warm tap water (120°F.-130°F.)
1½ cups enriched cornmeal
¼ cup butter or margarine
⅓ cup molasses
1 tablespoon salt
2 cups boiling water
4 cups unsifted all-purpose flour

1. Soften yeast in water.
2. In large bowl combine cornmeal, butter, molasses and salt. Stir in boiling water; cool to lukewarm.
3. Beat in 1 cup of flour, stir in softened yeast. Add 2 cups of flour, beating 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer and scraping bowl occasionally.
4. Beat in remaining 1 cup flour with spoon. Batter will be sticky.
5. Spoon into 8 greased 10½-oz. soup cans or 1 greased 1-lb. coffee can, 1 greased 23-oz. sweet-potato can and 3 greased 10½-oz. soup cans. Spread batter evenly with a greased spatula or knife.
6. Let rise in warm place until batter is ¾ inch from tops of cans, about 25 minutes.
7. Just before rising time is up, preheat oven to 375°F. Bake about 35-40 minutes, or until tops are deep golden brown and loaves sound hollow when rapped with a knuckle.
8. Loosen loaves from cans with long spatula, let cool. Cut in rounds to serve. Makes 8 miniature loaves

DILLY TOMATOES

For each quart jar:
6-8 small, whole, green or underripe tomatoes
1 whole garlic clove, peeled
1 small hot red-pepper pod or ¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
4-6 whole peppercorns
1 sprig fresh dill (or 1 teaspoon dillseed)

Salt-vinegar mixture for 4-6 qts. of tomatoes:
½ cup kosher salt
3 qts. water
1 qt. cider vinegar

1. Wash tomatoes and pack tightly in clean, hot jars. Add garlic, pepper pod, peppercorns and dill to each jar.
2. In a saucepan, bring salt, water and vinegar to a boil. Pour hot solution into jars, covering tomatoes (allow ½ inch space on top). Run sterile knife or spatula down sides of jars to release air bubbles.
3. Seal jars immediately.
Makes as many as desired

CRANBERRY RELISH

2 lbs. fresh or thawed frozen cranberries, rinsed
3½ cups water
½ cup cider or white vinegar
¼-1 teaspoon ground cloves
¼-1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼-1 teaspoon ground allspice
5½ cups sugar
½ bottle (6-oz. size) liquid fruit pectin
Paraffin

1. In 3-4-qt. saucepan combine cranberries, water and vinegar. Heat to boiling. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Add spices, using amounts to suit individual taste.
2. Turn fruit into a very large saucepan or Dutch oven. Stir in sugar. Place over high heat. Bring to a full roiling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.
3. Remove from heat and stir in pectin immediately. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Stir and skim for 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit.
4. Ladle hot mixture into sterilized glasses. Clean edges of glasses if necessary. Cover at once with ⅛-inch hot paraffin. Makes about 9½ cups or about 12 (6-oz. size) glasses

EAST INDIA PINEAPPLE CHUTNEY

2 cans (1 lb.-4 oz. size) crushed pineapple and syrup
2 large limes, quartered
1 cup red-wine vinegar
2 cups raisins
1 cup light-brown sugar, packed
2 tablespoons chopped crystallized ginger
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground allspice
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder

1. Turn pineapple and syrup into 2-qt. saucepan.
2. Combine lime quarters and vinegar in electric-blender container. Cover and blend until chopped.
3. Add chopped limes and vinegar to pineapple along with remaining ingredients. Heat to a roiling boil, stirring. Reduce heat to medium and boil slowly, uncovered, for 1 hour, until thickened.
4. Ladle hot mixture into 5 (½-pint size) sterilized jars with self-sealing lids. Seal tightly. Makes 5 cups

Sweet & Savory Beans: Saute ½ cup sliced celery, ½ cup chopped green pepper, ½ lb. sliced wieners in 2 tbsp. butter until tender. Add 2 tbsp. (each) br. sugar, soy sauce, Stokely's Finest catsup, 1 tbsp. vinegar, 1 tsp. corn starch, 21 oz. Van Camp's pork & beans. Heat to serving temperature. Serves 4-6.

This high-dome 11" electric skillet thinks it's a serving dish, because it is. It fries, grills, roasts most anything . . . indoors or out. Then with a flip of the "dial-a-meal" control it automatically keeps food deliciously-hot throughout meal time.

Makes meals easier on you. Cleans up easier, too, because it's dishwasher-safe, and has a scratch-resistant, No-Stick interior finish.

West Bend® Buffet Skillet, only $15.95* and 2 pork & beans labels.

And to make our offer more tempting, we're giving you the taste-tempting recipe shown above. It's made with one of America's great simple pleasures . . . Van Camp's Pork and Beans.

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price $29.95.

Johnny Cash

knocks on the door. A lot of people just come walking up to our house—even at night. Of course, we have a guard, and the alarm system is always working. There's no way anybody could break in. But people come. A songwriter or somebody from a charity organization who thinks he needs my help. They knock on my door late at night and want to talk to me. Invariably, I say, "I'm sorry! I don't take care of business at home. You'll have to see somebody in my office tomorrow." I try to handle it as politely as I can.

FW: What steps do you take to insure your privacy?

JOHNNY: I lock the door or tell the guard I'm not at home or I don't want to see anybody unless it's an emergency. Or I go to my back room, stay in there and sleep or read by myself. I don't think I've done it more than twice in my life, but I can if I want to! On weekends, when I drive out the gate, sometimes there are 40 or 50 tour buses out there! They unload at the front gate and take pictures of the house. The bus goes up to the end of the street, turns around and comes back and picks up the people.

FW: Does that bug you?

JOHNNY: There are times when there might be 400 or 500 people standing out in front of my house! I'd like to say it doesn't bother me. Sometimes—and usually it's when I'm in a hurry—I hit that driveway and there are 300 people blocking the car! For pictures and autographs. It's taken a lot of wisdom and prayer to know how to handle it.

FW: How does June help you in this?

JOHNNY: She is a solid rock! She'll stop and talk to those people.

ROSIE: She'll give them her life story. And stand there and chat with them and give them recipes.

JOHNNY: I tell you, she has been the human anchor that God gave me to hold on to through those kinds of things. And I'm pretty hard on her. Sometimes when people want to talk or ask a question, I turn to her and let her answer it. June is a very strong person spiritually. No matter what the crisis is, she'll always stop me cold with a smile! She'll say, "Now raise your right hand and reach up for some strength!" Sometimes, if it's really a crisis, I'll say, "Don't bug me!" And I'll refuse to raise my hand! But she'll just keep looking at me and keep smiling. And she'll stick her hand up there higher and higher until finally I'll have to do it too!

A hot & hearty way to wow them with chicken.

Swanson Boned Chicken (or Turkey), tender and juicy, makes up into all kinds of your favorite dishes: from simple salads and casseroles to fancy entrees. Convenient and quick as tuna, too.

And just wait until your family gets their first taste of this hearty new main dish. Wonderful aroma, and a taste so good, it's sure to become an all-time favorite.

Watch it, tuna.
Anything you can do,
Swanson Boned Chicken can, too.

Hearty Chicken à la Swanson

4 slices bacon
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup water
1/4 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon paprika
4 cups sliced cooked potatoes
1 cup sliced onion
3/4 cup chopped celery
4 cups spinach cut in bite-size pieces
2 cans (5 ounces each) Swanson Boned Chicken or Turkey, cut up
1 hard-boiled egg, sliced

In skillet, cook bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Stir flour into drippings. Gradually blend in water, vinegar, sugar, and seasonings. Cook, stirring until thickened. In saucepan, combine potatoes, onion, and celery. Add vinegar mixture. Heat for 5 minutes; stir occasionally. Add spinach, chicken, and bacon. Cover; heat until spinach is just cooked. Garnish with egg. Makes about 8½ cups.

Two Fresh Pear Treats to Make And Preserve

LEMON PEAR MARMALADE

4 lemons
2 cups water
3 lbs. fresh pears (7 cups), peeled and diced
3½ cups sugar

1. Thinly slice and seed lemons. Place in 3-qt. saucepan or 6-qt. Dutch oven with water. Bring to boil and boil 10 minutes, or until lemon peel is tender.

2. Add pears and sugar to lemon/water mixture. Heat to boiling, stirring, until sugar dissolves. Reduce heat and let boil gently for about 30 minutes, stirring frequently to prevent scorching.

3. Ladle boiling mixture into hot sterilized jars and seal.

4. Check seal next day. If not vacuum sealed, open, boil mixture and re-sterilize jars. Makes 3 pints

Derived from the green-gold juiciness of fresh pears and touched with a whisper of lemon, Lemon Pear Marmalade is perfect on hot English muffins.

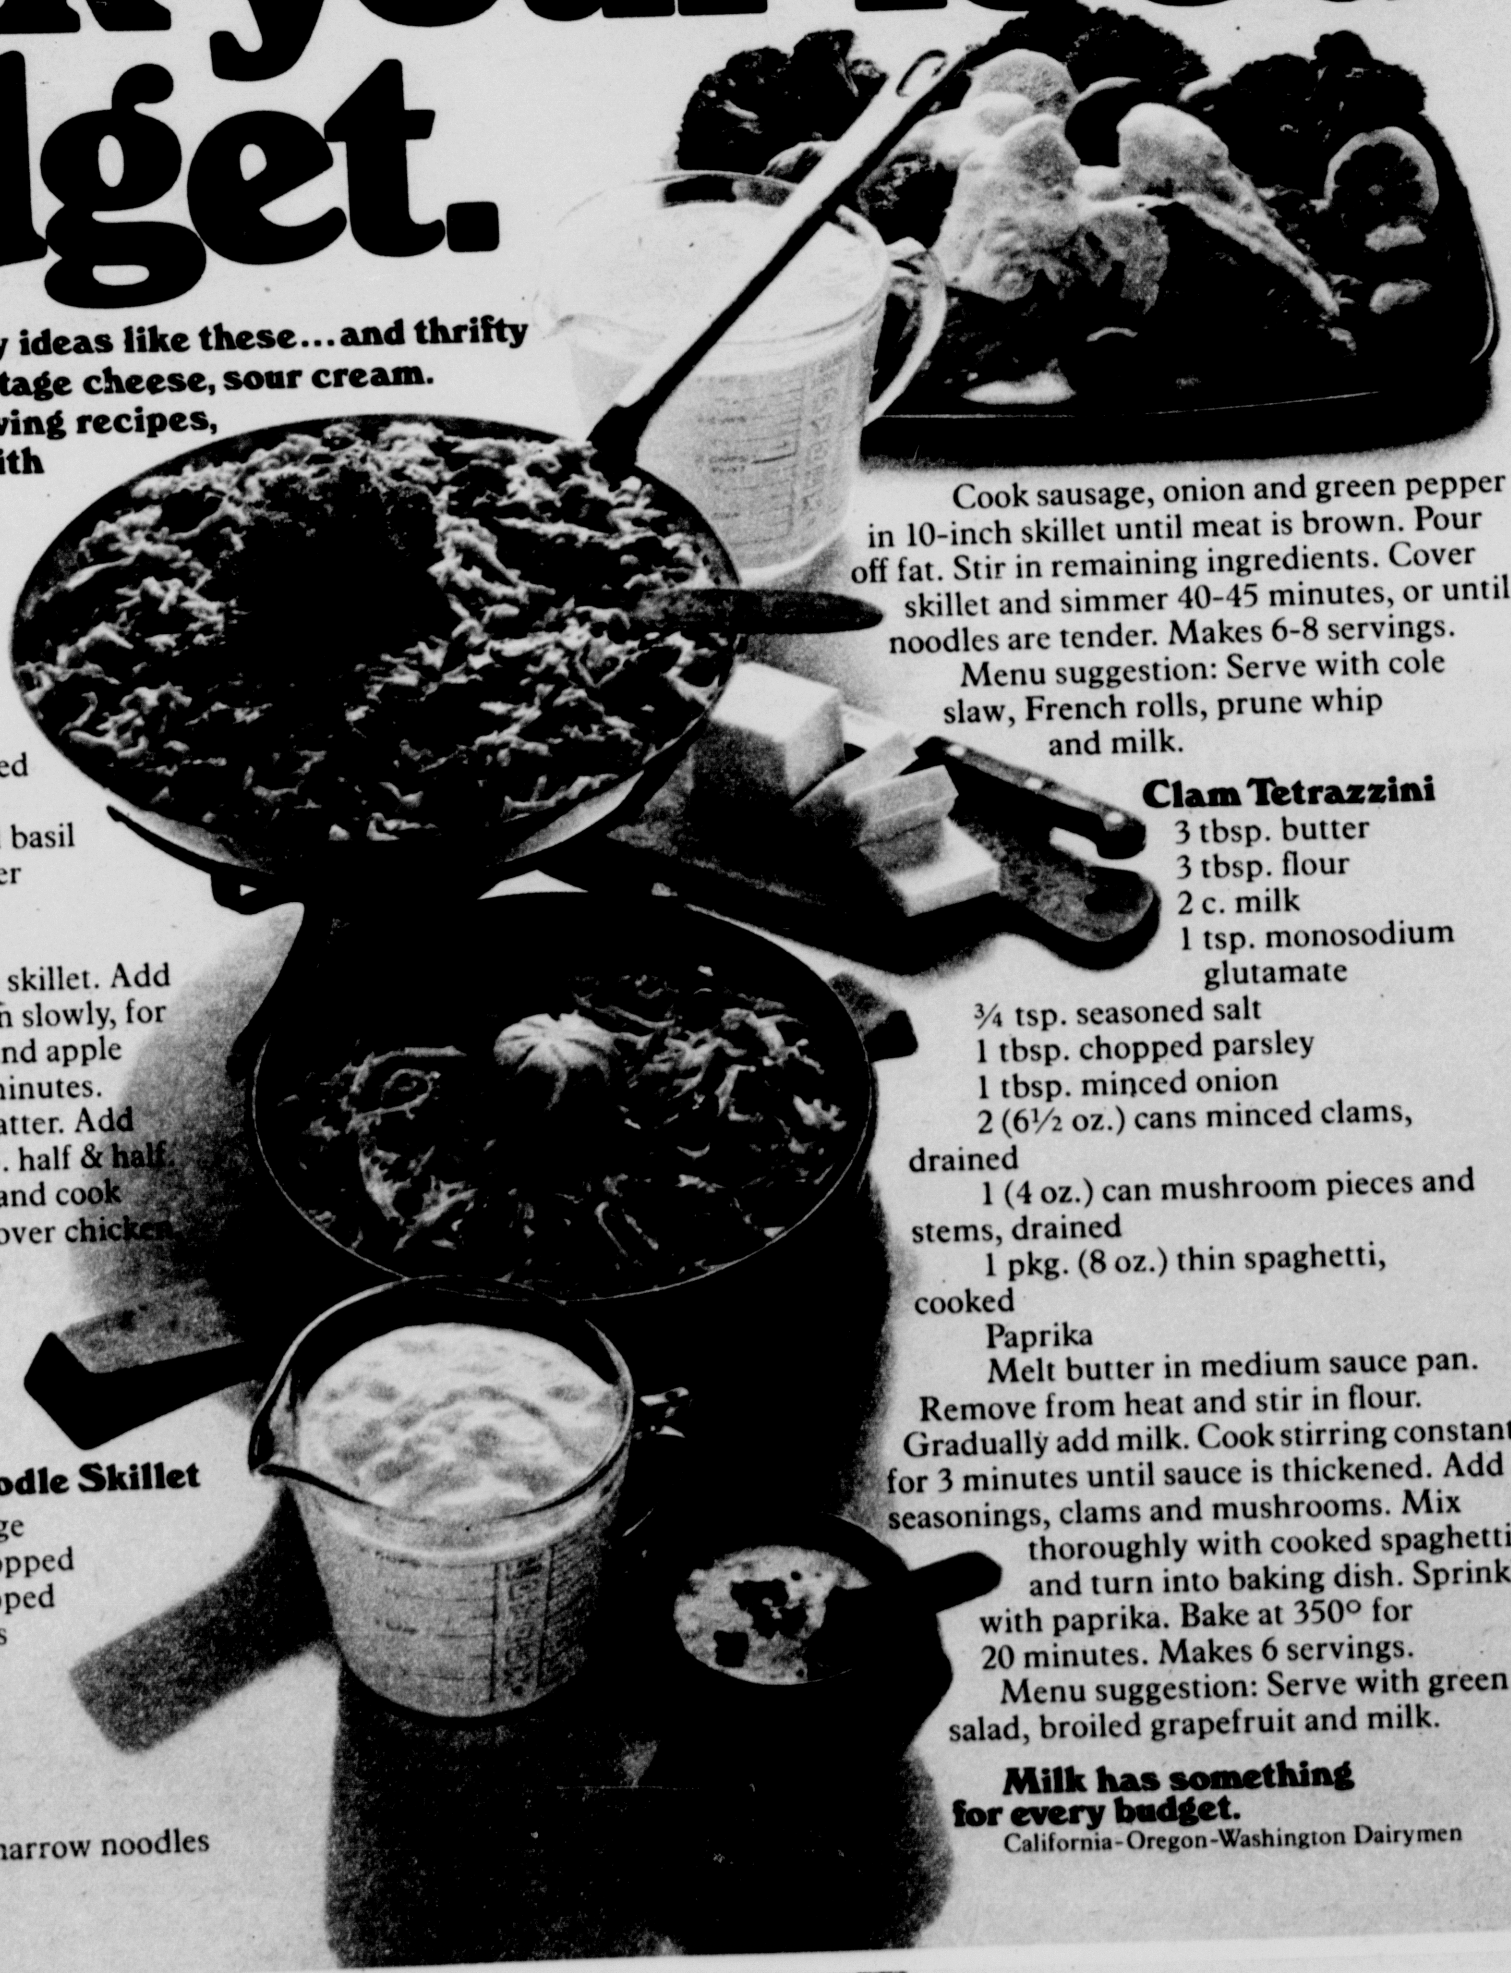
How to milk your food budget.



All it takes is thrifty ideas like these... and thrifty dairy foods like milk, cottage cheese, sour cream. (P.S. For more money-saving recipes, pick up "Budget Meals with Dairy Foods" at your grocer's dairy case.)

Chicken Français

1 frying chicken, cut up
1 medium onion, minced
2 tsp. seasoned salt
½ tsp. each thyme and basil
¾ c. apple juice or cider
2 c. half & half
2 tbsp. cornstarch

Heat butter in 10-inch skillet. Add chicken and onions and brown slowly, for 20 minutes. Add seasonings and apple juice. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Remove chicken to heated platter. Add cornstarch mixed with 4 tbsp. half & half. Stir in remaining half & half and cook until thickened. Serve sauce over chicken. Makes 5-6 servings.

Menu suggestion: Serve with boiled potatoes, broccoli, cherry crisp and milk.

Sausage and Noodle Skillet

1 lb. bulk pork sausage
1 medium onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
1 c. plain yogurt
1 c. water
2 tbsp. sugar
2 tsp. garlic salt
2 tsp. chili powder
8 ounces uncooked narrow noodles

Cook sausage, onion and green pepper in 10-inch skillet until meat is brown. Pour off fat. Stir in remaining ingredients. Cover skillet and simmer 40-45 minutes, or until noodles are tender. Makes 6-8 servings.

Menu suggestion: Serve with cole slaw, French rolls, prune whip and milk.

Clam Tetrazzini

3 tbsp. butter
3 tbsp. flour
2 c. milk
1 tsp. monosodium glutamate
¾ tsp. seasoned salt
1 tbsp. chopped parsley
1 tbsp. minced onion
2 (6½ oz.) cans minced clams, drained
1 (4 oz.) can mushroom pieces and stems, drained
1 pkg. (8 oz.) thin spaghetti, cooked
Paprika

Melt butter in medium sauce pan. Remove from heat and stir in flour. Gradually add milk. Cook stirring constantly for 3 minutes until sauce is thickened. Add seasonings, clams and mushrooms. Mix thoroughly with cooked spaghetti and turn into baking dish. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake at 350° for 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Menu suggestion: Serve with green salad, broiled grapefruit and milk.

SMART SHOPPERS TAKE NOTE!

Since September 8, consumers are finding more precise "open dating" information on packaged meat and poultry to assist them in determining the freshness of these products. Specifically, meat and poultry, which are calendar-dated, are now also carrying an explanation of what the date means.

Under the U.S. Department of Agriculture's newly amended regulations, the calendar date will have to be identified as a "packing date" "sell by date" or "use before date."

Hopefully, the new regulations will provide consumers with more information on the freshness of meat and poultry products.

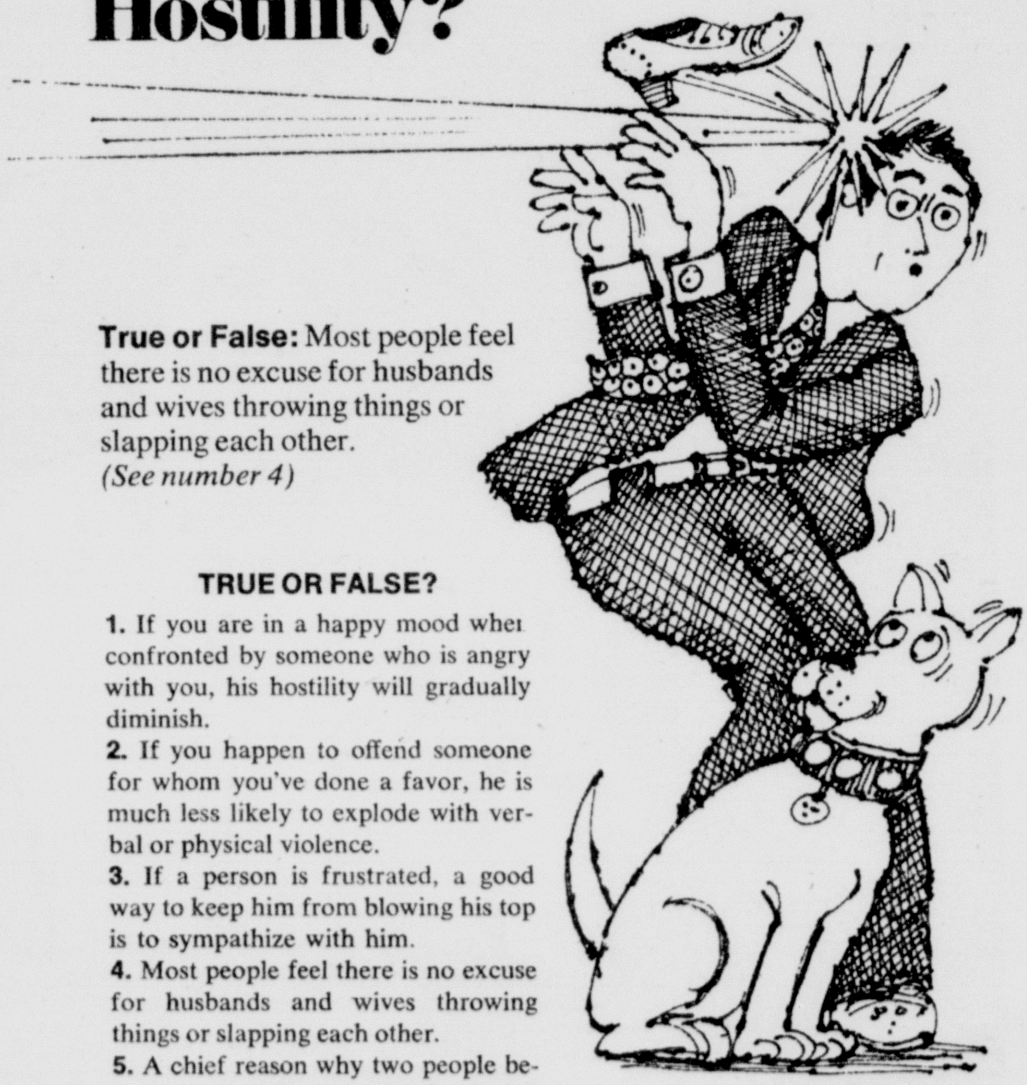
People Quiz

By John E. Gibson

How Much Do You Know About (Grrrrrrr!) Hostility?



True or False: Most people feel there is no excuse for husbands and wives throwing things or slapping each other.
(See number 4)

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. If you are in a happy mood when confronted by someone who is angry with you, his hostility will gradually diminish.

2. If you happen to offend someone for whom you've done a favor, he is much less likely to explode with verbal or physical violence.

3. If a person is frustrated, a good way to keep him from blowing his top is to sympathize with him.

4. Most people feel there is no excuse for husbands and wives throwing things or slapping each other.

5. A chief reason why two people become hostile toward each other is that they have different types of brain rhythm.

ANSWERS

1. False. Studies show that your happy mood is likely to arouse more hostility and increase the chance of a violent altercation. Conversely, if you are in a depressed mood, this will have a cooling effect on the other person's anger.

2. False. Studies at the University of Pennsylvania have demonstrated that when a person offends someone he has helped, it makes the other person much angrier and "results in greater retaliation."

3. False. According to studies at the University of Alberta (Canada). It was found that sympathy actually elicited more aggression under frustration conditions.

4. True. A survey of more than a thousand adults showed that only 20 percent could easily visualize situations where they could fully approve of a husband slapping his wife's face. A somewhat higher percentage said they could imagine circumstances where a wife would be justified in letting her husband have a hard one right across the chops. But less than four percent could imagine situations in which they felt more extreme forms of marital mayhem would be justified.

5. True. Studies conducted by Dr. W. Grey Walter of the Burden Neurological Institute (Great Britain) have shown that if one person is a visual thinker (one who thinks in practical, down-to-earth terms) and another is an abstract thinker (theoretical as opposed to realistic or literal), neither understands the other, and a mutual hostility tends to build up almost immediately. "The antagonism between visual and abstract thinkers can cause an irrational rupture of communications among scientists, politicians, administrators, diplomats, and even married couples." The two antagonists may think they are speaking the same language, but they are not. Their brain rhythms, their mental faculties, function in diametrically opposite ways.

How to create professional-looking handcrafts like these "from scratch"

Save money on interior decorations, clothing, accessories and gifts. Learn a skill that could become a part-time money-maker.

A new library of craft projects

In all probability, you've enough materials in your home right now to plant a winejug terrarium, braid a colorful rug, block-print some handsome stationery, create ceramics you bake in your oven.

So why pay high prices for things you can create for yourself?

Let The Family Creative Workshop, a new craft encyclopedia, help you discover the personal satisfaction of making professional-looking crafts "from scratch."

Over 900 activities to choose from in alphabetically arranged volumes, are all the crafts you ever wanted to try and more! From tapestry to tie-dying, pottery to plastics. From things as simple as a paper airplane to things as complicated as building a kayak or a greenhouse.

Every member of your family will find a project to enjoy. Perhaps Dad would like to build a specialized birdhouse, or a simple concrete birdbath that costs practically nothing. Turn on a teenager by showing him how to make a free spirit out of an old car with a rainbow acrylic paint job...for less than the cost of a retread. Children will be fascinated (and learn ecology, too) from a mason-jar ant farm. Mom will love making placemats, colonial candles, luxurious strawberry soap, batik wall hangings.

Build your craft skills

You learn any of the over 200 basic craft skills by following step-by-step instructions for the variety of project ideas offered in each. Choose the ones that fit your time schedule, budget, degree of skill. There are symbols at the beginning of each project to guide you. The first project is usually a simple, quick, low-cost "starter" idea.

Each project has been designed by a highly regarded expert in the field, is explained with step-by-step directions, diagrams and photographs that show you exactly what to do. Follow them, and the professional look of your handcraft is assured.

Hours of fun and you save money too!

You can literally save hundreds of dollars by making your own lamps, rugs, pottery, gifts, turning garage-sale bargains into handsome "antiques." Or you can make money for your favorite charity by donating your crafts for sale.

HERE'S THE AMAZING NEW FORMULA THAT IS TAKING THE HEALTH AND BEAUTY WORLD BY STORM!

CIDER VINEGAR LECITHIN, KELP & B-6

NOW AVAILABLE IN 4-IN-1 TABLET FORM

"NATURAL FORMULA" The 4 'fabulous' ingredients that everybody is talking about . . .

What is this "NATURAL FORMULA" that everybody is talking about? "NATURAL FORMULA" is the name we've given a specially formulated tablet containing Vitamin B-6, Lecithin and Kelp in a base of Cider Vinegar. The combination of ingredients talked about for weight control in low calorie diets.

Lecithin: A substance derived from vegetable oils that is actually a food, not a drug. In a recent experiment, a doctor found that Lecithin produced a decrease of as much as 30% in cholesterol and at the same time, tended to shift weight from one area of the body to another for a more streamlined silhouette.

Vitamin B-6: The fat-metabolizing vitamin that scientists have found works with body chemicals to balance and regulate body fluids to prevent water retention and bloat.

Kelp: Nature's great food mineral harvested from the ocean and our most reliable source for essential Iodine — so important in burning up fuel to melt fat accumulations away.

Cider Vinegar: Legendary solution used down thru the ages in weight control diets, is the basis for this outstanding new formula.

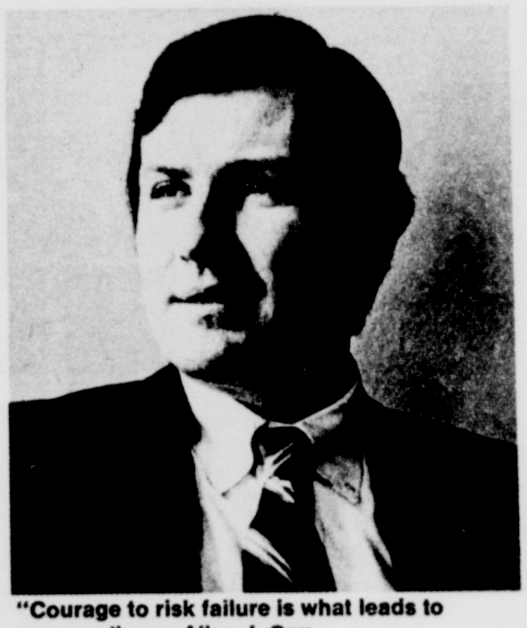
The Strange Way We Groom Ourselves for Failure

By Allan J. Cox



Diana Bryant

"Courage to risk failure is what leads to success," says Allan J. Cox.

"It is always easier to blame others for some personal disappointment or problem rather than see how our own negative attitude guaranteed the occurrence."

Wise men have known for a long time that if you can change a person's expectations you can change his behavior. However, although we know this, we do not always make proper use of this important wisdom in our daily lives.

Perhaps it is because we have been burned by leaders who have misused—or, at the very least, misunderstood—the powerful tool of inspiration. Unfortunately, inspiration has been used more often than not to manipulate others for self-serving ends rather than for their own fulfillment. The lesson from political life is clear: Rash promises and the call to new hope among dispirited people lead to even greater depression and apathy when those promises go unfilled and those hopes are proved unjustified.

However, I think there are deeper reasons for our not being comfortable with the notion that by changing our expectations we can change our behavior. And I think the discomfort stems from knowing that this makes each of us responsible for the outcome of his life. It is always easier to blame others for some personal disappointment or problem rather than see how our own negative attitude guaranteed the occurrence.

At work, we see this harmful principle operating daily. For example, a subordinate has an idea with real merit, but he is sure the boss won't like it, so he never presents it. Or even if he does, his presentation is so lacking in verve that the boss is hard-pressed to take his attention away from his other duties to give the idea the consideration it deserves.

What purpose is served for the subordinate who has set up his failure with such low expectations and a consequent unenergetic performance? Is it that he can now comfort himself by blaming his "closed-minded" boss for prohibiting what surely would have led to a stellar outcome? I think so.

To one extent or another, I believe we all trip ourselves up this way. Without being aware of it, we use low expectations to get ourselves off the hook. By assuming a lack of cooperation on the part of others, we guarantee their uncooperativeness and our nonparticipation in an activity in which we would be expected to make a contribution. In this round robin, we excuse ourselves from an activity where we question our ability to perform and save face by blaming someone else for thwarting our ambitions. What we hide from ourselves, of course, is our ambition to be the star and our fear that we will never make it.

"What purpose is served for the subordinate who has set up his failure with such low expectations and a consequent unenergetic performance? Is it that he can now comfort himself by blaming his 'closed-minded' boss for prohibiting what surely would have led to a stellar outcome? I think so."

How does one break this self-limiting cycle? How does one meet a challenge on positive ground? How does one adopt a positive view of what he is, what the circumstances are and what he can accomplish? In short, how does one raise his expectations?

By not being afraid of making a mistake. Courage to risk failure is what leads to success. Self-confidence comes by taking risks where the outcome is no more than the fruition of what you truly believe can be accomplished. And remember, even when you make a mistake, that doesn't mean you are one!

LARRY MAHAN
A card-carrying cowboy

QUOTE: From Larry Mahan, six-time All Around Cowboy in rodeos and star of the rodeo documentary, "The New American Cowboy": "I've ridden over 6,000 animals in my career. I figured out that last year I was bucked off saddle broncs two times and, out of 130 to 150 bulls I rode, I was bucked off 30 percent of the time. I don't know how many times I've been stepped on, crushed or kicked. The cowboy is just as tough as he used to be, but he's had to organize to better himself. We've established card-carrying members of the Rodeo Cowboys Association because we get ripped off just like any other participants in spectator sports. The grounds owner can make $100,000 off us, so we're just trying to get a percentage of the gate. Top cowboys can win $60,000 a year while others only win $600 a month—we don't get a cent for just being there. If you don't place within the top four of a category, you don't make any money." UNQUOTE.

Steven Stills of the recently reunited rock group Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young: "I like playing music with these guys. It's a social event. I never wanted to be only the main guy. It's fun, subjective, or whatever, because we're old friends. We're playing new music, and it's fun to enjoy each other. We realized why we fell apart—our size of popularity—and this time we tried to be sensible, plan for it, grow up a little. I mean it's staggering when you face 60,000 people—you grow out of your skin. You'd have to be a cold man not to be affected by that much energy. It's also expensive on the person to travel on the road; you're tired; it eats on your energy level. I want to go home. I miss my son. He was born in the spring and I want to see him."

JENNIE AND CRAIG
A cry of joy

Mother Jennie Thomson is delighted with her very ordinary baby boy, Craig, because she was such an extraordinary baby. When born 20 years ago, Jennie had a serious heart condition that forced her to live as an invalid in a hospital for the first six years of her life. Finally doctors were able to perform a revolutionary operation in which they inserted plastic plates in her heart. Since then she has been able to lead a normal, full life. Marriage, however, brought with it the fear that any children she might have might inherit the same heart affliction. Fortunately that was not the case. Every time Craig gives a hearty, healthy cry, Jennie breaks into a wide smile.

CURBING MY TEMPER

My wife insists that I re-park
To get two car lengths nearer.
I do so, though I grump a bit
And check my rearview mirror.

In front and back, where first I parked,
The space was really spacious,
But now, as I work wheel and brake,
I must be skilled, sagacious.

Yet when it's done I'm rather proud
And of my deed I'm talking.
My wife? She's spared her shoes and feet
A full two car lengths walking.
